CHICAGO'S LONG SOUGHT TRANSIT BILLS ENACTED

Sweep Senate; Next Move Up to City.

BY CARL WARREN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.] A few strokes of Gov. Emmerson's pen are all that is now lacking to put on the statute books enabling legislation sought for years by the city of Chicago as the basis for solving its mass transportation problem.

Big majorities which surprised even the sponsors the senate this morning, in rapid succession, passed all of the bills on the transit program, previously approved by the house of representatives. Late today the eight measures were being engrossed and enrolled, ready for the governor, who is expected to act upon them the first part of next week. Friends of the program say they are positive he will sign them.

So far as Chicago is concerned, passage of the transit bills is considered the most significant achievement of the 1929 legislature. Upon their provisions, it is believed, will hinge the comfort of the city's car riders for years and perhaps generations to come.

The Chief Provisions.

Six of the bills—those agreed to by both the companies and the city council—provide, in substance, for an ordinance contract with a consolidated company, a terminable permit, a city regulatory commission, and city owned subways. Two companion bills, also approved by the company but passed with the others, permit a fixed 5 cent franchise up to forty years, and a forty year spread on subway assessments.

One slight amendment to clarify language was attached to the fixed 5 cent fare bill in the senate. It is planned for the house to concur in this amendment within a day or two, after which it will go to the governor with the others.

Although passage of the bills has been looked upon from the start as fairly certain, joy was evident among members of the city council and representatives of the Simpson citizens' committee, which brought about the city companies' agreement, as the program went over its last hurdle in the senate. Sidney S. Gorham, attorney for the committee, called the passage a "monumental victory," while Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th], chairman of the council transportation committee, declared that "it repays us for our years of labor."

Now for the Ordinance!

Be confident was Ald. McDonough that Gov. Emmerson would sign the bills that he announced that he would call a meeting of his committee in Chicago Monday to arrange for an immediate start on negotiations for an ordinance.

"I want to publicly thank the members of the legislature for their splendid cooperation with us," he said. "They promised to help us if we got together; we did and they fulfilled their promise. We, the aldermen, realize now that the burden from now on is on our shoulders and we propose to give the people of Chicago the best possible ordinance."

Alderman McDonough added one note of warning, apparently referring to charges by Attorney John Maynard Harlan that the companies would not deal with the city.

"If there is any indication on the part of the companies to play unfairly and not carry out the spirit of these bills," he asserted, "I will be the first man to ask for a special session of the legislature to have them all repealed."

Cook County United.

As indicated by roll calls yesterday on amendments, almost the entire Cook county delegation in the upper house and most of the downstate members lined up solidly behind the bills on the final votes. Senator John J. Boehm voted against all but the terminable permit bill. Senator Lowell E. Mason of Oak Park voted against the home rule bill, and Senator James C. Barbour voted present on the terminable permit bill, but both registered in the yea column on all the others.

On the terminable bill the vote was 45 to 4, with two members voting present, and on the others from 38 to 43 and 1 to 7 against. The terminable permit bill roll call follows:

THE SPIRIT OF MEMORIAL DAY

"I Gotta Drag" Boys Lose N.Y. Port Favors

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29. — [Special.] — New York City is not going to be a free port any more. There will be no more special favors shown to senators, congressmen, politicians, and their friends when they come bounding in from over the deep. This much was made clear at the customs building today in an order issued by Philip Eltinge, collector of the port.

The order is the result of a growing protest at the abuse of the privileges known as "courtesy of the port," "immediate attention," and "validated baggage." Hereafter "freedom of the port," which is the accepted term for any special favor, will be granted only to diplomats or high government officials returning from special missions.

Mere Congressmen Out of Luck.

Mere congressmen such as the dry twins, Morgan and Michaelson, who started all the trouble, will be out of luck.

The order follows a customs house conference of Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury; Eltinge, Frank Dow, acting commissioner of customs; C. B. Wade, deputy commissioner, and Thomas Whittle, surveyor of the port. Fifteen deputy surveyors were questioned.

The order was preceded by three weeks' investigation and was issued an hour after a CHICAGO TRIBUNE reporter had left Mr. Eltinge's office where he had called to ask why the "I gotta drag" boys have had so many favors shown to them at this port. At the same time Henry C. Stuart, assistant collector of port, intimated something was going to be done about the entire matter in a very short time.

At the customs house it was revealed that many deputy surveyors have been complaining about the abuse of the "immediate attention" privilege. Many citizens, vexed when they returned on ships and found traveling companions getting favors they could not obtain, complained directly to Washington, it was said.

Conference Is Unexpected.

The conference this afternoon was unexpected. Mr. Lowman was in New York on other business and apparently was called to the customs house by Mr. Eltinge. He returned to Washington tonight after saying he would make a formal announcement in the near future.

Customs officials explained that the new system would not be "iron bound." Immediate attention and other favors will, of course, be granted in case of illness or for urgent cases, but the old free entry is a thing of the past. There has been too much promiscuous abuse of the port privileges.

Quite frequently there were as many as 100 persons on a ship armed with papers entitling them to port favors and claiming the immediate attention of port officers. In addition, customs inspectors on the piers found themselves hard pressed by political friends of these privileged passengers, each trying to put one privileged person past another equally privileged person. Matters had reached the point where nobody's baggage could be handled with any dispatch.

Most of those favored at this port were men with political pull or else very wealthy. However, it was learned, it has been the custom among the department store buyers in New York to maintain a yearly "fund" through which they obtained "prompt service" when they returned from buying trips abroad.

In some cases the special drag was obtained through friendship with high officials. Often it was offered and refused by voyagers who did not wish to be under obligations to any one in a government office.

HITCHCOCK, ILL, ABANDONS STAGE UNTIL NEXT FALL

Raymond Hitchcock, whose show, "Your Uncle Dudley," was canceled at the Illinois theater yesterday because of his illness at St. Luke's hospital, was reported in fair condition last night.

Dr. N. B. Carroll, attending him, stated that the veteran comedian was suffering from heart trouble, aggravated by complications of an intestinal trouble and asthma. He stated that the illness had been precipitated by overexhaustion during the last few months. He said that Mr. Hitchcock would not attempt to play again until the fall season. Mr. Hitchcock is 64 years old.

Women Will Swing Vote in Britain Today

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 29. — Great Britain picks a new parliament tomorrow. The eve of the general election finds the country completely in the dark as to which way its 1,500,000 surplus women, created by the "flapper" franchise law, will swing the vote.

Nobody knows how the women will vote and nobody knows how deep and widespread is the disgust among old voters at the failure of the Conservative government to accomplish anything spectacular during the last five years.

The stock exchange barometer continued to indicate a stalemate, but the glass is falling heavily against the Conservatives. A fall of nine points in Conservative stock is indicated by today's quotation of from 260 to 265 seats, which is not a clear majority.

Labor Appears to Gain.

A sharp advance of four points for Labor brings that party somewhere between 250 and 255, while the Liberals remain firm at from 98 to 102.

The last day was finished in a whirl of oratory. Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin continued his tour of the country, his own seat being safe, but Ramsay MacDonald and David Lloyd George put in the day in their own constituencies. Each leader expressed the utmost confidence in the result, both Baldwin and MacDonald claiming clear majorities, while Lloyd George contented himself with predicting a huge Liberal vote and suggesting that the Conservatives might take third place at the polls.

The polling begins at nine o'clock tomorrow morning and will continue until eight o'clock in the evening. Only 200 results will be announced tomorrow night, but all will be known Friday afternoon with the exception of two or three remote Scottish constituencies and university seats.

Will Broadcast Results.

The first few results are expected to be announced between 10 and 11 o'clock tomorrow night, and the most elaborate arrangements have been made throughout the country for publication of the returns. All devices of the mechanical and radio age are being employed. Wireless announcers will broadcast results until 4 o'clock Friday morning, interspersing the political news with musical programs.

When the foundation under an old house at 447 West 32d street was being removed yesterday, workmen found a yellowed document dated Jan. 14, 1861, recording the sale of 6 barrels of whisky at 14½ cents a gallon for a total of $32.49. The bill was upon stationery of J. E. S. Fuller & Co., "importers of wines and liquors, rectifyers and distillers of pure spirits and whisky, No. 37 South Water street." W. F. Cowhey, who took possession of the document, declared that a diligent search revealed no trace of the company's wares.

SENATE VOTES TO REAPPORTION AFTER CENSUS

Passes Bill Despite Drys' Opposition.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Under unanimous consent agreement, which choked off stubborn resistance, the senate today passed the combined census-reapportionment bill by the overwhelming vote of 57 to 26.

The bill, which not only authorizes nearly $40,000,000 for the 1930 census, but also provides for the first redistribution of congressional representation since 1911, now goes to the house, where it will be brought to a vote under a special rule insuring its prompt approval there.

Drys Lose Every Move.

Opposition to the measure came principally from southern dry Democrats, whose fears, shared by the klan and dry organizations generally, that the reapportionment will result in gains for populous wet centers were evidenced by nearly a score of vigorously pressed amendments, every one of which was rejected.

Only two major amendments to the bill, sponsored by Senator A. H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], were adopted. One, proposed by Senator R. F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.], would require the appointment of enumerators and other census officials from civil service eligible lists. The second—accepted today just before the final roll call—would require the President, when he certifies the result of the census to congress, to indicate apportionment of house seats on both the major fractions and equal proportions bases. It was offered by Senator Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.].

Defeat Alien Amendment.

The sharpest skirmish was over the amendment offered by Senator F. M. Sackett [Rep., Ky.], which was openly indorsed by the klan and dry groups. It proposed to exclude aliens from population counts intended as the basis for congressional reapportionment. That amendment was rejected Monday by a vote of 27 to 48.

Today, amendments proposed by Senator C. L. Blease [Dem., S. C.], to prevent the employment of aliens as census takers and to require the registration of aliens, and one by Senator L. J. Frazier [Rep., N. D.], to postpone the date of the census from Nov. 1, next, to May 1, 1930, were rejected.

Eight Republicans Vote Nay.

Eight Republicans—six of them radicals—joined with 18 Democrats against the Vandenberg bill on the final roll call today. Those who voted against the bill were: J. J. Blaine [Rep., Wis], P. H. Dale [Rep., Vt.], L. J. Frazier [Rep., N. D.], F. L. Greene [Rep., Vt.], R. B. Howell [Rep., Neb], W. H. McMaster [Rep., S. D.], Peter Norbeck [Rep., S. D.], G. P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], A. W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.], Hugo Black [Dem., Ala.], C. L. Blease [Dem., S. C.], E. S. Broussard [Dem., La.], Tom Connally [Dem., Tex.], W. F. George [Dem., Ga.], W. J. Harris [Dem., Ga.], Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], Harry Hawes [Dem., Mo.], J. T. Heflin [Dem., Ala.], Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.], Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.], J. E. Ransdell [Dem., La.], D. F. Steck [Dem., Ia.], H. D. Stephens [Dem., Miss.], C. A. Swanson [Dem., Va.], Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.], and L. D. Tyson [Dem., Tenn.]

Authorizes President to Act.

Under the terms of the Vandenberg bill, if congress fails after the 1930 census, or after any subsequent decennial census, to order a reapportionment of house membership, the President is authorized to proclaim a redistribution of representation based on the so-called "major fractions" system used in the 1911 apportionment.

With the house membership of 435 unchanged, as it is under the Vandenberg bill, and based on official estimates that the country's population will approximate 123 million in 1930, a total of 23 seats will be involved in the reapportionment.

These States Lose Seats.

The following states would lose seats: Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont and Virginia, one each; Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky and Mississippi, two each; and Missouri, three.

States that will gain one or more seats are: Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma, and Washington, one each; New Jersey and Texas, two each; Ohio, three; Michigan, four, and California, 6 seats.

Body Found in Basement of Staley's Cafe

Thomas McElligott, well known gangster and long time pal of William Clifford and Michael Riley, who were taken for a ride on April 13 and slain, was found shot to death in the basement of Walter Staley's café at 361 West Madison street early this morning. Mystery surrounds the shooting and police were unable to find any persons who witnessed it.

The basement is fitted up for a bar and is in charge of a man whose name was given to the police as "Phil." He could not be found. According to the stories of Arthur Wineberg, colored, a cook and waiter in the café, and Donald Mathieson, an employe of a newspaper, who was dining in the café, they heard four or five shots in the basement at about 2 o'clock.

Find Gangster's Body.

An hour later they decided to investigate. McElligott's body was found lying near a piano with a bullet wound through the heart. Four bullet holes were found in the wall. Mathieson and Wineberg a short time later notified Sergt. Guy Willoughby of the Central police, whom they found on the street, of the shooting.

From others police learned the café was crowded at the time of the shooting, several women being among the patrons. "Bud" Elble, manager of the café, was said to have been in the main room, and police sought him for questioning.

Police were uncertain whether all the bullets had been fired at McElligott or whether he had shot it out with the men who had cornered him in the basement bar. According to Wineberg several persons had been in the bar about the time of the shooting, but he could give the names of none of them.

Theory of Police.

It was the police theory that the slaying of McElligott was done by the same men who killed Riley and Clifford and left their bodies in an automobile in the rear of 4823 West 22d street, Cicero, for a long time headquarters of Al Capone.

Clifford, Riley and George Barker, another gangster, were tried in February for the slaying of Albert Pratt, a garage attendant, in North Clark street, and acquitted. Policeman Walter Hoder, who also was shot by the trio, failed to identify them at the trial and they went free. The murders of Riley and Clifford followed a few weeks later.

Seized as Robbery Suspect.

McElligott was arrested recently in connection with the Calumet Baking Powder company robbery on the west side, when an $8,000 payroll was seized. He was not identified by the victims, however, and was released. He was also one of those named by Russell Thompson, confessed machine gun peddler, who was seized by detectives following the North Clark street massacre, as a purchaser of a machine gun.

McElligott also was reputed to have been a bomber for various racketeering labor organizations. He, Barker, Riley, and Clifford, according to a recent statement of Deputy Commissioner John P. Stege, took control of the Midwest Garage Owners' association by shooting David Ablin, who had made a paying racket of it. According to Stege, the same gang was involved in the killing of John Clay, head of the Laundry Drivers' union, and the shooting of James Lynch, business agent of the Coal Teamsters' union.

J. F. KYLE OF AUTO SLAYING FAME IS LOCKED UP AGAIN

Joseph F. Kyle, 4246 Sheridan road, wealthy real estate broker, was locked up in the Irving Park police station this morning after his automobile struck a milk wagon and knocked it and the horse through a plate glass window of a store at 1546 Irving Park boulevard. With him was Miss Ellen Staal, 430 Diversey parkway, but she was released after being questioned. Kyle was arrested after a police squad pursued him several blocks before he would halt. Police said they would charge him with driving while intoxicated, fleeing an accident, and assault with an automobile. Michael Heber, 3960 Normandy street, driver of the wagon, was cut but not seriously injured.

In July, 1923, Kyle gained wide notoriety when he drove his automobile loaded with chorus girls on a joy ride, into a small truck at Wabash avenue and 37th street and killed C. C. Hudsons, 60 years old, Harvey, Ill. It was charged he was intoxicated and speeding at 60 miles an hour when he struck the truck. In a sensational trial in which he was defended by Clarence Darrow he was convicted by a jury of manslaughter with an automobile.

Judge William J. Lindsay set the verdict aside, and the case was stricken from the docket. Later it was reinstated, and on a second trial he was acquitted.

4 Burn to Death When Speeding Auto Crashes

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 29.—(AP)—Four persons, two men and two women, were burned to death tonight after their speeding motor car crashed through the railing of a viaduct over the Ann Arbor railroad tracks on U. S. No. 112 and rolled down a 75 foot embankment. An explosion of gas prevented escape. The victims were unidentified.

Final Reparations Settlement Near.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 29.—Evacuation of the Rhineland by allied troops within the next three months emerged suddenly tonight from the problematical into the realm of the probable when Germany and her creditors reached a provisory agreement on a definite figure owed by the vanquished to the victors in the world war.

After almost four months of sometimes patient, sometimes embittered labor, the experts of the allied powers and Germany, umpired by Owen D. Young and his unofficial American delegates, brought forth tonight what looks like a settlement of the whole reparations problem, with its consequent far reaching effects.

They accepted the Young compromise plan of an annuity figure of approximately $487,900,000 over a period of 37 years, with smaller payments thereafter. The entire life of the agreement is to run for 58 years, and the total sum paid by the Germans will be 36,000,000,000 marks (about $8,568,000,000).

Payments Begin Sept. 1.

The concord blossomed out today when it was learned that everybody was in agreement that the Young plan should go into effect Sept. 1, when the Germans will have completed just one year of the Dawes payments. This is the compromise which Mr. Young and his potent American aids, J. P. Morgan and Thomas W. Lamont, hammered out of the allied conviction that the new plan could not get into effect until Jan. 1, and the Germans' equally firm contention that it should be retroactive as from April 1 of this year.

Now that they are in complete agreement as to the annuities date, the only obstacles to the immediate winding up of the experts' gigantic task are the German reservations.

Mr. Lamont, the American spokesman, sprang the news of the agreement on the reparations figures to the American press at 10 o'clock tonight. He explained carefully, however, that the German reservations are still in dispute.

Statement by Lamont.

In view of the delicacy of the situation, he described the condition as follows:

"Both the creditor and the German experts heretofore declared themselves willing to accept the annuity figure of $487,900,000 suggested by the chairman, although a difference existed on the question of interpretation [by which he meant the date that the Young plan would supplant the Dawes plan].

"This difference is now removed and a common basis of interpretation acceptable to both the creditors and Germany has been found, subject, however, to agreement as to the outstanding conditions which still remain to be discussed and settled."

What Germany Demands.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation, who, curiously enough, chose today to rest from the noise, heat, and worry of Paris in the gardens of Versailles, is returning to town tomorrow to plunge with the allied experts into the drive for a settlement of these "outstanding conditions." The conditions are:

1. Germany's demand for a high powered safeguard clause allowing a two year moratorium and direct payments into the proposed international bank in the event of a fiscal crisis in Germany.

2. Revision of the knotty question of a lien upon the German railroads so as to give the creditors a good grip upon their receipts and at the same time permit the railroad administration to swing their credit operations.

3. Ways and means of collecting the last 21 annuities to defray the allied debts to America, as well as the settlement of the rôle the succession states, Jugo-Slavia, Czecho-Slovakia, and Roumania, are to play in settling their shares of the old Austro-Hungarian national debt.

Belgian Claim Unsettled.

These three conditions come within the scope of the committee of experts. The fourth condition, relating to Belgium's claim to reimbursement for the 8,000,000,000 paper marks issued by Germany during the war in exchange for Belgium's gold reserve, must be decided outside the conference between Berlin and Brussels. The decision must be a speedy one, however, as the Belgians want a settlement before signing the reparations accord.

Replaces Dawes Plan.

The agreement on a reparations total of 36,000,000,000 marks (about $8,568,000,000) is in place of the limitless Dawes schedule and the allied expectations of 40,000,000,000 marks (about $9,520,000,000) when the conference opened last February. If the reservations are surmounted the next move will be on the part of the interested governments, who will have to O. K. the experts' accord before it is valid.

Then the question of the Rhineland will come to the fore. For the last three years allied statesmen have been promising to order home their troops on the Rhine bridgeheads as soon as the Germans agreed to a definitive debt settlement. Now that that is in the offing the ball is expected to start rolling on June 9, when the council of the league of nations meets at Madrid.

In fact, the Young plan for the final settlement of the reparations question contains no provision for the upkeep of an army of occupation, which costs 10,000,000 marks about ($2,380,000) a month, and as the plan is supposed to go into effect on Sept. 1 it is considered in German circles to point straight to evacuation on or before that date.

GERMANY IS PLEASED

BY GEOFFREY FRASER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 29.—An official communique saying the Paris conference on reparations had agreed to accept the Owen D. Young plan in principle and especially the figure of 2,050,000,000 marks annuity [about $487,900,000] came as a pleasant surprise to political circles here this afternoon, where pessimism still prevailed. The general feeling is that the chief difficulty is now overcome and it is expected that an agreement will soon be reached on all the minor points outstanding, notably the question of a possible moratorium.

The announcement of the agreement is likely to change Dr. Gustav Stresemann's travel plans. The foreign minister intended to go to Madrid by sea in order to benefit by the rest of a sea voyage, but tonight he is contemplating going by rail via Paris, where he will stay at least a few hours for a talk with Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, the German delegate, on the final details.

Give Credit to Americans.

The news of the agreement reached Berlin too late for most of the morning papers to make any comment. The Socialist organ, Vorwaert, does not intend to make any comments until more details of the settlement are available, but the Socialist officials in the absence of the party leaders, who are in caucus at Magdeburg, express their delight at the prospect of getting the awkward reparations question out of the way.

The government supporters ascribe the credit for the sudden change in Paris to the energetic intervention of the American delegates.

"We have every ground to consider tonight's news as a notable German success," a foreign office official said. "It does not represent what we dared hope, but at least it is a settlement that we can accept in good faith with the intention of keeping to its terms. It will enable us to save $50,000,000 marks [about $83,300,000] from this year's budget, which we calculated on the basis of 2,500,000,000 marks [about $595,000,000] reparations payments."

Nationalists to Fight Pact.

The keynote to the vigorous campaign of protest which will be launched by the German nationalists against the Paris agreement for the final settlement of reparations was struck by Dr. Alfred Hugenberg's organ, Der Tag, which heads its comments "Impossible Compromise."

"It is a compromise which is bound to lead to Germany's downfall," it says. "One can hardly call it a compromise, for it represents a complete victory for the allies' point of view. The plan put forward by Owen D. Young was originally unacceptable, but this is much worse, for by a hundred low and cunning ways, and in the unfairest way conceivable, proposals damaging to Germany have been grafted on to it."

MRS. H. H. ROGERS GETS LAWYER FOR PARIS DIVORCE

PARIS, May 29. — Mrs. Henry Huddleston Rogers has established residence on the Avenue Montaigne, just off the Avenue des Champs Elysees, preparatory to petitioning in Paris courts for a divorce, it was reliably learned today. Adrian Larkin, New York attorney, who two years ago arranged a settlement with Count Von Hoogstraeten in order to obtain his consent to a divorce in Paris from Mrs. Rogers' daughter, Millicent, has engaged a French lawyer to handle the mother's complaint charging her husband with desertion.

Close friends of Mrs. Rogers have revealed that her husband wishes to marry Mrs. Daisy Miles, widow of Basil Miles, late president of the international chamber of commerce.

Parisian society, which has been gossiping about the rumor of the Rogers divorce since Mrs. Rogers' arrived in Paris several weeks ago, burned with excitement today as the result of Count Salm, who also is now in the French capital, being seen in a friendly chat with his ex-mother-in-law during tea hour at the Ritz. It is recalled that Mrs. Rogers was always reported to have approved of the count as a son-in-law as much as Col. Rogers disapproved.

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The heat wave which struck the east yesterday continued unabated today. Three deaths were reported in the metropolitan area. They were Teague Boyle of Bayonne, N. J.; John Berger of Hoboken, N. J., and Frank Guliano of Brooklyn. Several prostrations were reported. Today's maximum temperature was 82—one degree below yesterday's record.

CITY HALL TRIES IN VAIN TO KILL SANITARY BILL

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Taxation disputes in the general assembly were brought to a focus today by an effort of the Thompson city hall organization to kill the Chicago sanitary district bond power bill.

The attack failed by a vote of 65 to 66; but, still breathless from their narrow escape, the near victims of the coup immediately threatened retaliation upon the city hall's tax bills, the measure to keep its corporate tax rate up to $1.07½ instead of letting it fall back to the old basis of 92½ cents, being the one most frequently mentioned.

Break May Affect Other Bills.

That city bill is still pending in the house and while the friendly entente between city, sanitary district, and county tax increase advocates may be restored over the week-end, the break in the lineup may affect all the bills by which it is proposed to increase the Chicago taxpayers' burdens in one way or another.

The senate, in order to be home for Memorial day, quit work at noon. Speaker Shanahan sought to retain a working attendance of the house, but members slipped out in a steady stream, threatening the success of his plan for hard labor both tomorrow and Friday and indicating that the tax war will be carried over into next week.

Entire Program Hit.

And as if to increase the likelihood of bitterness, the civic federation has distributed a special bulletin attacking almost the entire program of tax boosting. It is said to have weakened the chances of several of the higher cost measures, with consequent resentment among their friends against other boosters.

The Thompson-Snow attack on the sanitary district bill was a mighty close matter. For several minutes at the close of the roll call, when one member after another was changing his vote, the advantage swung back and forth, with an occasional tie recorded, and the final victory came by the narrow margin of changed votes from the downstate districts.

Attack Ordered by Snow.

The attack was launched by telegrams to all the Thompson-Crowe representatives signed by B. W. Snow, acting chairman of the Republican county committee, who is running political matters for the city hall since Messrs. Galpin and Crowe stepped out of the picture.

Snow urged the defeat of the drainage board's bill and when Representative David I. Swanson introduced an amendment to strike out the language permitting the issuance of $40,000,000 worth of bonds without referendum, all but one of those amenable to city hall influence voted for this fatal alteration.

There were fourteen of them—Blackwell, Elrod, Gaines, Galvin, Harris, E. A. W. Johnson, Kersey, King, McVicker, Ruddy, Schnackenberg, E. W. Turner, Warfield and Weeks. Swanson, author of the amendment, is considered more of a Deneen man than a Thompson follower, but with only one exception the Deneen vote was against him.

The only speeches in favor of striking out the nonreferendum provision came from downstaters, one of whom, Clinton Searle of Rock Island, read from an editorial of THE TRIBUNE of Tuesday.

Michael L. Igoe, minority leader, conducted the defensive battle. He charged that the move was a Thompson-Snow attempt at sabotage because, although three of the holdover drainage trustees are in their camp, they are denied any share in the patronage of the district.

"I'm not making any threats," he said, "but if those people continue these tactics the bars are down. The motive is quite apparent."

Sum Cut to $37,000,000.

Igoe announced he had ready the amendment to trim the proposed bond issuing power to $37,000,000, and after the Swanson amendment fight he had it adopted and the bill was advanced to third reading, where it probably will not be taken up for final action until next week.

The civic federation bulletin threw a spotlight on six tax bills, all at present in the lower house, urging the outright defeat of two, a drastic cut in the proposed increase in another and submission of two to a referendum. These, with the bulletin's synopsis of each, are as follows:

Senate bill 95, by Mason. To increase Chicago school playground tax by two-thirds. Should be amended to cut requested increase in half, making maximum rate $0.02 per $100 assessed value.

Senate bill 69, by Denvir. Creating house of correction employés pension fund tax. Should be defeated.

Senate bill 254, by Mason. County bonds for aviation fields (state-wide). Should be defeated.

House bills 799 and 800, by Sonnenschein. To increase county tax rate from 25 cents to 31 cents. Referendum provisions in constitution and statutes already give counties authority to secure such increased taxing power as may be needful by vote of the people.

Senate bill 392, by Starr. Would fix city of Chicago corporate rate at $10.07½ for 1929, 1930, and 1931, instead of $1.12½ for 1930 and 92½ cents for 1930 and 1931. Additional harbor tax has been removed and the bill is now acceptable.

Playground Tax Criticized.

Discussing the school playground tax increase bill, the bulletin points out that it would raise the present income of the Chicago school board for this purpose from $600,000 a year to approximately $1,000,000.

Admitting that there is merit in the plea of the Cook county board for emergency relief this year, the bulletin continues:

"We appreciate the constructive attitude which the Cook county commissioners have taken in furthering a scientific reassessment and agree that the unusual expense incurred must be financed. Also we credit Cook county with being the first of our major taxing bodies to take steps in the direction of efficiency and economy."

BALLOT REFORM BILL BEATEN IN HOUSE BY REPUBLICAN VOTES

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Representative R. G. Thon's ballot reform bill to do away with the party circle and compel candidates to be listed under the offices which they seek went down to defeat today in the house of representatives. The bill received only 53 votes, 24 short of the majority needed.

Several civic organizations, including the City club of Chicago and the Illinois League of Women Voters, had sponsored the bill, which they contended would prevent incompetent officials from sliding into office under a party label.

The debate and the roll call on the bill divided on almost exclusively party lines, the Republicans opposing the reform because it would heighten the chances of Democratic and independent candidates. Three Republican leaders—Representatives Leroy M. Green, Roger F. Little and Reed F. Cutler—spoke for the opposition.

11 ACCUSED UNDER SMOKE LAW WILL FACE CITY COURT

Court action against the owners of eleven buildings to abate smoke nuisances will be started in the Municipal court on Monday, according to Frank A. Chambers, deputy smoke inspector.

"Smoke inspectors have evidence of three violations in each of the eleven cases," Mr. Chambers said. "The violations have continued despite a warning notice sent to each building owner after the first offense and a hearing in this department after the second."

The buildings against which the violations are reported are the Furniture Mart, 666 Lake Shore drive; the Pennsylvania railroad freight house, 323 West Polk street; Normal Wet Wash Laundry, 7432 South State street; Fleischmann Yeast company, 2247 West 48th street; Peter Van Schaack company, 310 West Washington street; Sears, Roebuck & Co., 1015 South Homan avenue; Illinois Meat company, 2939 Wallace street; New Way Laundry, 4224 West Division street; Rialto Gardens, 57 West Randolph street; Mrs. A. K. Lespinasse, 655 Sheridan road, and the Baltimore and Ohio roundhouse, 14th and Lincoln streets.

CITY CLUB BOARD CRITICIZES O. K. OF "IMMUNITY" LAW

The board of directors of the City Club of Chicago passed resolutions yesterday condemning the action of the legislature in killing the bill to repeal the so-called Small immunity law. The club at the same time passed resolutions urging the passage of the bill to repeal the law passed under the regime of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe which provides that a court cannot appoint a special state's attorney.

"Be it resolved that the board of directors of the City Club of Chicago hereby expresses its disapproval of the action taken by the judiciary committee of the state senate in killing the Green bill designed to repeal the so-called Small immunity act," the resolution declared.

The law referred to was passed at the instigation of Small, when governor, and prevented the institution of quo warranto proceedings to oust a governor from office.

PREDICT PASSAGE OF $27,000,000 SANITARY BONDS

Board Trims Program to Get Assembly O. K.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Legislators, returning from Springfield yesterday, predicted that the general assembly will pass the bill permitting the sanitary district to issue $27,000,000 in bonds without a referendum in order to comply with the requirements of the federal government. Chief Engineer Edward J. Kelly, Howard W. Elmore, president of the district, and other trustees asserted they could justify every dollar of expense of the $27,000,000 as required by the government. In fact, they declared that some work required by the government has been eliminated.

"Unquestionably the district needs the amount asked to protect the city's water supply as required by the federal government," said one legislator," and THE TRIBUNE can be given credit for reducing the amount from $40,000,000 to $27,000,000. Gov. Emmerson knew when a TRIBUNE editorial questioned the $40,000,000 that it was based on the facts and he forced the district to accept the $27,000,000 bill or nothing. The governor would apply the brakes to other tax boosts, if he were supplied with information that could not be questioned."

Original Request Slashed.

When the drainage trustees first went to the legislature they wanted without a referendum $27,000,000 for this year and $15,000,000 a year without a time limit. That was later cut to a definite total of $40,000,000, and yesterday by the house to $27,000,000. The vote was 66 to 63.

It will probably take the district until the end of 1931 to spend this sum, even if more than a third of it is paid out on work already done. The district has obligations on existing contracts—a large part of which are in the form of judgments—of approximately $13,050,000. To get within the $27,000,000, $1,800,000 has been trimmed from these contract obligations. This is for work such as bridges and pavements, which was not required by the federal government.

How Program Has Been Trimmed.

For additions and alterations to the north side sewage treatment plant the trustees asked $850,000 under the $40,000,000 plan. All that sum has been eliminated in the amended bill. The allotment for the Calumet sewage treatment plant was originally $8,870,000. It was planned to enlarge the plant, spending an estimated $4,500,000 on Imhoff tanks and $3,550,000 on filters and an improved pumping station. All that has been eliminated and only $520,000 is now left in the $27,000,000 program for the purchase of a site for a new addition.

On a new southwest side sewage plant it was planned to spend $2,700,000, but the amended bill trims this to $1,000,000—of which half is to be used to obtain a site and the other half for designing the plant.

The west side works in the $40,000,000 program called for an allotment of $20,640,000. That has been reduced to $16,700,000. Of this saving $1,555,000 has been eliminated from the plant construction estimates.

Building Plans Shelved.

For example, the administration building to have been erected at an estimated cost of $302,000, has been shelved. It will not be built unless the electorate votes for it on a referendum. The building of a road, the improvement of the surrounding grounds and other like items are to be submitted to the voters for their opinion. The remainder of the saving on the west side plant was the elimination of part of a large intercepting sewer which will carry sewage to the plant for treatment.

"There is no doubt whatever that the remainder of the sewer must be built to comply with the federal government's order," said Chief Engineer Kelly. "But for the present it has been eliminated. Perhaps its cost will be submitted to the people for an expression later."

Items Total $30,500,000.

The remaining two items on the $27,000,000 program are $826,000 for rebuilding the electric terminal station necessitated by the construction of sewage treatment plants, and $200,000 for acquiring easements for sewers. All of these items total $30,500,000, but the district has the equivalent of $3,500,000 in bonds on hand.

When this money has been spent it is represented by the district's experts that they will have facilities to treat the sewage from a net population of 1,128,000 to the satisfaction of the federal government.

The north side plant, which has already cost about $20,000,000, will be serving a population of 858,000 with a sewage treatment of 35 per cent, leaving a net population of 730,000 served as required by the government. It is reckoned that the west side plant, together with the Des Plaines works, will be serving 1,000,000 population with a sewage treatment of 33 1-3 per cent, or a net population of 333,000. The Calumet plant will serve a gross of 185,000, or a net of 62,000, and several small plants will serve a gross of 4,000 or a net of 3,000 persons.

To Serve 1,128,000 Population.

Altogether the population served, or its equivalent in trade wastes, will be 2,047,000, but the sewage treatment will only average 54.7 per cent, so that the net population served, according to the government requirements, will be only 1,128,000. According to the district's program of construction this mark will not be reached until 1931.

The plan of spending, thus outlined by the district officials, makes a relatively small allowance for the southwest side treatment works, which the states fighting the district before the special master of the United States Supreme court have represented in their testimony as a highly important factor in the complete treatment of Chicago's sewage. Money for work on this plant will probably bob up again soon after the next federal permit is issued.

SANITARY WHOOPEE COMMITTEE AGAIN FAILS OF A QUORUM

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Hope for enactment of any remedial legislation based upon the report of Senator Harry Starr's sanitary district investigation committee faded today when three of the five members failed to show up at a meeting called to agree on the report.

Chairman Starr called the session immediately after adjournment of the upper house, but only he and Senator W. R. McCauley appeared. Those absent were Senators E. J. Hughes, Adolph Marks, and A. A. Miles. As a result the meeting was deferred until Monday.

Because of the adjournment of the legislature next week-end it now is impossible for the senate to do more with the report than pigeon-hole it.

What will become of the Central Auto Service company "wine and women" records which the committee still has under lock and key in the Palmer house vault was left in doubt again by the failure of today's meeting. The consensus has been that the committee will hold on to them until the last minute to keep them out of the hands of State's Attorney John Swanson.

INCOME TAX ROW HOLDS UP STATE REVENUE PLAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Although Gov. Louis L. Emmerson again voiced his hope and belief that the general assembly will agree upon a proposal for a revenue amendment to the state constitution, the two chambers split far apart today on the subject.

The break came on the question of a state income tax, the bone of contention in all the revenue proposals submitted at this session.

The differences between the two chambers was disclosed by the draft of the constitutional amendment recommended by their committees, the judiciary committee in the case of the house and the committee on constitutional amendments in the senate. The house proposal is that if a state income tax is levied, only 10 per cent of the amount collected in each county shall go to the state. The senate report would require that the state be allowed 25 per cent.

Senate Bloc Forming.

That the downstate majority of the senate is intent on adhering to its demand for the larger percentage was shown during a debate on the resolution just before that chamber recessed for Memorial day.

With representations that they were acting under instructions from Gov. Emmerson, some of the senators, particularly William R. McCauley of Olney, have been signing up their associates to vote for this proposal. They are reported to have twenty-eight votes signed up. For passage of such a resolution a two-thirds majority, or thirty-four, is required.

The downstaters called up their report today. The test went against them. When the roll call had been completed, but before the result of 31 to 18—three short of the necessary majority—had been announced, Guy Smith of Pana moved further consideration be postponed, thereby saving the resolution from complete defeat.

Chicagoans Attack Plan.

The discussion, hurried by the near approach of train time, did not go into the merits of the income tax question, but concerned only the ratio of the split. Among the Chicagoans who attacked the suggested division were Senators John T. Denvir, Edward J. Hughes and Adelbert H. Roberts. Senators Arthur A. Heubsch, James J. Barbour and Joseph Mendel of Cook county were reported to be on the verge of supporting the resolution if the state's share were cut down. It is understood the rest of the Cook county delegation is standing pat against the principle of such a tax.

Downstate has 32 senators. It must have at least two votes from Cook county to put over this resolution.

Differ on Purpose.

Regarding the use to which the shares of the counties shall be devoted the senate resolution is vague. On this point it reads:

"Each county and municipal corporation within or partly within it shall receive in the aggregate the same proportion of the proceeds of such tax that may be distributed as the real property in such county bears to the total property of the state, as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county purposes. If an income tax is imposed the general assembly shall, as far as practicable, provide for deductions or credits for taxes on property from which any part of the taxed income is derived."

The house resolution specifically provides how each county's share shall be used for the reduction of existing forms of local taxation.

Another phase of the tax fight developed this afternoon when the Lantz measure, imposing what Chicago and other cities contend is an unfair burden on the salary and wage earner, the house and flat renter, was called upon second reading and the flood of amendments was so great that they were ordered printed, and action was deferred until next Tuesday. There were fifteen changes demanded, perhaps the most important being a referendum clause, insisted upon by Michael L. Igoe, minority leader.

FATE OF 2 CIVIL SERVICE BILLS IN COOK DIFFERS

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.] Two important civil service bills affecting Cook county met different fates today in the lower house of the state legislature.

By a vote of 94 to 3 the house passed the Garriott bill to put employés of the Chicago sanitary district under the merit system, and at the same time to shed into the scrap heap a similar measure, sponsored by Representative Rena Elrod, applying to employés of the Cook county board. The Elrod bill received 65 votes, 12 less than the majority of 77 required.

Under the provisions of the Garriott bill, should it pass the senate and be signed by Gov. Emmerson, it will go into effect Jan. 1, 1930. All employés in service on that date and who have worked one year previously will automatically receive rankings, while those employed thereafter would have to pass civil service examinations.

A political split over the one year blanket clause was credited for the defeat of the county bill, the Democrats opposing it. The clause was inserted over their protest on second reading.

GETS YEAR AND $500 FINE ON FRAUD CHARGE FOR THEATER RACKET

J. Thomas Harding, who styles himself as an organizer of theatrical troupes, and who is styled as a "small time racketeer" by a number of alleged victims, was fined $500 and given a year's sentence in the Bridewell yesterday by Municipal Judge Francis Borelli on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Edward C. Dwyer Jr. of Glenn Ellyn, the complainant, alleged that he gave Harding $100 to place him with a traveling troupe, but for months afterwards was unable even to find Harding.

Judge Borelli, glancing sharply at Harding recalled that he had released the dapper young man, now 30 years old, with a warning when he was arraigned two years ago upon a similar charge. Harding is said to have worked a "stringed instrument racket," collecting hundreds of dollars from victims on the pretense of teaching them to play various stringed instruments.

COUNTY O. K.'S PERMANENT PLAN FOR TAX SYSTEM

Ask Referendum on Bill for Rate Boost.

The county board yesterday approved an organization designed by Harry S. Cutmore, revaluation director, to perpetuate the new scientific assessment system. At the same time, the board adopted a resolution to amend its revenue bill, pending in the state legislature, so as to submit to a referendum at the November election the question of whether the county shall receive a temporary increase in its tax rate to cover the cost of inaugurating the new assessment system, an expense to the county estimated at $2,500,000.

In the same session, the county commissioners voted an appropriation of $173,186 to meet pay rolls of the realty appraisors. This makes a total of $423,796 that has been voted by the board since it granted the original appropriation of $816,363 which was estimated at that time as the total cost of the reassessment. The county is losing more than a million more, according to estimates, through the delay in tax collections, the growing interest on its outstanding tax anticipation warrants and the loss of interest on its bank deposits.

Calls for 99 Workers.

Cutmore's permanent organization plan calls for the employment of 99 regular workers, with eleven more helpers engaged for six months out of the year. J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency expert, attacked the plan, charging that half of the men now engaged in the reassessment were not delivering full service for their salaries. The board disregarded its efficiency engineer's report and approved Cutmore's proposal, pointing out that delay in the tax collections must be avoided because it was costing $1,000,000 a month to the 417 tax spending bodies of the county.

Cermak Introduces Resolution.

President Anton J. Cermak of the county board submitted the resolution calling for a referendum on the county's request for tax rate increase effective for one year only. Representative Henry Sonnenschein is to present the amendment to the pending bill. The bill provides for a raise of 6 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the county's corporate fund, out of which the expenses of the reassessment are being paid.

CHICAGO GIRL IS HEROINE OF SEA 'AUTOBIOGRAPHY'

Miss Jacques the "June Triplett" of Story.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The Book of the Month club got the sock of the century tonight and another "Whaler's Daughter" flashed across the horizon with a salty autobiography that makes Joan Lowell's "The Cradle of the Deep" read like a Lake Michigan chantey.

Only a half gale was blowing across the main salon of the clipper boat, the Ile de France, tonight when dat ole debbil THE TRIBUNE reporter hove to at his first literary tea. Ten minutes later the "Incredible autobiography of Capt. Triplett's seafaring daughter June" began to dissolve in the evening mists hanging over the Hudson river.

June Triplett, the little sea robin, whose life story, "Salt Water Taffy," made Corey Ford weep briny tears as he set down the historic words, copped right out in her overalls and turned up to everything.

Daughter of the C. E. Jacques.

June is none other than Annie Laurie Jacques, 6314 Sheridan road, Chicago. She is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Jacques, is a member of the Service club who made her debut in 1927, and is a graduate of the Chicago Latin School for Girls. She's a seafaring lass, too, for she has been twice around the world with her parents.

George Palmer Putnam, the publisher of "Salt Water Taffy," which is a burlesque on "The Cradle of the Deep," was host aboard the Ile de France to "Miss Triplett" and a hundred of her male admirers. Corey Ford, who wrote the book, was there, too. Backing the pair into a corner, the reporter asked Miss Jacques:

"How did you, a Chicago society girl, get mixed up in this racket?"

"I don't know myself," she laughed. "Corey telephoned me to come down and pose for some pictures and here I am at my own party. It is nice, don't you think?"

Dodge the Romance.

"Are you going to marry Corey Ford?"

"That's something we three had better to get together on before I say anything."

"How about it?" Mr. Ford was asked.

"Well," drawled Ford, "you see, Lindbergh stole our stuff. We have a new airplane, too, and a yacht and everything. When we get ready to show off it is going to be a big secret. Let it leave it that way."

The romance disposed of, your correspondent got down to nautical matters.

"Prove to me you are a deep sea salt," he requested.

"Why don't you write your travel books like Joan Lowell?"

"Father never taught me to write," said the feminine bosun's mate. "Nevertheless, I'm ready to defend my literary honor at all costs."

"Do you consider your book as true as other travel books?"

Overlooked by Book Club.

Miss Jacques or June or Miss Triplett was suffering acutely at the moment because her book had not been elected by a book club.

"My loss is no less than theirs," she reasoned, "and anyhow I have not come from a rubdown after fighting the sharks while in swimming. You know my father's yawl, the Minnie J. Cohan, burned to the water's edge this afternoon and shiver my timbers if I didn't have to let loose my Australian crawl to make port."

George Palmer Putnam wouldn't think anything.

"It's my story and I'm stuck with it," was his way of putting it.

There was a lot of singing and old Capt. Traprock of the good ship Iowa, in person, explained some movie pictures of Miss Triplett's adventures to the dissatisfaction of every one present.

There was a play. No one knew what it was about.

Corey Ford, who writes in Vanity Fair as John Riddell, said tonight he was a seafaring man in every sense of the word.

"I've been up and down the world a ruin," he vouchsafed, "and every word June told me rang as true as an old Jolson mammy song."

Chicago Girl Burlesques Salty Story of Sea

Tripplett, spanking June, played by Annie Laurie Jacques of Chicago, while Frank Sullivan as "Old Britches" and Percy Crosby look on, in the presentation of a dramatization of "Salt Water Taffy," a literary burlesque of a recent best seller, which was put on last night on board the Ile de France in New York harbor.

SLIGHT RELIEF FROM RECORD HEAT FORECAST

Mercury at 90 on 4th Day of Siege.

Some slight relief from the heat which sent the thermometer yesterday to the 90 degree mark, highest of the year, was promised for today by Weather Forecaster Henry J. Cox last night. The skies will be partly cloudy, Prof. Cox stated, and in the afternoon the weather will be slightly cooler.

The beaches were visited again by many bathers as the mercury touched 90 degrees at 3 p. m. yesterday. Only once in the history of the weather bureau has there been such a protracted heat siege at this time of the year, records disclosed. The warm spell began last Sunday and may reach its peak today.

Siege Lasts Four Days.

In May, 1921, there was a five day period when the temperature exceeded 90 degrees each day. Last Sunday the mercury reached 80 degrees and the maximum temperature has steadily increased each day. It was 84 degrees on Monday and 87 degrees on Tuesday.

Prof. Cox's records showed that yesterday was the second hottest May 29 in the history of the weather bureau. A year ago the highest temperature reached was only 61 degrees and the normal temperature for the day is 63 degrees.

The weather will continue warm throughout the entire middle west, Prof. Cox declared. There is a faint possibility of local thundershowers dropping the temperature a few points.

Lowest Mark Is 70.

The lowest mark reached by the mercury yesterday was 70 degrees at 6 a. m. The temperature rose steadily, reaching 85 degrees at noon and 90 degrees at 3 o'clock. The readings remained above 80 degrees last evening.

Health department officials were busy condemning foodstuffs in markets which spoiled because of heat.

When Two Dogs Bite Two Owners It's Called a Draw

One dog's bite is as criminal as another's, Judge Alfred O. Erickson ruled yesterday in Municipal court. Miss Ruth Siegal, 17 years old, 2144 Alice place, charged that she was bitten by a dog belonging to Miss Sadie Thorenson, 37 years old, 2147 Caton street, while she was trying to restore peace between the two fighting pets. When Miss Thorenson countered by testifying that she was bitten by Miss Siegal's dog, the judge declared the case a draw.

FIVE MEN DRAG POLICEMAN FROM CAR; SHOOT HIM

Sergt. Fred Janik of the south park police was dragged from his automobile by five unknown men in Washington park last night and shot in the back and in the right leg. He was taken to the Washington Park hospital, where his condition is considered serious.

Sergt. Janik was off duty at the time and was sitting in his automobile near East 60th street and St. Lawrence avenue with Miss Evelyn Dreis, 855 Grace street, when two men opened the door of his car. Sergt. Janik asked them what they wanted, and upon receiving an impudent reply, told them to go on about their business.

The men presently returned, accompanied by three Negroes. They pulled Sergt. Janik out of the car and shot him before he had a chance to defend himself. Police were unable to advance any motive for the shooting.

Widower, 81, Gets License to Wed Widow, Aged 72

Sidney G. Hickok, 81 years old, a retired metal worker, 134 South 6th avenue, Maywood, yesterday took out a license to wed Mrs. Vitula Harrington, 73 years old, of Chicago. They will be married at his home on Sunday. Hickok is a widower and Mrs. Harrington is a widow.

HEIRESS WEDS CLERK AND DAD GIVES BLESSING

Daughter of R. H. Kress Elopes.

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The elopement of a millionaire merchant's daughter with a $30 a week clerk was made public today when it was learned that Rush H. Kress, vice president of S. H. Kress, Inc., had given his approval to the runaway marriage of his daughter, Miss Silvia Adelaide Kress, to Charles Lee Abry Jr., ledger clerk with the stock exchange firm of De Coppet & Doremus.

The young couple eloped to Bel Air, Md., two weeks ago. Mr. Abry has been a Wall street clerk for only one month. Before that he was a sophomore at Washington and Lee university. He is 22.

Decides to Look for Job.

He met Miss Kress, who is 18, Sept. 7 last. She was a bridesmaid and he an usher at the wedding of Miss Helen Tener of Montclair, N. J., to George K. Reilly. Mr. Abry came to New York for his Easter vacation and spent two days as a guest at the Kress home in Ossining. He did not return to college but decided to look for work in New York.

On May 13 they decided on the elopement. The next day they met at a railroad station, where Miss Kress mailed a letter to her father, telling him not to worry. They took a train for Wilmington, Del., and from there went to Bel Air. There they obtained a marriage license and the ceremony was performed. Mr. Kress meanwhile had started a search for his daughter.

Refuses to Accept Aid.

The newly married couple returned immediately to New York and Mr. Kress offered them financial aid. Young Abry refused and his bride explained that he expected a $12 increase in salary. They plan to take a New York apartment and live on his salary.

Girl Faints While Bathing and Drowns in Bath Tub

Miss Virginia Robinson, 22 years old, of Westchester, Mass., who was found dead in a bath tub at the home of her brother, Ward A. Robinson, 327 Woodland avenue, Winnetka, yesterday morning, came to her death accidentally, a coroner's jury held yesterday afternoon. Miss Robinson was subject to fainting spells, and the jury decided that she fainted while bathing and was drowned. The body was found by Mrs. Robinson, her sister-in-law, about a half hour after she entered the bath. Efforts to resuscitate her were futile.

JOE AIELLO BACK AS HARBINGER OF GANGLAND PEACE

Wants to Settle Down to Business, He Says.

Joe Aiello came back to Chicago yesterday. Joe Aiello is an important person, so important that his return caused Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege and Chief of Detectives John Egan to announce that they really believed his appearance was a harbinger of peace among gangsters.

"I left Chicago because O'Connor and Grady told me to get out of town so the newspapers wouldn't burn them up," Aiello informed Stege, referring to former Deputy Commissioner William O'Connor and former Chief of Detectives Michael Grady. "I am not a hoodlum; I'm a business man."

A month ago Stege and Egan said Aiello was the man behind a half dozen or more gang executions. They reiterated that statement yesterday, but they couldn't prove it, and as Aiello told them nothing they were forced to release him in accordance with an agreement not to hold him if he was not identified.

Says He Has $100,000 Income.

Attorney Richard I. Gavin negotiated the surrender of Aiello. He said Aiello has a legitimate income of $100,000 a year through his wholesale grocery business, from which Italian retailers are forced to buy, according to the police, and in which the principal commodity is sugar, sold to alky cookers all over the country.

Aiello was a partner of Antonio Lombardo in the west Randolph street wholesale house, and he is in control of it now that Lombardo is dead, and, as he once shared authority with Lombardo in the rule of the local Sicilians through the Unione Siciliene, he is in a position now to become its sole dominator because of the murders of Lombardo, Pasqualino Lolordo, successor to Lombardo, and Joseph Guinta, successor to Lolordo.

Wants to Settle Down.

"It seems as though Capone's statement about a peace treaty at Atlantic City two weeks ago was on the square. That would mean that the feudists have agreed to stop killing each other and settle down in earnest to the business of making money—and Aiello will make more than all the rest."

Aiello sat in Stege's office—the well dressed business man going about the business of making peace with the law as he had made peace with his enemies—and said he returned so he could settle down with his wife and children, and take charge of the sugar business. He said he is 39 years old, a citizen, and has been in this country twenty-one years, coming from near Palermo.

Stege Recounts His Feats.

"Let's see, Joe," said Stege, "you broke with Lombardo when the Genaro brothers put bombs in Jack Zuta's west side vice resorts. You took sides against Capone and joined your forces with Bugs Moran and his north side gang. Then Lombardo was killed last summer at Dearborn and Madison streets. Then Uale was killed in Brooklyn.

"When Lolordo was killed in his home you were under suspicion. He had put a big still on the north side, in your territory and Moran's. It wasn't long after that when the seven Moran gangsters were killed in the massacre.

"We heard about the peace negotiations and about the demand of you northsiders that Scalisi and Anselmi be put on the spot. We don't know the details but when they were killed down in Indiana it looked as though Capone had sacrificed them to the demand of the northsiders. We don't know the details, either, about Capone's getting himself put in jail in Philadelphia but it seems as though you have won and that the north side is victor in the sectional warfare."

Denies Turning Up Sicilians.

Aiello had little to say in return. He said he wasn't interested in the history of Chicago's Sicilian murders but he vehemently denied having been the informer who caused the arrest of twenty-one Italians who met in a hotel room in Cleveland to settle Sicilian warfares, and who were all armed.

"I never bother any one else, and I just want to be let alone," Aiello explained to press and police, as he was permitted to depart on his promise and the promise of Attorney Gavin that he would call at the detective bureau whenever any murder witnesses are present to look him over.

HOOVER WREATH SENT FOR LINCOLN MEMORIAL TODAY

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—Herbert Wells Fay, custodian of Lincoln tomb in this city, today received from President Herbert Hoover a wreath which will be placed upon the tomb tomorrow.

A special train will bring 1,000 school children from various parts of Indiana to Springfield tomorrow. They will visit the home and tomb of Lincoln. Annual memorial exercises will be held in Oak Ridge, where the Lincoln monument is located.

WIFE VISITS CAPONE

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—[Special.]—The wife of "Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago gang leader, has been in Philadelphia, visited her husband in the Holmesburg jail, where he is spending a year for carrying a revolver, and has returned to her home in Chicago, prison officials disclosed today. Her visit to the prison was made on Monday.

Mrs. Capone appeared disconsolate, according to prison officials. She was permitted to talk to her husband for one hour. She cannot make a second visit to the jail until June, as prisoners are permitted only one visitor a month.

She was said to have contemplated making some effort to get her husband out of jail, but Capone dissuaded her from the attempt.

DANISCH LOST LIFE SAVINGS, AGED MAN SAYS

Ambrose Haase, 71 years old, 127 Pleasant place, Oak Park, testified before Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan yesterday that Frank P. Danisch, Polish leader and politician, caused him to lose $14,000, his life's savings. Haase appeared to support the issuance of a writ enjoining a sanity hearing on Danisch, who is now in the Psychopathic hospital.

Haase, bent and white haired, said that he had given the money to Danisch to guarantee his independence in declining years, on the latter's promise that he would secure an ample income by placing it in trust. Haase and his wife last Monday petitioned for the injunction, charging that friends of Danisch were covering up alleged fraudulent operations by bringing the sanity hearing.

Col. Enochs to Face Court Martial for Insubordination

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Orders issued today call for the trial by general court martial of Col. Berkeley Enochs, until recently chief of staff of the Second corps area at Governor's Island, N. Y. While no charges were made public today, it was learned that Col. Enochs will be tried for alleged insubordination.

Maj. Ben. Hanson E. Ely, commandant of the Second corps area, filed the charges and the court martial board was appointed by order of the President at his request.

Brig. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commanding officer of the First division at Fort Hamilton, was named president of the board which will hear the evidence against Col. Enochs.

Capt. J. F. Reynolds Scott of the judge advocate general's department here was named advocate for the trial and Capt. George B. Campbell, infantry, stationed with the 16th infantry at Fort Jay, was named as his assistant. Defense counsel will be Col. Charles W. Exton of the chemical warfare service, who is stationed at Governor's Island. His assistant will be Lieut. Col. Consuelo A. Seaone, signal corps, also stationed at Governor's Island.

War department officials at first declined to discuss the Enochs case, but later admitted that the court martial order had been issued. In war department circles it was learned that Gen. Ely, one of the highest ranking officers in the American army, had trouble with Col. Enochs some days ago. It was admitted by the same source that Col. Enochs would be tried for alleged insubordination.

Col. Enochs was relieved recently as chief of staff at Governor's Island, effective next Saturday, upon the completion of a four year term of duty in that office. More than a week ago, however, Col. Enochs was suddenly relieved by Gen. Ely, and Col. Alfred A. Starbird, on duty at Governor's Island, was named acting chief of staff to serve until Col. William K. Naylor arrived, who was ordered to succeed Col. Enochs.

Col. Enochs was born at Ironton, O., in 1876, and was graduated from the United States Military academy in 1898. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1899, captain in 1903, major in 1917, and colonel in 1920. He is at present a member of the general staff, holds the Distinguished Service medal for world war service and is a graduate of the army war college, the army staff college and the army school of the line.

GIVES UP U. S. CITIZENSHIP TO ESCAPE A CELL

A naturalized American of Italian birth yesterday chose to forfeit his citizenship rather than serve a six month jail sentence for making moonshine.

Luigi Borsellino, 36 years old, was convicted of operating a still at 2085 Ogden avenue. Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward sentenced him to six months in the county jail. Borsellino applied for probation and Assistant District Attorney Daniel Anderson consented to the probation only on condition that the defendant surrender his citizenship rights. The man objected at first but later signified his assent to Mr. Anderson, and the prosecutor will ask for the probation from Judge Woodward on Monday.

FAILURE MEETS 2 ATTEMPTS AT OCEAN FLIGHTS

Old Orchard Beach, Me., May 29.—[Special.] — Two monoplanes went thundering down the broad white ocean front this morning with motors roaring in perfect rhythm and pilots tense for the moment of take-off. They had started, a minute—a mile or so—apart along the sandy pathway.

Wind, weather, tide, and the men themselves were ready and right. Only bad luck could stop them on the aerial road to Rome and to Paris. Then, when all seemed propitious, ill luck intervened and postponed the ventures until another day.

Soft Sand Snags Wheel.

The Green Flash, the American plane which had set Rome for its goal, sped along the shingle, but never left it. One wheel struck a stretch of soft sand, the monoplane tilted over, the wheel snapped, the motor died, and the plane became as helpless as a bird caught in a ground snare.

The French monoplane, a Bernard called the Yellow Bird, which had Paris for its objective, met with better fortune. Pulled along by its 600 horse power motor, the plane streaked at ninety miles an hour over the beach. Gaining speed by the foot, the huge monoplane swept past the mired Ballanca and on down the ocean front. It seemed as if it would never leave the sand. Straight ahead appeared the steel frame of an amusement pier.

Just when it appeared certain that the Yellow Bird's flight would end in a tragedy before it had even begun, Assollant swung the silver nose of his plane seaward. The Bernard responded smoothly, and passed out of sight beyond a jutting point.

Leak Sends Plane Back.

Nineteen minutes later the plane was back. Twenty miles at sea a bad leak in a gasoline tank had appeared. The gasoline poured out. Realizing their danger, the Frenchmen dumped the fuel, and sped back to shore.

Having been balked by ill fortune during the day, the crews of both planes set to work to take off again tomorrow morning. But tonight they received further discouragement when the weather report convinced them that a take-off then would be foolish. A bad weather area has moved into place in midocean, a stretch which both would have to fly at night.

Definite postponement of both flights was announced late tonight.

PLANE MISBEHAVES, BUT MAC READY ENDS TEST FLIGHT SAFELY

Dayton, O., May 29.—[Special.]—Coolheadedness and expert handling averted a serious accident at Wilbur Wright field this afternoon when Lieut. John A. MacReady, former altitude and cross-country flyer, brought a new plane he was testing to the ground with a broken right wing and a smashed tail skid. With him in the cockpit was John H. Skoning, former air mail pilot. Neither was injured.

The plane nosed down just before landing, but MacReady prevented its landing in this fashion. Stiff rudder control was given as the cause of the trouble.

The plane was built by the Dayton Aircraft corporation, backed financially by the Studebaker Securities company, and is designed to revolutionize commercial air travel. Two engines of 525 horsepower each, mounted tandem on top of the plane, furnish the power.

4 DIE IN CAISSON TRAGEDY 80 FEET DOWN IN RIVER

Squeezed to Death as Air Fails.

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Four workers died tonight in a caisson eighty feet below the surface of the Hackensack river, suffocated and crushed between the slowly descending weight of the crippled caisson and the rising influx of sand, muck and rock of the river bottom. One is still missing and nine escaped or were rescued and are in hospitals.

The four were the victims of an exploded air pressure line. It was air pressure which held the massive steel box up to give them an eight foot clearance to work in and kept the ooze and muck from sucking in at the bottom. When the pressure failed, they were caught. At midnight the weight of their steel and concrete tomb had carried them, engineers reckoned, twenty feet farther down through solid mud.

Air Lock Explodes.

The fourteen men were part of a caisson crew which was laying the piers of a bridge between Kearney and Jersey City. The explosion occurred at the air lock at the top of one of three cylinders carrying pressure lines down to the working compartment.

The sudden blast lifted the air lock high in air, and when it settled it struck the lock tender, Michael Hannigan, a glancing blow, keeling him over. The instant effect of the explosion was to destroy the caisson's air tightness.

The men below almost at once found themselves waist high in muck, ooze, and rock. The four who perished were held in a vise from which they never freed themselves. The others managed to struggle clear, and flounder desperately toward the cylinder mouths which led to air, light, and safety.

Caisson Digs Down.

By the time the survivors had struggled up through the tubes, the free space between muck and caisson ceiling had diminished to two feet, and it was lowering still.

The weight of the many tons of steel was boring down and down into the hardpan.

Healthiest Boy and Girl Chosen at School Festival

Chosen from sixteen boys and sixteen girls, two Cook county rural school children were judged the healthiest boy and girl in division No. 3 yesterday at the annual community festival at Morton Grove in the forest preserve. Henry Dild, 13 years old, a pupil at the Golf school, district No. 67, and Evelyn Wagner, 12 years old, a pupil at the Fairview school, district No. 72, were the winners. They will be eligible to enter the finals for the healthiest boy and girl in Cook county on June 3, in the office of County Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Tobin.

CHICAGO'S LONG SOUGHT TRANSIT BILLS ENACTED

Emmerson O. K., Then Up to City Council.

AGAINST THE BILL—Boyd, Jewell, Reynolds, and Thompson. Total, 4.

Present but not voting were Barbour and Flagg, and absent, Bailey, Hamilton, and Hanna.

Debate was limited, only four speeches of any length being made. These were by Senator Courtney, who declared that he had faith in the sponsors of the bills; Senator Starr, who said he had little faith in either the sponsors or the bills, but was voting yes because of demands from his district; Senator Jewell, who said he was convinced the bills meant a perpetual franchise, and Senator Barbour, who echoed the statements of Starr.

All eight of the bills were passed in less than an hour.

LEADERS HAIL PROGRESS

Passage of the Chicago transit bills yesterday at Springfield was regarded by Chicago leaders as an important step toward giving the city the best in transportation service. James Simpson, president of the Chicago plan commission, and chairman of the citizens' committee, appointed by Federal Judge Wilkerson to draft the transit settlement program, expressed the thanks of the committee to all who assisted in the formulation and passage of the bills.

"We regard it as a real, constructive service to the city," he said. "We must remember, however, that the enactment of this legislation is only part of the solution of the intricate problem which confronts us. There yet remain the unification ordinance and the referendum, these steps being vital to the final solution of our transit problem.

Urges No Time Be Lost.

"The bills as passed by the legislature, if and when signed by the governor, will lay a burden on the transit companies that they should in good faith enter into negotiations with the city council to work out a proper ordinance which will solve the transportation problem of the city for all time. The citizens' committee hopes that no time will be lost in taking up negotiations between the city and the companies."

"We have been fussing for twenty-five or thirty years on this problem," said William R. Dawes, banker and past president of the Association of Commerce. "The passage of the bills should prove very beneficial to the city, to property values in the outlying districts as well as downtown. The council can now pass an ordinance with the proper checks and balances and we will have a long start toward the best transportation system in the country."

Henry A. Blair, president of the north and west side surface lines, was out of the city, and Leonard Busby, head of the south side lines, could not be reached. An opinion on what could be expected from the companies was obtained from Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, who represented them in reaching an agreement with the city officials for the plan submitted to the legislature.

Sees Permanent Settlement.

"The companies can now get together with the city and draft an ordinance acceptable to both," Mr. Kirkland said. "The city can then grow. We can have a subway. We can have unified service, vastly improved in the outlying districts. There isn't a thing in the way now to prevent a permanent settlement of the transit problem.

"The legislation permits both parties to reach an agreement satisfactory to each. It does not grant any ordinance or charter, but makes possible the kind of ordinance suited to modern times."

A telegram signed by Earl George Gubbins as president of the Cook County Real Estate board was sent to Gov. Emmerson asking him to veto the bills on the ground that they do not protect the rights of the car riders.

AVIATION NOTES

Fifteen Chicagoans will fly from Chicago to Indianapolis for the auto races today. They will leave the airport at 8 o'clock in a Fokker trimotored cabin plane and a Stinson-Detroiter of the Gray Goose lines. Three big Fokker ships of the Universal lines will fly from Cleveland to Indianapolis for the races.

Airplane joy riding is the latest diversion at the Western Electric Hawthorne works. Ten employés of the plant drove the short distance to the Municipal field, went for a spin in the air over the plant, lunched, and were back at their desks at the end of the noon hour.

Air mail service first began in ancient China, where, so the legend goes, the gray goose carried the mail of kings and emperors, according to K. P. Aldrich, chief postoffice inspector in Chicago. The Chinese postal flag, he states, still symbolizes a goose in flight.

The cost to the government represented by payments to contractors for the transportation of air mail must be reduced and carrying rates readjusted on a sound basis, according to Postmaster General Walter F. Brown. He stated before a conference of air mail contractors that there is no disposition on the part of the government to drive a hard bargain, but that the disparity between the amount earned and expended by the government for air mail and also the wide difference in pay to different contractors calls for readjustment.

Capt. C. A. McElvain and Lieut. Ken Fogle, vice presidents of Continental Air Services, will leave Chicago Saturday morning for New Orleans over the course of a proposed air line via St. Louis, Memphis, and Jackson, Miss.

FAHY ALOFT 36 HOURS AND 56 MINUTES, NEW SOLO FLIGHT RECORD

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—[Special.]—Herbert J. Fahy today broke both the official and unofficial records for endurance solo flights.

Fahy landed his plane, a Lockhead single motored monoplane, at 5:39:41 p. m., after having been aloft 36 hours 56 minutes, and 36 seconds. The previous official record of 34 hours and 53 minutes was established by Royal Thomas. Martin Jensen made an unofficial record of 35 hours and 33 minutes in New York last February.

NATION HUNTS, BUT IN VAIN, FOR LINDY AND ANNE

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—A nation gave consideration to the many Lindbergh rumors today, but found nothing which satisfied its curiosity. Not since a lone aviator swooped down upon Le Bourget field outside Paris on the night of May 21, 1927, has the interest of the entire country been so centered upon America's hero of the air.

That he had married Miss Anne Morrow at the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., Monday, then casually driven down the driveway and out of sight with his bride, was the only positive fact upon which conversational speculations could be hinged. Anybody's rumor was as good as another, but that privilege was a bit overdone if the number of "reports" may be accepted as a barometer.

That the colonel and his young bride were honeymooning somewhere east of the Alleghany mountains and north of the Mason-Dixon line appears logical, if any satisfaction could be gained from that.

To add to the perplexity a statement was given out at the Morrow home yesterday by Mrs. Morrow's secretary to the effect that neither the Morrow family or any other relative of the couple had the slightest idea where the honeymoon was being spent.

One rumor had the hiding honeymooners booking secret passage aboard the Aquitania, sailing at midnight. Cunard line officials denied quarters had been reserved for them, and reporters failed to find any trace of them at the pier or aboard ship.

En route to North Haven, Me., to spend their honeymoon at the Morrow summer home, airplane, rail, and water having been mentioned as possible methods of transportation.

4 Men Destroy Clothing Worth $1,500 with Acid

Four armed men destroyed clothing valued at $1,500 with acid early yesterday as they held two men at bay with revolvers in the M. and S. Tailoring shop, 1121 South Halsted street. The police attributed the raid to labor trouble. Clothing in another shop on the west side was similarly destroyed a week ago, they said.

START DRIVE TO ELIMINATE ALL GRADE CROSSINGS

A campaign to eliminate all grade crossings within the city by forcing railroads to elevate their tracks is to be undertaken by the council committee on track elevation, according to Ald. A. J. Horan [29th], chairman. He will ask the council at its next meeting for an appropriation of $150,000 with which to finance the work.

The campaign will be directed against the railroads which have defaulted on track elevation ordinances passed by the city council and agreed to by the railroads and those which have no agreements with the city. Three railroads, according to Ald. Horan, have failed to comply with track elevation ordinances passed by the city council years ago. They are the Chicago and Western Indiana, the Rock Island lines, and the Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania.

A subcommittee of the the track elevation committee is negotiating with the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad to elevate the Evanston division which runs from the river to Wilson avenue through one of the most densely populated districts of the north side.

GOVERNOR SIGNS WISCONSIN DRY LAW REPEALER

Madison, Wis., May 29.—[Special.]—State Prohibition Commissioner R. W. Dizon and his force of 13 deputies were packing up today. The office is to be definitely closed within the next few days when the Grobschmidt bill repealing the state dry act goes into effect. Gov. Walter J. Kohler signed the bill today and the only remaining step to actual repeal of the dry act is the publication of the law within the next few days.

After several days of interviewing leading wet and dry leaders as to the effect of prohibition repeal, Gov. Kohler today announced that he had signed the bill in compliance with the mandate of the people in the referendum on the subject.

Gov. Kohler, in his statement, does not go into the merits or demerits of state prohibition enforcement, but concludes it by declaring that "enforcement will depend on federal and local effort, as it largely has in the past."

Enacted Under Blaine.

Repeal of the dry law is the most radical step the state could take and wets have nothing more to seek within the state in future legislative sessions. The state dry law was enacted under the administration of Gov. John J. Blaine, now United States senator, an outstanding wet. It is wiped out under the Kohler administration, which has attempted to ignore the wet and dry question as a state issue.

Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman solved a problem similar to that put up to Gov. Kohler in the opposite way, and wets claim this was a big factor in his defeat at the last election. Following a referendum in which the people voted overwhelmingly in favor of repealing the beer penalties under the state dry act, a bill was passed to that effect and Zimmerman vetoed it.

No Obligation on State.

"In fulfillment of the mandate of the people, overwhelmingly expressed in the recent referendum, I have signed bill No. 72-A repealing the state prohibition enforcement law," Gov. Kohler's statement today said.

"The eighteenth amendment to the United States constitution provides that 'the congress and the several states shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.'

"This imposes no obligation upon the states, but leaves it optional with them as to whether or not they will exercise their concurrent powers. The action of any state in this regard must be determined in the final analysis by the expressed will of the citizens of that state.

Saloon Not Legalized.

"The passage of this repealing act should not mislead any of our citizens into the belief that traffic in intoxicating liquor heretofore prohibited by the state enforcement act has become lawful, or that the saloon will return. The constitution of the United States, the Volstead act and the Jones law are still in full force and effect. It is a crime, severely punishable, to manufacture, sell, or transport beverages of over one-half of 1 per cent alcoholic content.

"Enforcement will depend on federal and local effort, as it largely has in the past."

May Send More Agents.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran said today that repeal of the Wisconsin dry law will not affect the enforcement of the national prohibition law in that state.

The commissioner said if it was found necessary additional agents would be sent to the state.

BEER SEIZED IN FRAT HOUSE AT MICHIGAN; INQUIRY IS STARTED

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 29.—[Special.]—As the result of the discovery of a barrel of beer in the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity house by police this morning the entire liquor situation at the University of Michigan is to be investigated, and one student, Ray M. Hofelich of Fremont, O., is awaiting examination in court. Hofelich is president of the local chapter of the fraternity.

Police, acting on a tip received from a woman who said she was "tired of having bottles thrown on her lawn," raided the place at 7 a. m. After finding the beer, they awakened Hofelich and conducted him to jail.

Whether the beer was to have served as a stimulant in studying for final examinations which begin Friday, or as a hot weather beverage, has not been determined.

WOMAN, 80, HIDES 1,700 $1 BILLS; DIES OF STARVATION

Mary Reeves, 80 years old, lived for years in a squalid room at 1338 South Wabash avenue, eating barely enough to live and denying herself all comforts. She died yesterday on the way to the county hospital, after Dr. John Weinlander had found her dying from infirmities brought on by starvation. Police who visited the room found $1,700 in $1 bills hidden about the room. The money was turned over to the public administrator for distribution among relatives, if any appear. The woman's body lay unclaimed at the county morgue.

FIVE CHILDREN TO SHARE ESTATE OF MRS. ROSENWALD

Estimated at $1,000,000 —Will Is Filed.

The will of Mrs. Augusta Nusbaum Rosenwald, wife of Julius Rosenwald, Chicago capitalist, was filed yesterday before Probate Judge Henry Horner. It disposed of an estate estimated at not less than $1,000,000 to her five children. Mrs. Rosenwald died May 23 in her home at 4901 Ellis avenue after an illness of several months.

The will provides that the estate be divided into five equal portions. Two of the portions are left outright to Lessing J. Rosenwald, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and Mrs. Edith Rosenwald Stern of Ravinia. Three portions are held in trust for William Rosenwald of Philadelphia, Mrs. Marion Rosenwald Stern of New Orleans, and Mrs. Adele Rosenwald Levy of New York.

Get Income for Twenty Years.

The will provides that the income is to be paid to the three for twenty years, when they are to receive the principal. At the expiration of ten years they may receive their shares with the consent of the trustees.

The contents of the homes on Ellis avenue and at Ravinia are left to the husband. The document names the husband and Lessing Rosenwald as executors, and, with Edgar Stern, a son-in-law, trustees. It was filed by Attorney Herbert M. Lautman. Attorney Lautman declared that no certain estimate can be made at present but fixed the total above $1,000,000.

No Provision for Charity.

The will makes no provision for charity, but says "I desire to make it clear that I have made no provision under this, my last will and testament, for charitable bequests nor for bequests to persons outside of my immediate family for the reason that I have explained to my children my wishes and suggestions in respect to contributions or gifts to institutions and individuals, and I am confident that my children, in due course, in exercise of their own absolute judgment, without being liable to account to any person or persons, will make such gifts and contributions as will carry out my known wishes."

Mrs. Rosenwald was known for her many philanthropies. Attorney Lautman said she preferred to make her contributions in an unostentatious manner and that her plan will be followed by the children after the estate is settled. The will was executed by Mrs. Rosenwald three days before her death.

DEFICIT OF DEMOCRAT NATIONAL COMMITTEE REDUCED TO $350,000

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The $1,500,000 deficit of the Democratic national committee, which resulted from the unsuccessful attempt to elect former Gov. Alfred E. Smith President, has been reduced to about $350,000, it was learned today after a conference on party plans at the office of Chairman John J. Raskob.

It was decided at this conference, which was attended by Jouett Shouse of Kansas, recently named as chairman of the executive committe, with headquarters at Washington; former Senator Peter Goelet Gerry of Rhode Island, and Representative Parker Corning of Albany, to go ahead with plans for the rehabilitation of the party on the theory that sufficient funds will be available.

Much of the discussion centered on Mr. Shouse's plans for strengthening state party organizations in preparation for the congressional campaign next year.

Mr. Raskob cut the deficit down by calling upon each guarantor on a list made up during the closing days of the campaign to pay the amount of his guaranty.

Awarded Claim in Court After Company Sale.

Harold Cusack, nephew and adopted son of the late Thomas Cusack, head of the bill board advertising company which bore his name, was yesterday awarded a $265,777 claim against the estate by the Appellate court. The action of the court came in a decision overruling a decision of Superior Judge Oscar Hebel, who denied Harold a suit for an accounting against Cusack's sons and daughters in 1928.

The suit was filed to recover Harold Cusack's share of the family's holdings in the advertising company when it was sold in 1924 to the General Outdoor Advertising company. The sale of the stock was made at the order of Thomas Cusack, who collected it from the children to whom it had previously been distributed.

Sale Brings $380,277.

Harold Cusack had 3,803 shares which brought him $380,277. The other children, Thomas Cusack Jr., Charles E. Cusack, Francis J. Cusack, Mrs. Annie M. Johnson, and Jane Evelyn Cusack, received approximately the same amount for the sale of their shares. The money from the sale was taken by Cusack to be held in trust for the children.

Received Nothing in Will.

The elder Cusack gave Harold Cusack $144,500 as part payment for his share of the sale and ordered him to make out five checks of equal amounts for the remainder to the other children. This transaction was urged by Thomas Cusack as a safeguard to prevent Harold from squandering his share. The Appellate court decision says that Harold submitted to this agreement under protest because of his foster father's dominance in family affairs.

When the father died, in 1926, Harold Cusack, a director in the advertising company, received nothing.

The claim of $235,777 was allowed, with $30,000 interest.

The time came and the youth of the Nation became its manhood in a day. All the little tasks of business with which grey haired Commerce had entrusted Youth were dropped, and toils and burdens, too great for maturity to endure, were taken up by boys who ventured whither they neither knew nor cared. And some came back and some remained. And a glory not of conquest, and not of gain, but of furtherance of right and justice shines upon America for all the world to see and to wonder and to learn. By the youth of America, living here, and by the youth of America living in the arms of God, the brow of Liberty was decorated with precious garlands indeed.

HOOVER CALLS ON SENATE TO SPEED TARIFF

But November Seems Earliest Date.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—The influence of President Hoover today was brought to bear to force enactment of the tariff bill into law by August or September. But there were developments which made it appear that the bill will not reach the statute books before November.

Unless the President forces a change in plans, congress will recess within the next ten days until about Sept. 9, on the theory that the senate finance committee will not be ready to report the bill before that date. The finance committee decided today to commence hearings on June 11 and to spend the summer overhauling the measure passed yesterday by the house.

Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], the chairman, said the committee will require until September for consideration of the hundreds of protests against the house bill.

Hoover Won't Wait Too Long.

If congress is to recess until fall, President Hoover will insist upon an understanding in the senate that the tariff bill shall be definitely disposed of in advance of the regular session, commencing in December.

Speaker Longworth and Representative John Q. Tilson [Rep., Conn.], majority leader of the house, asserted that they would not enter into any recess agreement unless final action on the tariff bill is assured before the regular session. They also made it emphatic that the farm relief bill, now deadlocked in conference, must be sent to the White House before congress recesses.

There were indications that the deadlock between house and senate conferees over the farm relief bill will be broken in time to permit approval of a conference report in both houses before the end of next week. The conferees are ready to resume sessions under a tentative understanding that the house members will consent to going ahead with miscellaneous provisions of the bill and that the senate members will then drop the debenture provision.

President Sees Senators.

President Hoover during the day conferred with a number of senate leaders, including Senator Wesley L. Jones [Rep., Wash.], assistant Republican leader, and Senator J. T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], minority leader. The following statement was issued at the White House on behalf of the President:

"The President has been in conference from time to time with the Republican leaders of the senate and the house upon the progress of the session. These discussions have all been directed upon both sides to the completion of the legislation for which the extra session was called. No program as to the length of the recess on the tariff bill has yet been determined upon or recommended by the leaders. They are all firm for the completion of the legislation this session."

Senator Jones denied reports that the President was favorable to the plan for an all-summer recess and final passage of the tariff bill in November.

"I am not quoting the President, but I am satisfied that such an arrangement is not only not agreeable to him but that it would be contrary to his desire," said Senator Jones. "It is my judgment that he would probably be satisfied if the tariff bill should be disposed of some time in September, although he would like it done much sooner. Any action which would lead to delay longer than that would be contrary to his wishes, and the responsibility for it would be solely the responsibility of congress."

Senator Jones, asserting that consideration of a tariff bill holds up business throughout the country, said that the finance committee ought to report the bill within two or three weeks and that it should be passed by the senate by the middle of August, but Senator Smoot insisted that program was impossible.

Plummerroy Smyers, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell; John Bajora and Joseph Sones, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in the Bridewell; Robert Butler, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in Pontiac reformatory by Judge William J. Lindsay.

John Mosley and John Ringsey, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in Pontiac reformatory; John R. McNamemey, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Frank Campioni, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Raymond Bibeau, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Louis Trent, confidence game, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Edgar Williams, assault to murder, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary; Rollin Offerins, receiving stolen property, sentenced to 1 year in the county jail by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Walter Jordan, robbery [habitual], sentenced to life in the penitentiary by Judge Jacob Hopkins.

John Samon, rape, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Thomas Taylor.

Assistant State's Attorney Thomas H. Slusser, the last of the appointees of Frank J. Loesch to be connected with the sanitary district investigation which resulted last month in the indictments of Timothy J. Crowe, former president, and six of the present trustees, had his resignation as a prosecutor accepted and announced yesterday by State's Attorney John A. Swanson. Publicly both the prosecutor and his now former assistant denied any dissension.

The criminal end of the sanitary investigation has now been practically taken from the hands of Mr. Loesch and placed in control of Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup. Attorney Loesch is in Washington attending a session of the crime commission appointed by President Hoover.

Started by David Stansbury.

The sanitary district investigation started out in charge of Special Prosecutor David Stansbury. He soon relinquished the inquiry in favor of Attorney Slusser and has been devoting himself under the direction of Mr. Loesch to an attack in the civil courts on the trustees now on the board.

Attorney John Elliott Byrne assisted in procuring the present series of indictments and within a week after the return of the documents by the grand jury his resignation was announced.

Disagree on Tactics.

It has been common gossip in the criminal courts that the special Loesch staff and that of Swanson have not agreed on prosecution tactics. Attorney Slusser has contended throughout that it would be much more satisfactory to bring the trustees before a jury of taxpayers for the squandering of public money for whoopee parties. He said that to charge fraud on contracts would only be to allow the defense at the trial to bring in experts to confuse the jury.

ROBBERS CAUGHT AS VICTIM LEAPS OUT OF WINDOW

Jumping from a window while two robbers were holding up his home, William Hudson, 27 years old, 517 South Aberdeen street, notified police in time last night for them to catch John Dooley, 30 years old, and Sol Cardinella, 25 years old, whom Hudson and Mrs. Florence Malone, his landlady, identified. The men were armed and had in their possession two diamond rings taken from Mrs. Malone when arrested by police from Commissioner Ira J. McDowell's office. Hudson told the police that Cardinella fired three times at him as he fled.

BOARD WRANGLES OVER NEED FOR 21 JAIL GUARDS

County 'Extravagance' Hit by Gibson.

Sheriff John E. Traeger's request for 21 additional guards at the county jail was vigorously supported yesterday before the county board by Commissioner John W. Gibson, who attacked the board's extravagance in other matters, while remaining apathetic to the jail's need. Vote on the question was deferred until the finance committee submits a report next week.

Cites Heavy Expenditures.

Commissioner Gibson introduced a resolution urging the passing of an appropriation for the additional guards. He declared that additional help is necessary to prevent possible escapes. County Efficiency Expert J. L. Jacobs countered by asserting that only 15 men are needed and advocating a "conservative" policy.

"Conservative?" Gibson exclaimed. "You double the salary of the forest preserve superintendent, vote $35,000 to pay five architects and engineers, spend thousands on swimming pools; and find money to pay for extra bailiffs. Do you call that conservative? And yet you can't find money to pay jail guards so a thousand prisoners can be properly guarded."

Attacks Staff's Efficiency.

President Antone J. Cermak pointed out that the county has no funds which can be transferred for the purpose. He held that an appropriation might be legally attacked if it is granted after the passage of the annual budget. He said he would seek a legal opinion to determine whether the unspent portion of the $7,500,000 bond issue for the new jail and Criminal court building may be diverted to pay for the additional help.

The commissioners wrangled over the efficiency of the jail staff. Commissioner Harry A. Newby criticized Sheriff Traeger for filling positions with political appointees. President Cermak answered by declaring that the men were working hard.

HOLDS WIFE AND 2 OTHERS FOR PLOT TO MURDER MATE

Detroit Woman Must Stand Trial.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Grace M. Wood, William Thompson and Taylor Pierce late today were held for trial in Circuit court on charges of assault with intent to kill and murder.

The trio, charged with plotting the death of Mrs. Wood's husband, were ordered to stand trial by Justice Leonard L. Schemanske.

Husband Is Witness.

Wood was a witness at the examination of his wife on a charge of plotting a mysterious attempt upon his life the night of Jan. 9, an attempt of which he said he was warned in advance. Fourteen officers of the law, several of Wood's friends, and three men, said to have been hired by Mrs. Wood to kill her husband, figured in the shooting affray at Wood's real estate office, when the alleged plotters were ambushed.

Admits Prison Term.

Ambrose L. Hagerty was killed in the affray. Wood admitted that he had fired at Hagerty, but was unable to say how many shots he had fired or where they struck their target.

In direct contradiction to answers previously given under cross-examination, Wood admitted on the stand that he lost his left arm while he was serving a sentence for burglary in the Idaho state reformatory at St. Anthony's, and that he was known there as Robert Benton.

Mrs. Wood Sobs.

Wood was called to the stand after the cross-examination of Holt, the first witness was concluded. It was Holt who tipped off to Wood the alleged plot to kill Wood. Holt had posed as one of the killers and rode to Wyandotte with the alleged gunmen.

Mrs. Wood, who looked tired and wan as she entered the courtroom this afternoon, sobbed when the justice announced is decision. Her bond was set at $50,000 and that of the two men at $10,000 each.

CITY'S 5,000 BOY SOLDIERS MARCH IN GRAND REVIEW

Chicago's contribution to the future backbone of the national defense—5,000 members of the R. O. T. C. from twenty of the city's high schools—met in competitive drill yesterday on Stagg field at the University of Chicago. Regular army men looked on as judges and admired the military bearing of the corps

Unit by unit the student officers put their troops through the company drills. The young soldiers, backs straight, cheeks flushed, and eyes shining, went through the movements with the precision—almost—of prideful West Pointers. The army officers who were judges of the contests had to watch the drills closely, they said, to make their decisions.

Nation's Future Officers.

It was the eleventh annual military day in the schools and the youthful army was one, the army men present said, which in a few years will mean just so many men ready to become officers in the event of a national emergency.

Each school unit marched onto the field to the music of its military band, and these bands were placed in competition also. There were three principal competitions, the band contest, competitive company drill, and behavior on review.

Lake View High school won the class 3 band contest, that for bands of more than sixty members. Lindblom High was second; Tilden, third; and Senn, fourth. Among the schools having bands in size up to 45 men, Morgan Park High school was first, Bowen, second; and Roosevelt, third. In the class of bands having 45 to 59 men Hyde Park was the winner. Lane and Harrison placed second and third.

Austin Wins Drill Contest.

Austin High school won the company competitive drill, with Senn and Lake View second and third. In the class B contest, for schools having less than two battalions, Harrison High school was first; Waller, second; and Fenger, third.

But the review by Maj. Gen. Frank L. Parker, commandant of the sixth corps area of the army, Maj. Frank Beals, for twelve years in charge of military training in Chicago's schools, and a group of other officers, was the main event. This was won by Austin High school with a score of 93.1. Senn, with a score of 93, came next, and Lane, with 87.4 points, was third.

The review was a competition in which the young soldiers could really show their mettle and their pride, and they did it.

Twenty units, headed by twenty bands playing martial music, came one by one from the adjacent streets, marched one by one with swinging step into Stagg field through the gate on University avenue. Their colors flying in the brilliant sunshine, their officers' youthful voices shouting commands, the eager boy soldiers strode along.

True American Soldiers.

Young gentlemen all, with the bearing and the poise of the soldier and scholar, with stern young chins and something of a swagger. Just like American officers and American doughboys and cannoneers and leathernecks, as one army officer remarked, and that seemed to express it.

"Is this thing a growing movement?" Maj. Beals was asked. And he replied: "O, yes, we turn from 600 to 1,200 boys down every semester."

"Why do you have to turn them down?"

"Lack of appropriations," the major said crisply. "To train more men we must have a larger personnel of officers. Also, we must have more rifles and uniforms—a lot of things."

The high schools which competed and the number of men in their respective units are:

Tech	650	Tilden	300
Lane Tech	650	Hyde Park	525
Austin	400	Calumet	200
Lake View	400	Lindblom	175
Roosevelt	400	Harrison	175
Senn	400	Morg'n Pk.	175
Schurz	300	Bowen	150
Englewood	150
Fenger	150
Marshall	150
McKinley	100
Phillips	100
Waller	100

Maj. Gen. Parker expressed himself as well satisfied with the youthful soldiers.

"They are a source of pride and of comfort to the older generation in the United States army," he said, as he watched them marching steadily past.

MEDIEVAL GLORY MARKS ENGLISH DUKE'S BIRTHDAY

Huge Bonfire Lights Up Countryside.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 29.—One of the biggest bonfires ever seen in England was touched off today by Bernard Marmaduke Fits Alan-Howard, duke of Norfolk, premier duke and earl of England, on the occasion of his coming of age today.

The present duke is the sixteenth to bear the title and comes from one of England's oldest families who have never submitted to the Reformation. A curious result is that the duke has the right to name five clergymen in five parishes but he cannot exercise this right because he is not a member of the Church of England.

The monster bonfire for the 21 year old duke was lighted tonight and has been building for an entire week on the top of Bury hill, from which the flames will be seen in three counties. Thirty feet across and fifty feet high the tremendous beacon burned for hours.

Feasting will be continued during an entire week, all the inhabitants of the nearby districts partaking of the hospitality of the ducal family. The estates are covered with booths offering free spectacles, such as conjuring, ventriloquism, marionette shows and all comers get free refreshment in truly lavish and medieval style.

The great stores of family gold and silver plate are being brought out for a great banquet in the baron's hall of Arundel castle, the duke's chief residence. The last time a duke of Norfolk celebrated his coming of age was 61 years ago.

GROCERY STORE BOMBED; POLICE HUNT FOR MOTIVE

A bomb explosion which blew out two windows and the door of the Pioneer Wholesale Grocery company, 956 West Randolph street, last night was being investigated by the Desplaines police. The company is owned by Morris Evans, 1729 Humboldt boulevard; Joseph Katz, 1134 Columbia avenue, and Harry Cohn, 1443 Winnemac avenue. They denied knowing any reason for the attack. The damage was estimated at $300.

Residents of a three story apartment house at 812 West Garfield boulevard were shaken early this morning by a bomb which exploded in the doorway of the building, causing $200 damage. Windows in the Rose Marie dress shop adjoining were blown out. The building is owned by Robert Fahey. He said he believed the bomb was intended for some one else.

$10 Taxi Robber Gets Life Under Habitual Felon Law

The habitual criminal act was enforced yesterday for Walter Jordon, colored, 27 years old, who robbed a taxicab driver of $10. He was found guilty by a jury in Judge Jacob Hopkins' court and under the indictment will have to serve a life sentence. Several years ago he was convicted of a $3 robbery.

YANKEE THWARTS CANADA RUM LAW BY HIRING HOTEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., May 29.—Casa Loma, a twentieth century millionaire's interpretation of feudal magnificence, has solved the problem of thirsty American visitors who want to dine and wine their friends.

The huge medieval pile which broke its builder, Sir Henry Pellatt, and failed to flourish when turned into an exclusive hotel in the heart of Toronto's most exclusive residential district, is available to any tourist who wants to entertain his friends by the hundreds.

Is Long Sought Loophole.

Austin Lidbury, president and manager of the Oldbury Electro-Chemical company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., made the discovery tonight which already is hailed as the long sought loophole to the clause of the Ontario liquor control act, which prevents serving wine, beer, or hard liquor at public dinners or in a public place.

Mr. Lidbury rented Casa Loma for a week. It became his Toronto residence, his castle in fact as well as under the law. He is here with the convention of the American Electro-Chemical association. To his Toronto residence he invited the 300 delegates and, untrammeled by restrictions applying to hotels, the unbounded hospitality of a private house overflowed and gurgled.

More Conventions to Follow Suit.

What Mr. Lidbury did other conventions are already planning to do. Casa Loma is a private home. Its cellar can be stocked with every known variety of liquor. Its frowning towers, huge halls and immense drawing rooms provide ample accommodation for even the largest convention on pleasure bent, and, provided it is leased by an individual, it can be a legal beer garden under the control act.

Scores of conventions that otherwise have no interest in Canada are being driven to Toronto by the Volstead act. The Casa Loma discovery will make it possible for the first time to quench legally en masse the thirst of all the delegates.

County Sells $6,000,000 in Notes Under New Scheme

The county board yesterday awarded to the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company $6,000,000 in notes under the plan recently authorized by the state legislature to substitute the notes for tax anticipation warrants. The bid was $5,949,000. The new notes, $5,000,000 for corporate purposes and $1,000,000 for highway improvements, are against the 1930 tax collections.

DOODY'S BROTHER QUIZZED; DENIES HE HIDES SLAYER

Arthur Doody, brother of Willie Doody, the outlaw who shot and killed Police Chief Charles Levy of Berwyn and who is wanted for various other crimes, was quizzed last night at the detective bureau in an attempt to learn of his brother's whereabouts. Arthur is believed to have helped Willie escape, but he insisted that he hadn't seen his brother for several months and was not hiding him.

Citizens of Berwyn yesterday were subscribing to a fund for Chief Levy's widow and five young sons. Donations during the day totaled $1,400. Mayor Byron C. Thorpe explained that the villagers preferred to raise the benefit fund rather than offer a reward for Willie Doody's capture.

Funeral services for Chief Levy, to be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in Sokol hall, Berwyn, will be attended by practically the entire village, Mayor Thorpe said.

A check for $1,000 to be given to the mother of the slain Detective Raymond Martin was sent yesterday to Deputy Police Commissioner Stege. It came from Philip Blumenthal, 5322 West Adams street, former bootlegger, whose kidnaping Martin was investigating when he was killed. Doody is also wanted in connection with the Martin slaying.

"I regret that I cannot give more," Blumenthal wrote. "I will always consider it a privilege if I can be of any service to Martin's mother and his children and I will never forget that it was in protecting my life that he came to his death."

The slain policeman was the father of two children.

More than a quarter of a million users and Not one has spent a single dollar for service

TWO years ago the General Electric Refrigerator was first publicly announced. It completely revolutionized the art of refrigeration.

Fifteen years of research and development had produced a refrigerator with an hermetically sealed, dust-proof mechanism, mounted on top . . . a refrigerator with improved type of cabinet, mounted on legs . . . one with an accessible temperature control . . . that established a new standard of quiet operation . . . that required no oiling . . . that dispensed with all troublesome machinery . . . that lowered operating costs . . . that carried an unqualified two-year service guarantee.

But two months ago General Electric announced the first ALL-STEEL refrigerator ever built. Now this outstanding scientific development of the times has been made available in six popular models.

The all-steel refrigerator cannot warp. It is strong—built to last. The doors, fitted by hand at the factory, retain their close fit. The new exterior baked enamel finish, smoothly white, as hard and durable as porcelain, has the added virtue that it does not check or crack.

Yet, notwithstanding these exclusive features, these new models are offered at surprisingly low prices and on our plan of convenient spaced payments. The small family model, at the factory, is priced at $215. New all-steel models in six different sizes at our display rooms invite your inspection.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour every Saturday, 8 to 9 P. M., Central Daylight Time, over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations, including W L S, Chicago.

HIS WIFE IN JAIL, HUSBAND WANTS TO BE THERE, TOO

Says He'll Plead Guilty in Vote Fraud Case.

Marco Wortman, husband of Mrs. Tina Wortman, who on Tuesday began serving a one year sentence in the county jail for vote frauds in the election of Nov. 2, 1926, yesterday asked to be sentenced to serve with his wife. Wortman declared his intention of pleading guilty to charges of fraud against him in connection with the April 19, 1928, primary in City Collector Morris Eller's bloody 20th ward.

Wortman sought County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, before whom his case is pending, to make his plea. The judge was not in court, so Wortman made his declaration to his secretary, Sidney Holzman.

Wants to Plead Guilty.

"I can't stand this," he said. "Tina is in jail and I got her the job as an election judge. I want to plead guilty and get a year's sentence so we can be in jail together. I can get some one to take care of our boy. I wish I could serve her sentence, but since I can't do that, I will go to jail with her."

Secretary Holzman advised the distracted husband to state his case to Assistant State's Attorney William Haines, who is in charge of prosecution of election law violations. Haines expressed a willingness to accommodate Wortman, suggesting that he make the plea on June 19, when the case is to be tried.

Wortman is charged with allowing floaters to vote in the 12th precinct of the 20th ward, the same precinct involved in his wife's case in 1926.

An Eller Lieutenant?

Evidence was secured by Attorneys Charles Center Case and Grover C. Hemmyer. Attorney Case named Wortman as one of Boss Eller's trusted lieutenants and an organizer in the plot to perpetrate wholesale frauds. He charged that Wortman induced his wife to commit the frauds for which she was convicted.

Mrs. Wortman was found by deputy sheriffs on Tuesday at 1655 South Homan avenue, where she had moved from her old address in the 20th ward. Search is being made for Mrs. Leona Cobins, convicted with Mrs. Wortman, and for Mrs. Frances Baroch, the third woman ordered to jail by the supreme court.

DEBATE GEORGIA PLEA TO SEIZE ESCAPED EDITOR

Extradition of Robert Elliot Burns to Georgia was yesterday taken under advisement by De Witt Billman at Springfield on behalf of Gov. Emmerson after a hearing in which Burns' attorneys, Cameron Latter and Morris I. Kaplan, raised the point that insufficient documentary evidence accompanied the papers forwarded by Gov. Hardman of Georgia. Officials of the southern state have been asked whether they desire to reply to the objection raised.

Burns took the stand in his own behalf to tell the story of his return from the war, his wanderings in Georgia, the petty robbery in which he participated and was sentenced to a chain gang, and of his escape and his new start in Chicago as editor of a booster magazine. His brother, the Rev. Vincent Burns of Palisade, N. J., also testified at length, asserting his brother was suffering from his overseas experiences, and that he had financed his own college career in preparation for the ministry.

A great sheaf of petitions and affidavits on behalf of Burns, accompanied the testimony taken, which will be submitted to Gov. Emmerson next week.

STUDENTS FIGHT POLICE; 20 HURT AND 8 ARRESTED

Providence, R. I., May 29.—(AP)—Eight students of Brown university were arrested tonight after a clash with the police. Twenty students were known to be injured and a spectator was seriously hurt. One student was shot in the wrist.

Students and police clashed after freshmen opened their annual celebration by throwing their black neckties, insignia of their first year status, into a prepared bonfire which the sophomores had prematurely ignited, thus precipitating war between the two classes.

John E. Kreps, a freshman of Cleveland, O., got a bullet in his right wrist and a three inch gash in his scalp. Sam Flora, Warren, O., varsity half back and outfielder, suffered a fractured arm and three inch laceration on his scalp.

50 MISSIONARIES TRAPPED IN NEW CHINA WAR ZONE

Escape Halted; Feng Cuts Railway.

SHANGHAI, May 29.—(AP)—The Canadian church mission representative at Kiveitch, Honan, writing from Suchowan, Anhwei, under date of May 22, said fifty foreign missionaries were unable to evacuate the area likely to be affected by the impending Chinese civil war, since Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang had destroyed the Lunghai railway. An overland trip out was being considered.

These missionaries, the letter stated, include 25 American and British at Kaifeng and six at Chengchow. He said Feng's soldiers virtually wrecked Lunghai, destroying telephone and telephone lines. They also tore up the railroad lines.

The country was said to be full of Feng's soldiers, who, however, were doing little fighting.

Women Tell of Hardships.

AMOY, China, May 29.—(AP)—Although still suffering from nervous shock, Mrs. C. H. Holleman and Mrs. Henry Poppen were able today to tell something of their thrilling experiences during the looting of the Lungyenchow mission and their escape to Amoy in Chinese clothing.

Mrs. Holleman's husband, Dr. Holleman of Springfield, S. D., was kidnaped by the Chinese, who said they needed him to treat their wounded. The refugees said 2,000 communist soldiers attacked the missionary compound of the American Reformed Presbyterian mission.

"We had risen early and were finished with breakfast," Mrs. Poppen, wife of a missonary who escaped, said. "I was teaching my son Kenneth when rifle firing began near our house and enemy troops were seen approaching. Realizing the danger, I hurried with the children to the girls' school. There was no time to collect personal effects. Mrs. Holleman with her children joined us at the school.

Chinese Fear to Give Aid.

"This location soon became precarious, as marauding troops were firing their rifles recklessly. We attempted to enter the homes of Chinese friends, but they refused, having no room for us and feeling that our presence might endanger the lives of the entire Chinese family. However, other Chinese friends gave us Chinese clothing and directed us to an empty house where we hid throughout the day. Consequently I do not know of the detailed activities of the looting troops throughout the day.

"Saturday night, May 25, cannot be fully described. It was so full of horrors, fears of bandits, near exhaustion and rain storms. Rain was pouring, lightning flashed and the thunder echoed through the mountains. We were wet to the skin and the children were crying and tired, often wading knee deep through muddy waters. How we did it I don't know."

LEWISOHN SUED BY HIS WIFE FOR LIBEL IN NOVEL

New York, May 29.—(AP)—A libel suit based on statements in his latest literary effort has been filed against Ludwig Lewisohn, American novelist living in Paris, by Mrs. Mary Arnold Lewisohn, who contends she still is his wife.

Mrs. Lewisohn, who has been separated from the novelist since 1924, but who says there never has been a divorce, asks $200,000 damages for what she contends are references to her in "Mid-Channel," a semi-autobiographical work.

The publishers, Harper & Brothers, have been named co-defendants.

DIPLOMATS MAY STOP QUENCHING CAPITAL THIRST

Dry Embassy Dinners Are Considered.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—The widespread publicity which has attended every new development of the diplomatic liquor problem during the last few months may result in the inauguration of dry dinners at certain of the capital's embassies and legations, it was disclosed here today.

It was learned that more than one diplomat is seriously considering cutting down liquor importations to the needs of members of his staff for their own use. While liquors would be served at small functions, the practice of serving cocktails, rare wines and other enticing alcoholic beverages to dry American officials at large functions may be stopped.

State department and embassy officials today refused to comment on the call made by Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, on Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson yesterday, but it was indicated that the diplomatic liquor situation was discussed. The British ambassador on several occasions recently has said that he would voluntarily stop importing liquor if requested to do so by the American government.

Although the British ambassador has imported whiskies and wines on several occasions, he has been annoyed by the publicity which has attended the transportation of the beverages from Baltimore.

On several occasions when discussing the matter with friends he has said that if the government does not want the diplomats to have liquor he would be glad to have it say so.

It is known that the British ambassador has considered reducing the amount of alcoholic beverages imported for use by members of his staff. Embassy officials today refused to say whether he will curtail the serving of wines at the larger embassy functions.

GLEN ELLYN GRADE SCHOOL HEAD OUSTED AFTER YEAR'S FIGHT

A fight of more than a year's duration in the Glen Ellyn school system has culminated in the ousting of R. D. Bowden, grade superintendent, and his replacement by S. A. Denison, superintendent of schools at Pontiac. Unless friends of Mr. Bowden are successful in an effort to reinstate him Mr. Denison will succeed to the superintendency with the opening of the new term in September.

Dr. George Ensminger, health commissioner, and Mr. Bowden disagreed last fall over the health commissioner's order closing the schools during a threatened flu epidemic. During the controversy Mr. Bowden, in a letter addressed to James H. Slawson, president of the village board, was said to have called Dr. Ensminger a "stool pigeon." Mr. Bowden was also accused by Benjamin F. March, president of the school board, of influencing teachers in their voting at the annual school board election last April.

Petitions carrying nearly 700 signatures have been presented to the school board asking for the reinstatement of Mr. Bowden.

RIVAL WOMEN'S CLUBS TO UNITE TO FIGHT DRYS

Party Lines Forgotten as Attack Is Launched.

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Members of the Women's National Republican club, which Mrs. Charles Sabin helped to found, and of the Women's National Democratic club, its political rival, will rally to the support of the new feminine organization to fight the prohibition amendment now being formed in Chicago, it was learned today.

The Republican club itself cannot take a definite stand on the question, however, until after a board meeting next autumn, according to Miss Maude Wetmore, president, herself an anti-prohibitionist. She said the association never has voted to work for or against the eighteenth amendment, although a poll of 35 states some time ago showed its members are 9 to 1 in favor of modification.

Mrs. Lillian R. Sire, president of the Democratic women's organization, said the members of her club are wholeheartedly for modification and will be glad to work with the Republican women to bring this about.

"We've had too much of a lesson here in New York to favor prohibition," she declared. "Our women are in favor of light wines and beers, sold under regulations."

Mrs. Sire said that if she is invited she will be glad to join the association now coming into being in Chicago, where representatives from twenty-eight states today were making plans to counteract the influence of the W. C. T. U.

Many of Mrs. Sabin's friends in the Republican club already have indicated that they will support her in the new anti-prohibition organization.

"I know many of our women agree with Mrs. Sabin in her fight," said Miss Wetmore. "I do myself, and certainly shall join her association. Prohibition is not doing what it is supposed to, and women are tired of what is going on. There's no use fooling ourselves."

Miss Wetmore, who comes from Providence, thinks feminine sentiment in Rhode Island is largely for modification of the amendment.

OIL SEEPAGE INTO HOSPITAL HALTED; PERMIT IS O. K.'D

Issuance of a permit to open the new Passavant hospital was recommended by First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen yesterday after a conference with officials of the Yellow Cab company, the hospital, which is attached to Northwestern university, and city officials in charge of inspection of new buildings. The permit has been withheld pending the investigation of a fire hazard existing because of the seepage of oil and gasoline into the basement of the structure.

The seepage was traced by city inspectors to the garage of the cab company, directly in the rear of the hospital. At the order of the health, building, and fire departments, the leaks in underground tanks have been plugged, and the gasoline drained from the hospital basement.

Follow These Simple Rules:

1. Every week-day for 42 consecutive days (not including Sundays), the Chicago Tribune will print a "Who's Who?" Crossword Puzzle. Each puzzle will contain the name of a famous person whose picture appears in it. You are invited to solve the puzzles and name the persons.
2. The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000.00 in Cash Prizes to those who send in the nearest correctly solved complete sets of puzzles in accordance with these rules. Note: This means that you do not necessarily have to solve each of the 42 puzzles completely to win. The prizes will be paid to those whose entries rank highest.
3. The prizes are as follows:

1st Prize		$1,000.00
2nd Prize		500.00
3rd Prize		250.00
Next 2 Prizes,	$100 each	200.00
Next 5 Prizes,	50 each	250.00
Next 10 Prizes,	25 each	250.00
Next 100 Prizes,	10 each	1,000.00
Next 310 Prizes,	5 each	1,550.00
430 Prizes Totaling		$5,000.00

4. This offer is open to everyone—men, women, boys and girls—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.
5. Puzzles are to be submitted only in complete sets. Do NOT send in each puzzle separately. Hold all puzzles until you have the complete set of 42. Then send them to "Crosswords," Chicago Tribune Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. All entries must be in by midnight, 15 days after Puzzle No. 42 has been printed.
6. Each entry must be sent by first class mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Post Office Department. No entries will be returned. With each entry a letter must be sent giving your name and address and telling in 50 words or less which of the 42 famous persons you consider the greatest and why. Contestants may submit as many sets of puzzles as they wish, but no contestant will be entitled to more than one prize.
7. You need not buy the Chicago Tribune to compete. You may copy or trace the puzzles and send them in. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its Offices or at Public Libraries free of charge.
8. The judges will be appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be paid to each tying contestant.

THE NEXT PUZZLE WILL APPEAR IN TOMORROW'S TRIBUNE

THERE'S ROSEMARY, THAT'S FOR REMEMBRANCE, AND CLUSTERS OF HEARTSEASE

As the thinning ranks of those who fought our country's battles gather to revere the memory of the eternally mustered out, it is fitting that the nation should turn from toil and play to pay homage to all those who made and preserved our homeland.

And surely the brave dead for whom this day was designated would count it ill against us if we did not also remember all the loved and lost whose lives touched ours.

So let the flowers fall softly today on grave and tomb, and in the garlands which mark their resting places, let there be rosemary, "that's for remembrance" and close beside it clusters of heartsease.

NOW THAT THE TRACTION BILLS HAVE BEEN PASSED.

The enactment of the traction enabling legislation at Springfield is not the end but the beginning. Of themselves the bills accomplish nothing toward the modernization of Chicago's transportation. They do not dig a foot of subway or lay a pound of rails or buy a single additional car. All they offer is a legal basis for a settlement between the car companies and the city, a settlement which, it is hoped, will bring about a vast improvement in transportation service.

The task of negotiating a contract ordinance with the owners of the properties now devolves upon the city council. The task is a difficult one, though it has been simplified to some extent by the lengthy negotiations between the city and the companies which preceded the agreement upon desired legislation. The responsibility of defending the rights of the farepayers and assuring them the swift, clean, and comfortable transportation which they desire rests with the city council and in particular with its local transportation committee.

THE COUNCIL AND THE BRIDGE PROBLEM.

The city council is still busy protesting the indignity to the public of the bridge opening nuisance. As the indignation of the aldermen increases, more and more drastic measures to protect the citizens are conceived, only to be discarded for still more severe conceptions. Nothing, however, has been accomplished.

If the aldermen deliberately were acting as agents for the Sandmaster and the other river craft, for which the bridges are raised against thousands of motorists, pedestrians, and passengers, they would use their present methods. The war department must approve any ordinance which the city council enacts. Consequently, if the council can be induced to pass measures confiscatory to the river boats, the government will dissent; the public will get nothing, and the operators of small river boats will receive government sanction for their unsocial practices.

If the city council is sincere in its efforts to get relief for the public, the proper method is to pass a bridge ordinance the reasonableness of which will be likely to attract the government authorities. Some compromise must be made at this time. A drastic ordinance is just what the Sandmaster wants, for, with such a measure doomed by the government, the river craft are protected, at least temporarily, in the abuse of their privileges. The public will be grateful for only a partial correction of the bridge problem. Complete relief now is not possible. Any attempt to get it will harm the legitimate and urgent case for the Chicago public.

ANTI-PROHIBITION MATTER.

W. J. Beuklenberg of Chicago writes as follows: "The writer wishes to draw to your attention the attached article directed to the readers of THE TRIBUNE, which will no doubt interest you. Have you any criticisms to make? If so, would you kindly have same published in the Voice of the People column? Some of my friends think my letter will be ignored."

The attached article is a statement of the foot rule activities of some citizen who has measured space given in THE TRIBUNE to "anti-prohibition matter." Anti-prohibition matter is any account of a dry congressman letting his baggage leak, of prohibition murder, of corruption, house breaking and machine gunning. It is any account of the killing of women, the entrapment of bell boys, the drinking habits of prohibition legislators, the political turpitude of dry leaders, the coercive bigotry of vinegar minded zealots, the life imprisonment of pint buyers and the immunity of dry killers. Anti-prohibition matter is any printing of the opinions of eminent lawyers and intelligent clergymen against unwise legislation, law violation in law enforcement and political action by organized religion. It is any reference to the nullification of other amendments than the eighteenth and to violation of other laws than that of Volstead.

When the prohibition murders cease it will be possible to reduce the amount of newspaper space given to prohibition. Still other reductions will be possible when dry law makers vote as they drink, when they cease bringing in their relatives' liquor supplies with their freedom of the port, when they can keep themselves and their families as sober as prohibitionists ought to be, when enforcement agents no longer turn machine guns on innocent citizens, when superintendents of the Anti-Saloon league respect the laws and courts enough to keep out of jail, and when prohibitionists reveal that they have some knowledge of the basic principles of American government and some regard for them.

THE SICK MAN IS WELL.

An English polemic writing to make the British voters madder says he never met an intelligent American who defended his country's debt procedure and few who were not frankly ashamed and humiliated by that action. The gentleman's statement would be truer if shorter. He has never met an intelligent American. Unquestionably he has met the other kind.

Mr. Baldwin and his government may be defeated on the debt issue. If that is plainly the reason it may leave some embarrassment for his successor. The United States took a settlement on the ability to pay. On this basis about twenty-five per cent of the British account was shaved off. The other nations got much better bargains. America did not try to make itself their preferred creditor. Great Britain was given that place. Their obligations elsewhere were considered in their ability to pay. If Great Britain had insisted upon another view of British resources it might have had an easier bargain. Whether it was a regard for national pride or veracity the bargain stood as it did.

When the debts were contracted the debtors were in extremity. They now rule the world which was then in dispute. The sick man is well. He hates all the expenses of his illness. The whole business is getting to be a bit dirty and the disadvantages of yielding to the importunities of nations in trouble are made extraordinarily plain. The tune is changed when the trouble is over and the profits of victory have been taken.

THE EMPYREAN CITIZEN, COMRADE OF THE STARS.

Mrs. Rozika Schwimmer is not eligible to United States citizenship. The United States Supreme court has handed down an opinion holding that she is disqualified by her doctrines. Mrs. Schwimmer in the hearing on her petition before Judge Carpenter in Chicago said: "I have no sense of nationalism and only a cosmic consciousness of belonging to the human race." Judge Carpenter ruled that she was not eligible for citizenship. The Circuit Court of Appeals reversed him. The majority opinion of the Supreme court sustained him.

Many other ideas were expressed by Mrs. Schwimmer and entered into the consideration of her petition. They might be important or unimportant and they might lead into the interesting discussion which Mr. Justice Holmes conducted in giving a dissenting opinion, but when an applicant for the distinctive privileges of a nation avows no consciousness of nationality the application becomes an absurdity. It can be dismissed and denied with the simple inquiry of why it was made at all. Mme. Schwimmer should be satisfied with a cosmic consciousness. She does not know what nationality is. She does not want it. She shouldn't have it. So far as the United States is concerned she hasn't it. If she can shed that which she had by birth, Hungarian nationality, she is cosmically free and should be glad.

She is a resident of the United States. She has the protection of its laws. In her ordinary comings and goings she is not discriminated against. The price of pork chops is the same to her as to any other resident. On the other hand the secretary of state will not address his brothers in Europe asking them to be nice to her if she goes abroad. She may be deported, for cause, but the United States seldom deports anybody. She cannot vote and being a pacifist she won't fight, except controversially, and being a woman she couldn't be conscripted if she were a citizen.

Things, it might be said, have fallen out very nicely for a cosmic lady. Being a true radical it was natural that she should want something she abhors. The investment of an alien with the birthright of a native entails in the case of the alien, as the birthright does in the case of the native, certain responsibilities. There is nothing cosmic about citizenship. It is particular and distinctive. It contains privileges. It requires loyalties. It can be conferred and it can be revoked. The person incapable of the special loyalties it requires can get along without it. A person who disowns the loyalties should do so.

A lady with cosmic consciousness should be glad to make any of the small sacrifices, if there be such required of a time-space allegiance, to enjoy the full sense of empyrean citizenship.

Editorial of the Day

A WILDERNESS SANCTUARY.

[New York Evening Post.]

To set aside an area of lake and forest four times the size of Yellowstone National park lying in the heart of the continent among the border lakes of Minnesota and Ontario—this is the aim of an international organization composed of conservationists of this country and Canada.

The area which has aroused their interest covers 14,500 square miles and is drained by Rainy lake. It contains the last considerable pine forest of the middle west and has scenic and historical values which it would be a pity to see sacrificed. But they will be sacrificed unless somebody steps in. There is danger from fire, flood, slaughter of game, and logging so indiscriminately managed as to increase the fire hazard, injure scenic effects, and prevent natural forest reproduction.

It is not proposed to stop all industrial activity in the area. On the contrary, the organization will promote the maximum production of forest and related crops while safeguarding the waterfalls, the rapids, the islands, and the wooded shores by establishing a wilderness sanctuary.

To attain this twofold aim a treaty between the United States and Canada is necessary, a treaty embodying these provisions: [1] that parklike conditions, free from logging, flooding, draining, and all other forms of exploitation be established and maintained on all visible shores of lakes, rivers, and islands under public control; [2] that all the hinterlands not visible from the waterways be administered under modern forest practices for the continuous production of a maximum timber supply; [3] that all game, fish, fur bearers, and other wild life be developed for maximum production and use; [4] that these ends be pursued under the guidance and direction of an international board representing forest, park, and biological authorities from both countries.

It is heartening to know that an organization like the Quetico-Superior council is in existence and at work. Its efforts on behalf of the proposed treaty deserve enthusiastic support.

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

YELLOW JACK ON THE RUN.

SOME recent research may supply a means of final eradication of yellow fever. Several years ago we had enough information to control yellow fever in this country, but the eradication of the disease in Brazil and in tropical Africa was another matter. With us the disease almost confined itself to cities and towns. In Brazil and South Africa it is a rural disease. Fighting it in the cities even worked all right in mountainous Ecuador. Something more was required in the marshy jungles of eastern Brazil and the wild stretches of Africa. Since not even American cities would be wholly and permanently safe until yellow fever was taken in hand in its natural home, the Rockefeller institute and various other scientific organizations in this country, in Europe, and in South America have followed it to its lair. A year or two ago these investigators reported that the Noguchi organism was not responsible for yellow fever. This organism could be found here and there in nature but not in the bodies of persons who had died with yellow fever. Furthermore, it was found that guinea pigs did not harbor the disease and could not be infected with it. So much on the negative side. Now for the positive.

It was found that at least two kinds of monkeys could be inoculated with yellow fever. They can be inoculated either by injection or by means of infected mosquitoes. After inoculation the monkeys have symptoms of yellow fever that are practically the same as yellow fever in men. At autopsy the changes in the organs of these infected monkeys are exactly those of yellow fever in the human subject. Since at least one of these monkey tribes is fairly inexpensive, since they are frequently kept in captivity and since they are easy to keep, this discovery makes possible a positive diagnosis of yellow fever. Some of the old battles over the diagnosis of suspected cases did not reflect any credit on my profession or on anybody else. But the matter promises not to stop there. A British scientist has prepared a vaccine which he feels certain will protect against yellow fever. A Brazilian, Dr. Aragao, has made an improvement on this vaccine. Both have had some practical experience in vaccinating against yellow fever. If these observations are verified by others we will be ready for the next step.

A point of some practical importance is the use of this method for testing supposed immunes to determine whether they are in danger of contracting the disease. More than one person has volunteered for service in epidemics, thinking himself immune, only to die of the disease.

The next step in the march of practical progress will be to find some large, cheap animal such as the horse, capable of reacting to yellow fever and thus of supplying the vaccine.

And then the next step will be to catch the wild African and the Brazilian bush dweller and vaccinate.

SOMETIMES THEY DO SO.

Betty F. writes:

1. Can diseased tonsils keep a person from gaining weight?
2. Is olive oil, taken four times a day, fattening?
3. What is good for brittle fingernails?

REPLY.

1. Yes, and they frequently do.
2. Yes, if you drink it freely.
3. Living in moist air is the best cure. This condition disappears when we get out of doors in summer.

JEWELRY AND LOCKJAW.

Miss F. H. writes: When I wear jewelry with metal on it my skin turns black. Is this a sign of too much acid in my system? What could I do to remedy it?

REPLY.

This is the result of sulphides on the surface of your skin. Sulphides develop from decomposing grease, skin, cells and sweat. The tub's the remedy.

DANDELION GREENS' VALUE.

W. J. H. writes: Can dandelions be eaten without any injurious effect? What food values do they contain?

REPLY.

Yes.

Dandelion greens have about the same food value as other greens.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

WIVES NOT SUBJECT TO QUOTA.

Chicago, May 25. — [Friend of the People.] — An American born citizen wishes to marry a native of Poland who is still there. Can she enter the United States without the quota? How long can she remain before marrying? How shall he proceed? M. S.

Wives of American citizens may enter the United States for permanent residence regardless of numerical limitations. After marriage abroad the husband may execute form 633, petition for issuance of immigration visa, in behalf of his wife, after presenting proof of marriage and of citizenship to the American consul.

The department of state through its consuls abroad has complete jurisdiction of the issuance of all immigration visas and, for that reason no assistance can be rendered by this office at this time.

S. D. SMITH,
District Director of Immigration.

YEAR FOR PROBATE.

Melrose Park, Ill., May 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A will made in Missouri disposes of properties in several states. How long before the administrator should give heirs an accounting?

A. T. P.

Ordinarily about a year after the will is admitted to probate.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PETTY ANNOYANCES.

Chicago, May 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—The people to the east of us have been making a practice of throwing apple cores, cigaret butts, and other refuse out of their windows and into our aisle on the east side of our home. Several times I have seen such refuse come from the second story of that house, but not wishing to start an argument I said nothing. Can anything be done about this? Mrs. C. E.

You would be entitled to recover such damages as you could prove in an action at law. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

RAIN.

Rain on a country hill;
Rain on a horse's shining flank;
Rain on a robin's bill.

Raindrop tears on a lover's face,
Saying a last good-by;
Raindrop stars in a soldier's eyes,
Staggering on—to die!

Rain on umbrellas round and sleek;
Rain on lilacs cool;
Rain on an airplane's gleaming wings;
Rain in a dooryard pool.

Raindrops caught in a baby's curls,
Trembling and golden there;
Raindrop robes that a little lass
Thinks an elf might wear.

Rain on a great cathedral's dome;
Rain in a cup of moss;
Rain on a statue's passive hands;
Rain on a wooden cross.

Raindrops held in a woman's hands,
Tenderly rosy then;
Raindrops shed like a blessing pure,
Washing the hearts of men.

DOROTHY AGARD.

Now, Why Bring That Up?

Yes, it was hot yesterday! So hot that one couldn't help thinking about standing on the deck of an outward bound steamer looking for a whale or an iceberg and wondering if the flower-strewn fields around old Ely were as beautiful this year as they were last time. And if the gorse was all golden on the moors around Dunkery Beacon, and if the poppies were all scarlet in the Garden of Sleep up in Norfolk. And, also, why it takes that silly old deck steward so long to come back with a whisky and soda. Yeah, it's hard to keep one's mind on one's work these hot days.

Or You Can Have "Frank on the Lower Mississippi."

Fanny Lady Co-Edna writes us that at her college, Lake Forest, there is a band of unterrified females who just dote on contraband—such as the English edition of All Quiet on the Western Front—and will we please send her our copy instead of burying it in the alley. No, Fanny Co-Edna, some of the government purity sleuths might stage a raid on your dwelling, and if they caught you with such a book they would probably shoot you in the neck. No, dearie, you read the American edition of All Quiet on the Western Front—or you can have Elsie Dinsmore on the Farm, if you'd rather. Enjoy yourself, dearie, enjoy yourself.

Remembah—the Big Show—Next Sunday—One Night Only!

Because finally we've succeeded by dint of saintly patience and gentle pleading (Ben McCanna, please write) in having our Air Line hour moved up most considerable, we feel we must mention it several times so that you won't miss the boat next Sunday night. The Air Line next Sunday (June 2) begins sharp at 8:45 p. m. and snaps out at 9:15. (But, by gravy, we're going to demand time out for police calls.) That's Chicago Daylight Saving time. Where you do not save your daylight it will be Central Standard time, 7:45 to 8:15. That's certainly early enough. Even in Warsaw, Ind., where Marjorie F. W. will be waiting to hear the music that Ed Moore has embroidered around "When I Have Ceased to Dream," they don't go to bed 'til 9 o'clock. The song, "When I Have Ceased to Dream," which will be given next Sunday night for the first time on any stage, is so very new that Marjorie F. W. herself (and she wrote the poem which appeared in the Line under the title "Triolet") has not yet heard the music. Even this col. con. hasn't heard it. Nobody's heard it yet but old Ed Moore, who wrote it, and Hazel. And Hazel says it's very lovely. Ed himself admits it's pretty good. We shall see. Anyhow, it will be played by the Line's own unparalleled band: Gaston du Moulin, violin; Herbert Johnson at the piano; and Olda Jirousek, cello. If you want to hear something the first time it's ever done, remember the Air Line jumps off next Sunday at 8:45—Chicago Daylight Saving time.

And Nobody Would Ever Think of Looking There.

The newspapers are making a wild, frenzied hunt to locate Lindy and Anne. Pooh, we could find 'em in a minute. Naturally, they'd go to some quiet place where they wouldn't be liable to meet anybody. A place where there are no newspapers, or telegraph offices, or wireless or radio stations. A place far from the beaten path where there is only soft, sweet silence, the lowing of cows, the singing of birds, and the low, sweet bleating of the sheep. We'll bet that right this very minute they're walking 'round and 'round the courthouse down in St. Louis.

Lagniappe.

SEN. PAT HARRISON speaks up hoarsely and raucously as follows: "Hoover is about as negative a quantity as President as we have ever had." Why, Senator Harrison, we're surprised at you! Did John Adams H. ever catch a sailfish? Did Martin Van Buren ever catch a sailfish? Did James Buchanan ever catch a sailfish? Did Ulysses S. Grant ever catch a sailfish? Did Chester A. Arthur ever catch a sailfish? Negative. Whaddayamean, negative?

SOMEBODY BOUGHT him originally with the idea that he was going to be a police dog and somebody was very badly fooled." That's the first sentence of one of the best dog stories we ever read. Our attention caller called it to our attention and we'll call it to yours. It's in Harper's Monthly for June. And if you like dogs you're going to love reading about The Honorable Charlie. It's a dogoned good dog story. Sic 'em!

SOME PEOPLE just try to say the meanest things. Now, take Perion down in Indianapolis. He writes us a letter and says every school in the Big Ten is accused of paying their football players except Chicago, but that if Chicago played football they'd probably be accused, too. Perion, get the soap and water and come here. Now, open your mouth wide. Naughty, naughty!

WE NOTE by a hasty glimpse through the newspapers that Memorial day today will be observed by solemn horse racing at Washington Park track, the deeply reverential annual motor race at Indianapolis, sacred tournaments at all the golf clubs, sorrowful fishing at the Illinois and Wisconsin lakes, and baseball, tennis, and many other similar commemorative exercises.

O O O

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 30, 1864.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—The 5th corps, forming the right and right center, on the 25th advanced their lines from the immediate vicinity of the North Anna river about two miles. The right 6th corps on the 26th rested south of and along the line of the Virginia Central railroad within half a mile of the line of that road. Three divisions of the 5th and 6th corps were engaged all day in destroying the railroad track for about 10 miles, burning bridges, ties and culverts, and bending the rails. The movement across the North Anna aimed only at the destruction of the railroad, which was effectually accomplished, thus cutting off Lee's principal depot of supplies at Gordonsville.

CAIRO.—Officers from Columbus and Paducah report that the rebel Gen. Buford had within a few days made his appearance at Dukedom, 40 miles from Paducah, with from 12,000 to 15,000 men, part of Forrest's command. They have been gradually concentrating for the last week and are undoubtedly intending mischief in Kentucky.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A dispatch from Gen. Banks details the brilliant ingenuity and achievements of Col. Bailey in constructing a dam across the falls of the Red river at Alexandria for the release of Admiral Porter's gunboat fleet which was caught by low water above the falls. All the vessels safely went over the falls and through an opening in the dam. The army, in going from Alexandria to the Mississippi, had two engagements with the enemy, one at Manazona and one at Yellow Bayou, in both of which the rebels were beaten.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Gen. Sibley is in receipts of dispatches from a half breed scout written above Fort Abercrombie, in which the scout says there are 2,100 lodges of Zeten and Yankton Sioux encamped on the Missouri at the mouth of the Heart river with the avowed intention of attacking steamboats and emigrants going across the plains.

NEW YORK.—A discovery was made which may throw light on the kidnaping of Baby Marion Clark in Central park ten days ago when it was learned that on the day before the kidnaping Carrie Jones, the nurse, while in the park, met two strange young men and conversed with them for ten minutes.

CHICAGO.—The Memorial day parade today will start from Michigan avenue and 25th street at 3 o'clock, following the decoration of the soldiers' and sailors' graves in Chicago cemeteries in the morning. It is estimated 10,000 will be in the line that will be reviewed as it passes the Art institute by Maj. Gen. Anderson and staff, Gov. Tanner and staff, and Mayor Harrison and members of his cabinet. The bicycle road race from Wheeling to Garfield park will be the last event of its kind to be held on a Memorial day.

CHICAGO.—William H. Heegaard, for 20 years a wholesale cigar and tobacco dealer in Chicago, died suddenly at his home, 866 La Salle avenue, of heart disease. He was born in 1845 in Copenhagen.

MAY 30, 1919.

TORONTO.—A general strike in sympathy with the metal workers will go into effect in this city this morning. The Canadian labor war is spreading into every province of the dominion.

CHICAGO.—Charles E. Chadsey, deposed superintendent of schools, charged that there has been criminal interference with the public school system by the city administration. In a letter to State's Attorney Hoyne he asked for criminal prosecution.

WASHINGTON.—The navy department was officially advised of the departure of the seaplane NC-4 from Lisbon for Plymouth, England. The plane was reported as having passed Brest.

TAXPAYER'S LAMENT.

Elmhurst, Ill., May 24.—Yes, the people are prosperous, but the grafters, the taxeaters, are taking away their money until we poor devils who are trying to get a roof over the heads of our families are loaded down with obligations that are almost swamping us. Special assessments, besides the regular taxes, are killing us and making our little homesteads cost far beyond our ability to pay, and then when we try to unload and get some other fellow to take the load off our hands we find that no one wants to buy real estate, so we must let the speculator, the capitalist, buy in our property and charge us what he pleases when we try to redeem it and get it out of his clutches.

The public is getting resentful and delaying until the last possible minute before they cough up the cash. Special assessments for premature improvements also add to the burden, and the cost is padded until we wonder how so much money can be spent for laying sidewalks where there are no houses and which will be destroyed by the elements before the property is utilized for homes. Some day an association of taxpayers will put an expert on the job to find out how much these improvements actually cost and how much is added to line the pockets of public officials.

The delinquent tax list of Du Page county, recently published, took 64 pages of a weekly newspaper to print, making a reader wonder who was paying the bills for salaries and other expenses while the taxpayers were holding back their money in protest. Meanwhile the real estate business is dead, since no one wants to buy property with taxes that virtually are confiscatory. Seems to me it is about time that the worm turned and the sleeper woke up and got after these rascals. Let us have light on this subject and know just what we are paying for—where our money goes.

A DELINQUENT.

MALUM PROHIBITION.

Madison, Wis., May 23.—Thanks for the concession that the use of intoxicating liquors is a malum even if in the opinion of the editor only a malum prohibitum.

If the legitimacy of prohibitory laws is to be determined by Latin phrases and terms then it seems obvious that intoxicating liquors are mala per se, for intoxicating in both Latin and Greek means poisoning. Furthermore, will the editor please expound the process by which gambling, prostitution, the use of narcotics became mala per se, while the use of intoxicating liquors is merely a malum prohibitum? Words, words, words.

HOW TO MAKE STAMPS STICK.

Chicago, May 23.—Having noticed considerable comment about the nonstickable mucilage on our U. S. postage stamps, I have found a nonfailing method of making them stick to the envelope. Moistah the mucilage in the usual manner, then apply pressure. After placing the stamp on the envelope, watch the clock and after five or more minutes remove the pressure and then, should the postage stamp have refused to adhere to the envelope, obtain a small quantity of liquid or iron glue. Smear the reverse of the stamp with same and place on the envelope and the slightest pressure will affix the stamp satisfactorily and guarantee no further trouble with that stamp.

THE IOWA AFFAIR.

Chicago, May 24.—We who come from the big school in the tall corn state are pretty hot under our collars. And why not?

Iowa is thrown out of the conference by a committee which meets hurriedly, acts secretly, publishes a vague charge, and disbands in a cloud of secrecy, under an oath of silence.

In the background there is a disgruntled director of athletics, just demoted, frantically committing martyrdom. His own statement and that of the committee uphold his régime as pure and honest. And his resignation doesn't take effect until July 1! Is Iowa being punished for the crimes it may commit after July 1?

Yesterday a showdown on the facts was demanded by the faculty and alumni. Today it seems that the Iowa dismissal was just a matter of form and that the school will be reinstated at once on a promise of "being good."

The committee says "being good" means the alumni must keep their hands off athletics. Why was not Ohio dropped when Wilce was turned out by the alumni managers? Iowa's athletic fund, if there is one (and it hasn't been proved), must be discontinued. If the supposed fund were called an advertising budget or scholarship fund would it be all right?

Now that the committee seems willing to whoosh the whole matter and slide Iowa back into the conference as quietly as possible it is time that Iowa held out for the complete facts.

FOOTBALL POLITICS.

Chicago, May 23.—They talk a lot about realism and psychology at Iowa, but in a crisis [as they consider it] revert to swashbuckling romanticism.

Iowa is duped. Yet, instead of making the late Big Ten embarrassed by cheerfully accepting their lot, Iowa acts like exposed politicians. They promise a squeal back at the remaining nine. Newspapers will air 'varsity rioters. Fewer will plan homecoming trips this fall. Every school may suffer, though the once Big Ten takes Iowa back. People have started thinking.

However guilty, Iowa might have had sympathy and the nine teams nothing but spleen. Iowa need only withdraw gladly. For under the circumstances, even though urged to return with all forgiven, they might be knifed again. These nine are traitorous, it seems; but at least they blundered fearfully, they acted inhumanely, and they saw shamefully no farther than their noses. Iowa should have dropped them flat.

But by missing these surface realities Iowa was unfortunately duped, duped twice by the same offense—once by being sacrificed unfairly that some of the rest might have their own prestige upset once again by threatening to expose other teams unless reinstated. Not much good results from this crude political trick.

HOOVER'S CRIME GROUP WILL SIFT CHICAGO RACKETS

Political, Gang Hookups Face Inquiry.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Racketeering, gang wars and political alliance with crime in the big cities will be made the subject of special investigation by one of the subcommittees of the Hoover law enforcement commission, authorities said today.

Chairman George W. Wickersham revealed following today's first working session of the investigators, that the commission is considering charging a group of three of its members with the task of determining the causes for the growth of rackets, booze bangs, and political corruption in Chicago and other big cities.

There were reports that Chicago's reputation as the home of the racket and other special forms of crime would result in the appointment of a subcommittee whose sole duty would be to investigate the situation there.

Survey Task Ahead.

Today's session was devoted to a survey of the "tremendous problem" facing the ten men and one woman chosen by the President to determine the causes for lawlessness in the United States and suggest a remedy.

Within the next two days, Chairman Wickersham expects to announce the membership of the special subcommittees and the subjects which will be investigated first.

Chairman Wickersham announced that commission headquarters will be established in Washington. He also stated that he expects to spend half of his time in the capital engaged on the President's work. Other members of the board will devote at least half of their time, without pay, to the government. None of the federal judges will resign.

Prohibition to Be Studied.

Attempts to determine the importance which will be attached to abuses that have followed in the wake of the 18th amendment disclosed that the dry question will not be emphasized in the earlier stages of the inquiry.

One of the members said that while prohibition will, of course, be studied thoroughly in all its phases, it will not be accentuated.

The chairman and others asserted all criminal law will be put under the microscope. Defects in legal machinery and laws which have not been respected will be given special study, they said.

Prior to his departure for Iowa tonight former Senator William B. Kenyon, now a Circuit court judge, described the work before the commission as the biggest task this country ever has undertaken.

SERBIA FIGHTS COLONIZATION OF ALBANIA BY ITALY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, May 29.—It is reported from Athens that the Italians are already seriously beginning the colonization of Albania and this is creating tremendous uneasiness in political and military circles here.

Foreign Minister Marinkovitch before entering the government declared that good relations between Jugo-Slavia and Italy were impossible as long the the Tirana pact making Albania a protectorate of Italy existed.

Latest reports indicate that Italy is sending 40,000 workers to Albania. With Jugo-Slavia torn asunder by internal strife and under wobbling dictatorship, it is impossible for Jugo-Slavia to protest effectively to Italy about her encroachments in the Adriatic.

Benito Mussolini, the Italian premier and dictator, in his latest speech before the Italian chamber expressed himself as delighted with the end of the trial of friendship with Jugo-Slavia because "friendship between Jugo-Slavia and Italy is a lie."

Since the world war Italy has successfully penetrated the Dalmatian coast and obtained possession of Fiume despite the efforts of the late President Woodrow Wilson to give this territory to Jugo-Slavia. Then came the establishment of the ill fated Fiume Free State, which fell before the cannon of Italian gunboats. Further along the coast Italy seized Zara, presenting the peace conference in Paris with a fait accompli. The Italian penetration of Albania is now the sorest and most disquieting feature to the Jugo-Slavian foreign policy.

NATURALIZATION LAW DECRIED FOR SCHWIMMER BAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—The first of an expected flood of proposals to liberalize the naturalization law as a result of the United States Supreme court's denial of citizenship to Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, famous Hungarian pacifist and radical, was introduced in the house today by Representative Anthony J. Griffin [Dem., N. Y.].

Should Not Disqualify.

Mr. Griffin's proposal, inspired by the dissenting opinion of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, would provide "that no person mentally, morally and otherwise qualified shall be debarred from citizenship by reason of his or her religious views or philosophical opinions, with respect to the lawfulness of war as a means of settling international disputes."

The New York representative, in a statement announcing introduction of his amendment, declared that under the law "there is nothing to prevent a court from denying citizenship to a Quaker, and that this has never been done is not due to any protection in the law, but to the beneficent indulgence of the judge."

Penalizes Optimism.

"Personally," he added, "I do not see why aliens holding the views of Senator Borah and many other eminent Americans on the unlawfulness of war should be debarred from citizenship."

Pointing out that he served twelve years in the New York state militia and commanded a national guard company in the Spanish-American war, Mr. Griffin concluded: "I, therefore, cannot be charged with being a pacifist, but I am proud of my allegiance to the fundamental principles of free thought and free speech so finely expressed in Justice Holmes' splendid opinion."

Pole Hits Power Wire; Farm Hand Electrocuted

Henry Witthuhn, 40 years old, a farm hand in the employ of Supervisor Harold Kelsey of Lake county, was electrocuted yesterday afternoon when the flag pole which he was helping to erect on a subdivision at Fox River Grove, four miles west of Barrington, came in contact with a high voltage wire. Kelsey, who was also holding the pole, received a shock, but was not severely injured.

KILLER TESTIFIES RADITCH WAS TOOL OF ITALY

Charges Croat Hero Betrayed Country.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, May 29.—There was a sensation yesterday at the trial of Pendisar Racic, charged with the murder of three Croatian deputies, including Stephan Raditch, when the defendant said that he had killed Raditch because the latter was the tool of Italy and was against Jugo-Slavia.

"I was once a friend of Raditch but I acted like a soldier at war on the field of honor," he said. "I perceived that Raditch was working for the enemies of Jugo-Slavia abroad and patriotism forced me to act.

Admits Many Killings.

"I killed the enemies of Jugo-Slavia on June 20, 1928. I have frequently killed enemies of Jugo-Slavia. If those I killed for my country were lined up in a row, they would make a line from here to the very limits of the city of Belgrade. Those I killed had decided to kill me on June 20. I killed the enemies of Jugo-Slavia in self defense.

"If my life is spared now I am certain that I will even become a popular leader of the Croatians themselves. Bolshevism and fascism are cooperating in an effort to destroy Jugo-Slavia. The Serbian politicians committed treason when they surrendered me to the court. They did this in order to win the sympathies of the Croatians. If I could bring about a reconciliation between Serbia and Croatia by amputating my head at this moment I would gladly do so."

Many in Court Weep.

This declaration moved many present in the court to tears.

Dragutin Popovitch, who was denounced in a long polemic written by the Croatian hero, Raditch, before the latter's death because of Popovitch's threats to kill Raditch, declared that his remarks were not threats but warnings. He quoted from the records of the Skupschtina, or national assembly, showing that Raditch used similar expressions. Moreover, he quoted unparliamentary insults which the Croatians had for years directed against the Serbians. He concluded by disavowing any relation with Racic.

Fifteen witnesses were heard during the day. They merely testified to the fact that Racic shot the Croatians. Several testified that to their knowledge those shot and killed had revolvers in their pockets.

CHILD KILLED BY FALL.

A fractured skull sustained in a fall from the second story of his parents' home, 1619 West 76th street, on Monday, caused the death yesterday of Erwin Grunst, 3 years old.

School Employe to Retire After 30 Years of Service

William G. R. Bell, chief invoice auditor for the board of education, will retire tomorrow after thirty years' service without the loss of a single day's pay. Learning of his decision to leave the city for his farm near Allegan, Mich., where he will raise chickens and fruits, Mr. Bell's co-workers in the auditor's office yesterday presented him with a chest of tools for use on his farm.

THE UNKISSED BRIDE

By BERTA RUCK

SYNOPSIS.

Joy Bostock, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is upset by a letter from her fiancé, Geoffrey Ford, a well known novelist, asking to be released from the engagement. Preoccupied with her own troubles she fails to notice that Travers seems troubled to. Towards the end of the day he tells Joy that he has just lost a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will be forced to sell his house in Harley street.

Mr. Lorden, a tenant, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a commission in the south of France which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he should buy it. The only hitch to the plan is that they want a married doctor and he is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new practice Rex turns a deaf ear.

Joy, who has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of repaying for her and she asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. Rex is stunned by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him in need of another job, although her real reason is to have forgotten of her engagement to, another man.

The doctor broods over the change his altered circumstances will have on his young nephew and ward, Percival Arthur Fitzroy. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and enter into an agreement to marry on a strictly business basis. Immediately after the ceremony Rex, Joy, and Percival Arthur leave for the south of France.

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.

ALTOGETHER TOO BLAMELESS.

There was Joy, prepared to take life as it came from day to day. Keep the apartment book, make out the accounts, type the letters, run this amazing man, and, for the rest, she could bathe, go for walks, play tennis, meet all sorts of people. It made time fly so that Joy often forgot. It filled time up, and she did not often remember the relentless waste of this situation.

Only sometimes, at night, it came to her [like a gay tune reset with sad melodies] that here she was in this lovely place, a young girl full of health and go—who might just as well be a Simpett! What was the good of being young and nice looking with pretty clothes—when she was practically condemned to do without, for life, that for which most women desire youth, love and clothes? Much plainer girls were to have more of love. Girls whose charms could not be likened to flower petals were to—well, never mind that. It was not to think about kisses, except that it was odd once to have given them so many, whereas she now could hardly realize what it had felt like and would presently [she supposed] be able to imagine that she had ever in her life been kissed. As Geoffrey wrote, "It is the headiest wine that ever the least after taste." Better not to think. . . . Except that here she was hung up like Mahomet's coffin between two men, neither of them lovers—well, anything.

One of them had merely shattered her dream, jilted her, turned back upon all the lovely passion and devotion in her so that she had gone straight home and made, to the other man, a proposition that she could now hardly believe in herself.

The other man was just the employer who could never suck her. He took advantage of her; he showed no signs that he wasn't perfectly satisfied with the arrangement. Good. That is, she often felt herself definitely hardening against Rex Travers, not because she was in the least apt to wish him to love her [she was not; she never would be], but he must be peculiarly human, since it had not occurred to him to ask himself what lay behind the evade of that moment when she said, "Why don't you marry me?"

It did not matter now. It was all done. Travers' practice and the boy's future were assured, and he would not object to anything she did, provided it kept within the terms of her bargain, which, naturally, she would. It was a point of pride with her to make herself, at the villa newly wed, as efficient as she had been in Harley street. If she had sometimes thought of Dr. Rex's remark, "It would not be difficult to get back your freedom," she thought of it less and less. Life outside the place was becoming unreal. Joy had a queer feeling that freedom, after all this, would not bring back the things which she had once dreamed. In the meantime, there was this new, absorbing life. There was making the best of what she called "this Rex affair," and finding that it could be good enough.

Apart from Rex she enjoyed everything.

And so it was that of these three people at Mon Plaisir, the only one who was not throwing himself happily into the novelty of it all and enjoying every life was Dr. Rex Travers himself.

Rex Travers, almost immediately after he had taken up this new practice, committed the insular folly of telling himself that he had no use for love."

At all events, not for this bit of it. Not for the southern, eucalyptus-laden, dusty, palmy, frivolous, mercenary coast of pleasure, where the vertical heat-haze shook its veil over the outline of the Esterels, and caused to quiver those white cubes of the villas which look as if some giant had upset his paint-box basin over the Riviera foothills. Rex, who had been brought up under skies not actually in] the good gray nipping northern skies where sea gulls wheel above the gale, considered that this climate's soft and basking warmth was only adapted to lizards, animal and human. [For some of the fashionable visitors here were enough to make a man feel sorry he was English. Possibly some of the others made men feel sorry they were American, French, Swedish, Russian, Portuguese, or Greek.] There was no bite in this air.

Rex disliked the perpetual blue above, matching that bay of unaltering blue. Never before had this islander lived near a shore without low tide. Not high tide. He supposed the scenery was very fine; personally he found it artificial, over colored, just like a stage set. The garden was what people called lovely—but lord, all this sickly, enervating flower scent!

He first missed London, missed his club, missed his friends and colleagues, and his usual activities, very badly missed his flying week-ends, and felt bitterly exiled. He had sold his birthright for this mess of pottage. Excellent for little work; but how could he become enthusiastic about this work—almost more than visiting a collection of English tabbies with nothing but nurse ailments either imaginary or due to under exercise.

It was very galling to remember that Percival Arthur's future depended upon Joy's making himself agreeable to and having patience with such things as lentils were made of. He loathed the daily duty visits to their villa, Les Lupins, where he had to listen not only to symptoms but to well meant remarks upon what a lucky man he was.

Joy always say it must be so delightful to start your married life in such beautiful surroundings. I saw that pretty young wife of yours just now among the pines! Quite an idyll! Really, Doctor Travers, you are a most fortunate man, if I may say so. Nothing left to wish for, it seems to me. Don't you feel you are quite one of fortune's favorites?"

"Quite," said Rex Travers, and felt a fool. Lord, if he could only have given up everything, gone straight home, found something, anything else!

Only, of course, there was still and always the boy to consider.

And then, now, there was the girl, Joy,

Who was, again, of course, there was so much calculated to annoy and irritate him in small ways, at every turn.

It was impossible to help wondering what Mary made of some of the domestic arrangements. Not that it mattered, but who wants to be conscious that faithful minds are finding something funny about your married life? and he had seen Mary's well trained mask break more than once to show a gleam of amusement.

The last time it had driven him to a rather absurd action. He had picked up a comb, had knocked at Joy's bedroom door when he knew she was dressing with Mélanie in the kitchen, had walked in swiftly, and, without a glance about him, he had planted down on the glass of that dressing table an object which he knew would be promptly recognized by Mary—his own mantlepiece.

Then he moved quickly out again. When Mary found that, it might convince her that after all her master did occasionally set foot in her young lady's room.

Mary, however, was not to be allowed time to discover this evidence.

It was Joy herself who brought the thing back to him, holding it out on her palm.

"Isn't this your cigaret holder? It was on my dressing table," she told him simply and obviously unaware of any Machiavellian design that had placed it there, that Rex had no heart to inform her. "Look here, I put it in on purpose, a blind for the maids."

He had to say "O! Thank you. I suppose all my belongings will be turning up presently. It's amazing where things get to in a move," to thrust it back into his pocket, and to let the demure Mary go on thinking what she chose to think.

Chicago Honors Dead Today as Living Parade

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Three hundred and sixty-five days a year are dedicated to the living. Today is the three hundred and sixty-fifth day, and Chicago, in a civic gesture as colorful as the red, white and blue of its flags, as fragrant as the mounds of its flowers, pays tribute to its hero dead in the annual, reverent ritual of Memorial day.

This afternoon, to the ruffle of drums and the blare of bugles, with banners streaming in the wind, another army will move down Michigan boulevard in the footsteps of the country's defenders whenever they marched away to war. Those in the columns will remember the ones that didn't come back; and those on the side lines will cheer for the ones that did.

But the most significant ceremony of the day will be held this morning, not in the heart of the city, but about the "little green tents" in Chicago cemeteries—the long, long lines of soldiers' graves. By noon time an American flag will fly above each one, and floral tributes will carry the message, "Lest we forget."

Veterans of three wars, comrades of the men who fell, will busy themselves about the decoration of the graves, with the willing assistance of many organizations, including the Gold Star Fathers and Mothers, Boy Scouts, and Women's Relief Corps.

At St. Adalbert's cemetery at Niles a field mass will be sung at 10 o'clock, under the auspices of Pulaski post of the American Legion. Afterward there will be a program of speaking and the graves will be decorated.

Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis will speak at the Confederate monument in Oakwoods cemetery at 10:30 o'clock, where 6,000 southern soldiers who died in Camp Douglas are buried. Camp Eight of the United Confederate Veterans and Camp Robert E. Lee, Sons of Confederate Veterans, will be in charge.

Chicago lodge of Elks will have its annual exercises at 11 o'clock at Elks' Rest, Mount Greenwood cemetery, with the Rev. Keene Ryan as the speaker. More than 100 Elks are buried in the plot. The public is invited to attend the observance.

Barrington post of the American Legion will decorate the graves of soldiers and sailors in Barrington cemetery. Ravenswood post will hold its services at Rosehill cemetery shortly after 9 o'clock, after a parade from the memorial monument at Ashland avenue and Clark street. Bohemian veterans of the Revolutionary, Spanish-American, and world wars will gather at the Bohemian National cemetery, 5255 North Crawford avenue.

So it will be in all the burial places in and about Chicago, wherever a soldier's or a sailor's grave claims the city's recognition and remembrance.

Yesterday in the main lobby of the city hall, a wreath was placed on the bronze tablet engraved with the names of those city employes who died in battle. Brief eulogies were given by Ald. William D. Meyering, himself a D. S. C. veteran of the world war, and Maj. Carlos Ames. The Rev. N. Bayard Clinch gave the invocation.

At the Doughboy monument in Lincoln park, at the foot of Belmont avenue, a similar service was conducted by Dr. Thomas Carter, who saw service overseas for many months, under the auspices of the Lake View Kiwanis club, following a luncheon at the Belden-Stratford hotel. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, congresswoman at large from Illinois, who was to have been the speaker, was detained in Washington. Her place was taken by Mrs. Bertha Baur, who made a short talk.

Various schools also held Memorial services yesterday, including the John D. Altgeld school, 1340 West 71st street; the Hawthorne school at School street and Seminary avenue, where a flag presentation was on the program; and the Drummond public school, 1845 Cortlandt street, which presented an Americanization program.

Memorial rites for Maj. George Bell Jr., in Rosehill cemetery at 10:30 o'clock, are expected to attract a large number of 33d division war veterans. Maj. Gen. Milton Foreman will be the speaker.

This afternoon a white haired veteran of three wars, Gen. James E. Stuart, 89, will be grand marshal for the parade, a post he has held for more than a decade. Five major divisions will comprise the line of march, the first, the place of honor, being given the meager ranks of the G. A. R. Following them will come the Spanish-American veterans and their associated organizations; then the world war divisions and their auxiliaries; the army and navy will make up the fourth, and the fifth will comprise the Marine corps, the aviation forces, the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, and other organizations.

Navy pier will be thrown open today for its summer season, inaugurated by a gala frolic in charge of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

Evanston's celebration will be divided into three phases. At 7 a. m., the American Legion will visit Calvary and other cemeteries to decorate the graves of war dead. At 9 o'clock, Charles G. Dawes, former Vice President, will review a parade of Boy Scouts on the lake front park.

At 10 o'clock the parade will be held in the business streets, followed by an address by Prof. Andrew A. Bruce of Northwestern university school of law. Only three G. A. R. veterans will be able to take part in the parade.

Elsie Janis Will Attend Reconstruction Aides' Feast

The Reconstruction Aides who served during the world war in occupational and physio-therapy are to hold a national convention on June 14 and 15 at the Woman's Athletic club, to be attended by members of the organization from all parts of the country. The program will consist of various business meetings, luncheon, a picnic at Fort Sheridan, trip to the Veterans' hospital, and a final banquet. Miss Elsie Janis is to be present at the banquet.

R. SANDERS OF CHICAGO TO CONDUCT FOR OWN SYMPHONY IN ROME

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, May 29.—After being received by American Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, the king and queen of Italy inaugurated the annual exposition of architecture, painting, sculpture, and classical archaeology at the American Academy of Rome this morning.

The annual exposition of the work of American art students will be closed tomorrow night when music students of the American, Spanish, and French academies here will have their compositions given first renditions at Augusteum hall by the noted Augusteum orchestra.

The work of American composers will be outstanding at this concert. Among the compositions to be played will be a group of songs composed by Alexander Steiner of New York and a symphony by Robert Sanders of Chicago. The latter will conduct from his own score. Seventeen fellowships in various arts are maintained by the American Academy of Rome.

The American ambassador and Gorham P. Stevens, director of the academy, showed the monarchs the 90 exhibits of painting, etc., work of American students during last year. The exhibits will be taken to New York for a second exposition, with judging and awarding of prizes in the Grand Central galleries.

Distinctive in this year's architectural exhibits is a study of the secret garden of Villa d'Este at Tivoli which was done by Michael Rapuano of Columbia university.

CHICAGO MUSICAL PRODUCT.

Robert Sanders, who is in his early twenties, has studied music since he was seven years old. About four years ago, at the suggestion of his teachers, Edgar Nelson and Edgar A. Brazleton of Bush conservatory, he took an examination conducted by John Alden Carpenter and Leo Sowerby, who represent in Chicago the American Academy of Rome. A year's appointment followed and at the end of that there was further time given. Mr. Sanders has now been in Italy nearly four years. He is a graduate of Lake View High school.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Mrs. William A. Sauer, named in an article in THE TRIBUNE yesterday as the defeated candidate for the presidency of the Illinois Woman's Democratic club in the organization's annual election Tuesday night, yesterday denied that she had been a candidate for the office. Although Mrs. Sauer received 51 votes for the presidency she declared that her name had been written in on the ballot without her consent or approval.

A medal presented to Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher for his help in the United Palestine appeal on May 27, was not given him by the Zionist organization as was stated in THE TRIBUNE on May 28, but it was an annual award made by the Jewish Sentinel, a magazine, for distinguished services rendered Judaism by a Chicagoan.

"No Credal Changes at Princeton," the Presbyterians Say

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—(AP)—Dismissing two formal protests against its action in ordering reorganization of management of Princeton Theological seminary, the 141st general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America denied that any change of the doctrinal stand at the seminary is contemplated.

The protests originated with fundamentalists, who fought the reorganization plan on the grounds that it would place the seminary in a position open to change in its theological position. Proponents of the new management plan denied this, and the action of the whole assembly in its concluding session this afternoon added unexpected emphasis to this position.

The statement adopted by the assembly was in answer to a protest presented by Dr. J. A. Barr of New Orleans and others which charged the reorganization will remove the seminary from "that distinctive doctrinal position which it has the right and the solemn duty to maintain."

"The general assembly had deliberately taken every necessary step," the answer said, "to secure precisely what the Protestants themselves wish secured, and in the reorganization administratively of the seminary has done nothing whatever which will tend to alter the distinctive doctrinal position which the seminary has maintained throughout its entire history."

An answer was also adopted to a protest by Dr. J. Gresham Machen, member of the seminary faculty and a leader of a faction opposing its president, Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, charging him with liberalism. He protested that the procedure followed Monday, when the reorganization plan was adopted, was unreasonable in that a limit of ten minutes was placed on speeches. The answer said this limit is substantiated by the laws of the assembly.

A plea for unity and for setting aside minor dissension to make more energy available for the "greater work" of the church was made by Dr. Cleland B. McAfee of Chicago, moderator, as a final event of the assembly. Greater activity in both foreign and home missions was urged.

Cincinnati was chosen for the 1930 assembly. The invitation was extended by the First Presbyterian church there. The assembly was forced to turn down a similar invitation from the First Presbyterian church of Detroit.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Millard Malsenthal, 158 Merchant street, Decatur, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

What is your opinion of the verdict sentencing the six year old Elizabethtown, Ky., boy to a fifteen year term in a reform school?

The Answers.

O. L. Henninger, 619 Rush street, bond salesman. — He certainly will be worse off after he leaves the institution than he would be under home surroundings, unless they have some special system in that reform school. During the formative years of his life he may turn out to be a habitual criminal because of undesirable companions.

Mrs. Gwendolyn A. Burche, Allerton House, real estate broker.—Certainly not, and I have made a study of those things. It is a difficult problem. Efforts have been made to find the proper method of procedure, but so far these have proved either scientific or economical.

James McMahon, 4314 Vernon avenue, foreman.—In my opinion the persons were on that jury ought to be sent to the psycopathic hospital, that's all there is to that. They shouldn't take the trouble to have a trial for the judge, but send him to an asylum. There isn't a boy with red blood in him that hasn't wanted at some time or another to crown somebody.

Mrs. M. H. Muller, 1537 Glenwood avenue, housewife.—I don't think it was right, because the boy was too young. No six year youngster knows the consequences of what he is doing. A child of that age is wholly irresponsible. We do not know what the surroundings of the boy's home are.

Richard R. Schmidt, 4720 North Artesian avenue, salesman.—I am entirely against it. The boy wasn't old enough to know the consequences of what he was doing. Even assuming that he is criminally inclined, he is entirely too young to be held responsible for what he does. To place him in a reform school is not right.

Mexican Editor Fears American Conquest Through the Talkies

MEXICO CITY, May 29.—Mexico is greatly excited over the entry of the talking films into this city. On the appearance of "The Singing Fool" at the Olympia here the foremost dailies rushed to arms against the "menace to the supremacy of the Spanish language in Latin America."

They pointed to the fact that the largest and best theater in the capital was crowded to suffocation and that the theater management proposes to run the play three months.

"We are to be soon inundated with American talking plays containing American sentiment, scenes, ways of thinking, culture, and all that goes to the making of the United States one of the unique countries in the world and the American nation a people unto itself," says the complaint.

"We already have lost much of our peculiar way of looking at life, of our national culture, and our distinct Mexicanism through the silent play. What must we lose when the soul of America speaks all compellingly, through the speaking movie, to ourselves and our children?

"The prodncers of stage plays in the United States care little for the Latin-American and Spanish business, since it is much less than 10 per cent of their whole business and likely to be still less with the improvement and popularity of the animated film. We are bound, therefore, to get our talking films, and soon all films will be talking, from the United States. We predict that students studying languages will go to the theater to hear English spoken by heirs to the language. At an impressionable age they will absorb all that goes with Americanism to the loss of our own culture and the predominance of the Spanish language.

"It is only a question of a comparatively short time when English shall have invaded all the great cities of the world and all the educated part of the world will be learning English so as to enjoy the talking film. Great as has been the influence of the silent film manufactured and produced in the United States on our social medium, the talking film, with an army of writers and producers working for it, is bound to have an infinitely greater influence."

E. G. Foreman Memorial Library Given to School

The Edwin G. Foreman Memorial library, gift of the family of the late banker to the Foreman Junior High school, Belmont and Leclaire avenues, was formally presented to the school last night. Harold Foreman, son of the late Edwin G. Foreman, made the presentation speech. H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, and William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, also addressed the gathering in the school auditorium. The library contains 3,000 volumes.

Merger Spirit Rife in Church, Preacher Claims

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—[Special.]—The necessity of church union was put squarely on efficiency and economic foundations today in an appeal before the biennial meeting of the national council of the Congregational church in an address by the Rev. Ernest N. Halliday, general secretary of the church extension board of the national Congregational council.

"A tremendous advance in interdenominational coöperation is indicated in the present trend," he said, "and it is apparent that the sharp divisions between Christians is rapidly being rubbed out."

The proposal for union between the Congregational church and the Christian church probably will gain its final impetus at the meeting of this council. If the Christian church general convention, which meets at Piqua, O., in October, concurs, it is possible that a special joint convention will be held early in 1930 which will fuse the two denominations. If this is done, it will be the first actual fusion of two distinct religious bodies in the United States and will constitute the only consummation of the sort thought to be possible within the next five years.

Preliminary action looking toward union with the Christian church was taken in the Congregational council yesterday, when twenty-two members of the Christian church were elected corresponding members of the national Congregational council. At the head of this group is Dr. Frank G. Coffin of Columbus, O., who has been president of the Christian denomination since 1916. Dr. Coffin is pastor of the Congregational-Christian church of Columbus, O.

The Christian church is not to be confused with the Disciples church, which is sometimes called the "Christian church," according to Dr. Coffin. The center of work is in the southeast, particularly the Piedmont states, first beginning in North Carolina in 1793 under the leadership of the Rev. James O'Kelly and later given impetus in Vermont by a physician, Dr. Abner Jones, and in Kentucky in 1804 as a result of the "Kentucky revival."

"Growing out of these movements the Christian church has expressed its position in six cardinal principles. Jesus Christ, the only head of the church; "Christian," a sufficient name for the followers of Christ; the Bible, a sufficient guide of faith and conduct; Christian character and not ordinances or theological opinions, the basis of Christian fellowship; liberty of conscience and right of private judgment to be denied to no one, and, union of all followers of Jesus Christ," Dr. Coffin said.

Dr. Coffin declared that 90 per cent of the members of the Christian church approved the union, and the only discouraging word concerning the union was voiced by the Rev. Dr. Epaphroditus Peck of Bristol, Conn., when he said that the "tremendously serious" difficulties arising from the $25,000,000 invested trust funds of the Congregational church should be understood.

Aimee McPherson Asks 50% Plus Salary in Talkies?

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—Aimee Semple McPherson will become a talkie star if she can get 50 per cent of the gross receipts of her picture plus a salary.

This disclosure today gave Hollywood a brand new and entirely unexpected angle of the talkie invasion. The Tiffany Stahl company is named as negotiating with an offer of 25 per cent for a picturization of her book, "The Service of the King," with her as the star.

According to the report, Mrs. McPherson feels that she could reach a new flock with her gospel and so wants a higher rate of pay.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., May 29.—President and Mrs. Hoover entertained a company at dinner tonight, the American ambassador to Mexico being the guest of honor. Ambassador Morrow is spending a few days at the Mayflower.

Mrs. Hoover had a garden tea this afternoon and entertained the second group of congressional women, the wives, daughters and other relatives of senators and representatives. This is the second one of four such parties she is giving this spring. The cabinet hostesses assisted today as they did on Monday and tea was served in the state dining room, the first lady joining her guests there for a sip and a bite after the last one had been greeted by her in the Blue room.

Mrs. Hoover had tea yesterday at the Girl Scouts' house, where she went to hear Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman in a program of zither music. He is a skillful performer on that instrument. Mrs. Hoover was accompanied by the President's cousin, Mrs. Francis Odell of Topeka, who, with Mr. Odell and their daughter, Eleanor, is a guest at the White House.

Vice President Curtis and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann were entertained at dinner last evening by Mrs. Cloman, widow of Captain Sidney A. Cloman, former military attache of the American embassy in London.

Mrs. Wade G. Ellis gave a luncheon today at Gray's Hill inn in Virginia, the guests motoring afterwards to the country home of the hostess, Rippon lodge, for tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lowe Jr. of California are flying to Washington to attend the wedding of the former's brother, James R. Lowe and Miss Elizabeth Ives, on Saturday. Mr. Lowe will be his brother's best man. Miss Eleanor Hard, formerly of Chicago, is one of the bridesmaids and will give a picnic party, Friday, for the wedding party. Miss Laura Towne, formerly of Chicago, entertained the party at dinner last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lowe Sr. of Grand Rapids are here for their son's wedding.

Pot Roasting Lamb Chops.

By pot roasting shoulder lamb chops, the meat can be made to go much farther than when it is broiled, because we not only have the meat but some delicious vegetables and a gravy, and the dish can be further extended with macaroni or boiled rice. Have three chops about one inch thick. Trim them and take off the fell yourself, at home.

The butcher weighs your chop and then trims it, but you must also do a little trimming yourself and you might as well do it all. Also, in pulling off—skimming the edges—of the fell, less of the fat frame of the meat will be wasted than when it is cut off in the way the butcher manipulates it. When this fat is seasoned with the vegetables, it is just as palatable or edible as the lean, and as for the food value, measured in calories, it is great, where that of the lean is small.

Have ready two tablespoons of flour, mixed with a teaspoon of salt and a little pepper. Have ready also the pot roasting kettle with two tablespoons of dripping, or some palatable fat, melted in it. A little of the lamb can be tried out for that purpose. Roll the chops in the flour and put them into the kettle, browning them first on one side and then on the other. When this has been done take them up on a plate and put in the vegetables which have been prepared in advance, stir them around in the kettle, add any flour left from that used for the chops, then make a batter of them, rinse off the plate which had the flour with one half cup of water, and add this and stir until the whole is even and rather thick, before returning the chops to the kettle.

For the vegetables use four carrots scraped and sliced, three onions sliced, a cup of celery cut fine—a half a cup will do—a little green pepper chopped fine, and other seasonings to taste. Prunes are excellent in this combination, although people not accustomed to them would surely reject the idea. Keep the kettle closely covered over a small fire and cook for one hour, basting every fifteen minutes.

If the fire is gentle the vegetables will be deliciously cooked as well as the meat, but it should never be so small that you cannot hear the cooking going on in the kettle.

Sabath Family Reunion.

Judge and Mrs. Joseph Sabath are to give a family dinner party at the Chicago Beach hotel tomorrow evening. This is an annual affair and 38 are to be present, including Congressman Sabath of Washington.

Two little girls in the kindergarten class discovered it was their teacher's birthday. One presented her with a pretty card, the other a flower.

At recess little brown eyed Susie snuggled up and announced with quivering lips:

"Them that brings you presents because they know it's your birthday, don't love you any harder than those that don't."

M. J.

Four year old Ann brought me part of a cake her mother had just baked. No doubt Ann associates cakes with birthdays, for she looked up at me and said, "how old are you now, Mrs. Brown?"

Country Clubs Opening Today 'Round Chicago

BY THALIA

Clad in new or refurbished summer garbs of awnings, porch furniture, and bright chintz drapes, the fashionable country clubs round about Chicago will open officially today for the summer season. Golf events have been arranged, and most of the clubs have a formal opening dinner dance tonight either last night, tonight, or Saturday evening.

The Chicago Golf club at Wheaton has a new swimming pool, and Knollwood Country club, northwest of Lake Forest, has been remodeled, redecorated, and has a new dining porch overlooking the sunken garden.

Onwentsia is having its formal opening on Saturday with an army and navy costume ball, and today there are several matches for the golfing. Members who served in the world war will play for the George Alexander McKinlock memorial cup, and there will be the president's cup for low score, cups for net score winners, and doubles tennis matches.

At Exmoor there is to be golf today for the men only, and the opening dinner dance is to take place on Saturday evening.

At the Chicago Golf club, where all the cottages are now occupied for the season, there is to be an opening dinner dance tonight and the new swimming pool is to be opened. The John J. Murphy memorial cup, to become the property of a three times winner; the Jarvis Hunt Sr. trophy, to be played for this morning [eighteen holes]; the Thomas Miller trophy, for eighteen holes of afternoon play; and the George Strom cup, for low gross this afternoon, are the prizes to be played for at the Wheaton club.

The men members of Knollwood will play for the Col. Charles H. MacDowell trophy, and there will be a stag dinner dance tonight, with dinner on the new porch and dancing under the circus tent pavilion. Among those who have made reservations for parties are Mr. and Mrs. Harlan B. Allred, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Conen, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy W. Buckingham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Poor, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kempe, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stevens, John W. O'Leary, and R. Jerome Dunne.

Indian Hill Country club has golf events for men only, an informal buffet lunch, and a dinner dance. Reservations for the party tonight have been made by Mrs. Robert Ripley, who is to have about forty guests; Mrs. William G. Hibbard III., Mrs. Selden Wilts, H. S. Miller, John Stuart Jr., F. H. Lyon, A. N. Newton, A. W. Marshall, A. M. Cox, J. P. Harding, W. C. Edmonds, H. T. Stanton, Charles Day, Day, E. S. Bulger, R. E. Bard, S. Littell, J. H. Prentiss, and S. Y. Hall.

Glenview Golf club will have a club handicap match and a dinner dance in the evening.

The polo match between Oak Brook Polo Horsemen and the Oak Brook Infantry teams will take place at the Oak Brook club, near Hinsdale, at 4:30 o'clock and will attract a large crowd from the community thereabouts. At the Decoration day dinner tonight, Paul Butler, captain of the Polo Horsemen, Mrs. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Strotz, Col. and Mrs. R. R. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Turner, and Col. and Mrs. W. S. Margetts will be among those present.

The South Shore Country club had its opening dance last night on the outdoor dance pavilion, and tonight there will be music on the terrace, a concert in the dining room, and moving pictures in the ballroom.

The country club of Evanston announces a handicap tennis tournament for men and juniors to begin today and to close on Sunday on the club courts. A new method of handicapping will give all players a chance to win. The Edgewater Golf club announces its formal opening party this evening under the auspices of the entertainment committee, of which Frederic Ringley is chairman, and there will be golf events during the day.

The Glencoe Garden club is to hold a flower show at the residence of Mrs. Paul L. Battey next Wednesday from 1 until 9 o'clock. The show will be open to the public, as will some of the Glencoe gardens, among them Mrs. Carl S. Miner's, Mrs. Andrew MacLeish's, and Mrs. Percy Armstrong's.

The Walter L. Fishers recently gave a housewarming party for their new residence, "The Orchard," in Hubbard Woods. The Fisher estate, the oldest in Hubbard Woods, was called "The Fisher Orchard" many years ago, and suggested the new name. The new house is modern in design, with a basement squash court, a sun terrace with open fireplace and sleeping porch and a sunny nursery room, where Mrs. Fisher conducts her private kindergarten. The Fishers' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fisher [Ruth Page] have taken the Benjamin Price house in Hubbard Woods for the Ravinia opera season. Mrs. Fisher, as Miss Page, is the premiere danseuse of the Ravinia opera company.

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' APRON.

This pretty apron with the tiered ruffles is an entirely new idea, and besides being so good looking, is remarkably easy to make. It is cut in one piece, excepting for the shoulder straps. Printed yellow pique with green bindings is pictured, but it is suitable for any of the usual wash materials.

The pattern, 3328, comes in sizes small, medium and large. The medium size requires 1¼ yards of 36 inch material with 12 yards of binding.

Just Going for Cigars.

I had been invited for dinner to the home of friends, and early in the evening their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. X., dropped in for bridge. My hostess had told me that Mrs. X. was insanely jealous of her husband and teasingly warned me to beware.

About 10 o'clock I decided it was time to go home, but not wishing to interrupt the card game, I refused to allow my host to accompany me to the street car. While saying my good-bys to the others, I noticed Mr. X. standing in the hall, hat in hand, as though waiting to escort me. My friend's eyes were dancing, but not so the eyes of Mrs. X. An ugly, dull, "deadly" red crept up into her face and my heart stood still.

"Are you going to the car?" I heard him say.

In a panic I answered, "Yes, but really it isn't necessary for you to go with me, as I am not in the least afraid to go alone. Thank you, just the same."

"Why, I wasn't going to take you. I am only going next door for cigars," came his rejoinder.

The cool night breezes were indeed welcome on my burning cheeks as I hurried down the street imagining I heard the delighted titter of Mrs. X.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Needs Dress, Blouse.

"Can you secure some much needed clothing for an elderly woman I know of? She lives alone, has no relatives to help her, and must support herself, although she is hardly able to do it. All winter she has had rheumatism so badly she was not able to leave her little room and so her earnings were cut off. When she is able she goes out scrubbing and cleaning. Now she needs a dress, a blouse or two, slips, and underwear. She wears size 40 or 42. M. M."

Boy Invites Mother, Brothers, and Himself to Camp Algonquin

An eleven year old boy, besmudged of cheek and tattered of clothing, braved the formality of the Tribune Tower yesterday, in behalf of his mother and four brothers and sisters. He made a convincing plea that they be among the visitors to Camp Algonquin this summer.

"I would appreciate it, ma'am, if it aint too much bother, if we could go," he pleaded. "Lots of folks invite themselves. I ain't inviting myself, but I thought there might be room out there for us.

"Mother and I went out there once a long time ago when I was eight years old. I was skinny as a toothpick. I had been in a sanitarium two years. And gee, wasn't it restful and everything at camp. They had a keen swimming pool where we cooled off. And I remember that we sang a song, a kind of prayer before we ate in the dining room. That was religion, you bet. A lot of boys don't pay much attention to that, but I go to church every Sunday."

The boy talked on with the poise and confidence of an earnest young salesman. He told about his older brother and sister, and the two babies, 3, and 2 years old. He didn't like the way his mother had to work all the time at home with never a vacation. His father, he said, was a clothes sponger in a factory. Last summer they had waited all summer thinking they might get to go to camp, but too many families were ahead.

"Well, I expect I'm bothering a lot," he concluded. "I would really appreciate going very much, ma'am, if there's any room at all."

Miss Mary Anna Beckwith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Beckwith, wore white satin embroidered with pearls in a bowknot design, a tulle veil and cap trimmed with heirloom rosepoint lace, and carried white orchids and lillies of the valley for her wedding yesterday afternoon to Charles Dyer Heile Jr. of Oak Park. The service was read at 4 o'clock at St. James Episcopal cathedral chapel, with only members of the families and a few intimate friends present, and was followed by a reception at the Beckwith residence at 37 East Elm street. Miss Anna Emory, who was Miss Beckwith's only attendant, wore buttercup yellow chiffon and a brown hair hat, and carried a bouquet of spring flowers. John and Douglass Lee, the small sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee of Lake Forest, were train bearers. Howard Simmons was best man for Mr. Heile, and Stewart Kehler and W. Calvin Hamilton the ushers. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Heile will reside at 116 Oak street.

To Give Garden Party.

Orton B. Motter, who has taken Hollyhock house, the residence of the late Lionel Robertson, in Ravinia, is to give a garden supper party on Saturday evening for Baroness Solonge de Viviers, who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Smart Stroud of East Chestnut street. The Baroness de Viviers is to sail for Paris early next month.

BOSWELL'S 'UNEDITED' 'LIFE OF JOHNSON' IS SOLD TO PHILADELPHIAN

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The first edition of Boswell's "Life of Samuel Johnson," which was found recently in England and which aroused interest among Boswell-Johnson collectors both there and in America as a unique copy of the original unexpurgated text, has been sold by Gabriel Wells, New York dealer in rare books, to A. Edward Newton, book collector and author of Philadelphia, it was learned here today.

Although the exact price paid for the book could not be learned, it is said to have been the highest price ever paid for a copy of the first edition of the work.

Aids Charity Show

MISS L. E. PALMER.

Women of Hinsdale joining with many of the north shore are busy with final preparations for the dog and horse show at Mays Lake, near Hinsdale, for the benefit of the Hinsdale Nursing and Relief society, Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2. Miss Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spence R. Palmer, will ride her Tower Hill Trixie.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody will give the use of their arena for the exhibition of the dogs and horses, there being large entries in all classes. The committee in charge is made up of Mrs. James Knowlson, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. John Matz, Mrs. Horace Hench, Mrs. William France Anderson, Mrs. Ralph Kimball, Mrs. Ward Castle, Mrs. Philip Clarke, Mrs. Warren Everett, and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, all of Hinsdale; Mrs. Austin Pope of Oak Park, and Mrs. Paul Llewelyn and Mrs. W. P. Saunders of La Grange.

Corks Can Make Ship Models; Book Tells How

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Peter Adams is a sailor man. In fact, he's spent most of his life on the sea, in sailing vessels.

Well, you know that sailors on sailing vessels do all kinds of things with their hands in the long hours of spare time they have. It is to this we can trace many of our beautiful old ship models.

Peter Adams made his models with —what do you think? Ordinary corks, pins, threads, matches, paper and crayons. He has described how he did this in a little book called "Cork Ships and How to Make Them" published by E. P. Dutton & Company. The book costs $1.25.

Both boys and girls who love ships and the water will enjoy this book, I think. It really follows the history of the sailing ship from the galleys of the Phoenicians down to the present time. There are notes in the short chapters on each kind of ship and descriptions of how to make it in cork. Besides the descriptions there are clear little drawings that illustrate each tiny ship and details of its making.

It is a fascinating little book and many a grown up will enjoy its interesting and brief resumé of the ships that have plied the seas through the ages, and I am sure be tempted to come home with a pocketful of corks against a leisure hour or a rainy Sunday.

Since I feel strongly on the subject of not giving children things to do at which they will fail or become discouraged, I suggest it for boys and girls not younger than 9, though it is of enough real interest for children in their teens, and even for grownups.

Incidentally, we found that cork took paint nicely and that it added greatly to the appearance of the little models.

Exercise, Clever Girdle Make One Look Slimmer

"What are the benefits from wearing girdles? I have just bought a new outfit and decided I might try a girdle to take in a few inches around my hips. I am five feet four, weigh 129, 34 inch bust and 40 hips, at 24 years of age.

"Can a girdle do anything else besides take down an inch or two through the hips? I know a girdle cannot make me stand correctly. If I want to I can stand with chest up, abdomen in, and my figure is good when I do that. But I have a tendency to slouch which makes my abdomen protrude and the result is terrible.

"Will my hips become broader as the years go on if I do not wear a girdle? I walk a mile or more each day. If I keep up the walks and succeed in standing properly, couldn't I accomplish more than a girdle would do for me?—M. G."

A 38 inch hip measurement in company with a 34 bust is the usual requirement, according to authoritative charts on figure proportions. One hundred and twenty-nine pounds for 24 years and five feet four of height is about right, which facts we point out so that you may see that it is practically only local reduction you need, and that around the hips. A walk of a mile a day isn't quite enough. Make it three, or better, four, or else augment the mile walk with special hip, abdomen, and thigh exercises.

Girdles have three points in their favor. They do give the appearance of slenderer hips. They do support the abdomen and doctors are of the opinion that the average woman who gets no exercise to strengthen the muscles of the abdominal walls needs some such support. Too, the girdle is a reminder that there is need of reducing. If you are getting heavier, the struggle to hook up the girdle warns you, and, of course, there is the greater neatness by which stockings are held up with the girdle garters.

On the other hand, if you can make a girdle out of a firm muscle, you come nearer to having the figure that is the envy of the moment.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Fruit growers throughout the United States have become alarmed over the finding of the Mediterranean fruit fly in this country. Florida has been put under a federal quarantine because of this pest. Washington authorities have given some consideration to the question of whether the quarantine should be extended to include other states.

W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of this state, says Illinois need not be alarmed over the recent findings of the pest. There is very little likelihood that the insect could survive the winters here, even in the extreme southern part of the state. There is no indication that it would ever be a pest of any importance to Illinois agriculture, he says.

Mr. Flint explained that reports of the fly having been found in Florida caused unusual concern because it was the first record of its appearance on the continent of North America. Its damage, however, is limited to the warmer parts of the world and it is not thought that the fly can exist outside the cotton belt. It is not a pest of importance even in the colder parts of the cotton growing areas of the world.

"In the tropical and semi-tropical parts of the world," added the state entomologist, "the fly is a very serious pest of nearly all fruits, including the apple, pear, peach, plum, grape, practically all citrus fruits and many tropical fruits. It also attacks melons, squashes, tomatoes, peppers, and some other vegetables."

According to Mr. Flint, the full grown fly is about the size of the house fly, but differs strikingly in color, being brilliantly marked with brown, yellow, black and white bands and splotches. The insect lays its eggs in the flesh of the fruits which it attacks and these eggs hatch into maggots which feed on the pulp of the fruit. When full grown they drop to the ground where they change in a brown case to the full grown fly.

It Still Requires Two to Quarrel, Doris Blake Declares

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Married a number of years, no children, and life one quarrel after another. That's "Puzzled."

After a quarrel and a make-up, husband would be down on his knees begging forgiveness. Then one word out of the way, both being hot headed, and another quarrel was on, with every name under the sun being used on each other in the heated debate.

"I wonder what's wrong with HIM?" Puzzled asks blithely, adding how much the man loves her, how exceedingly jealous he is of her, and how decent he is when they aren't quarreling.

Most of the troubles of married life may be explained in that blithe inquiry about what is wrong with the other fellow. Most of the troubles outside of married life, too, may be confronted with the same charge. A young woman cannot get on with her business associates because, in her judgment, there's something wrong with the other girls. Or, a man makes a failure out of himself because every one else is out of step but himself.

When a wife who confesses to hotheadedness and to being a participant in many marriage brawls asks what's wrong with her husband you get a fair idea of the actual situation. And it isn't flattering to the inquirer, either. She's the one whose photograph should appear over the title: "What's wrong here?"

The old bromide about a quarrel needing two participants is about the best remedy to employ under the circumstances.

Not One GRAY HAIR

Men and women in business—constantly competing with younger folks for positions of importance—these are the people who appreciate the value of appearing at their best. Gray hair is a common source of trouble to both sexes—but why stay gray? Thousands now recommend a clear, colorless liquid called Kolor-Bak, used for imparting color to gray or faded hair. Avoid old-fashioned methods and try this simple, delightful way that gradually colors to the right shade of blonde, auburn, brown or black. Friends of yours may now use it. No one can detect it. The one bottle is right for all shades. Sold with money-back guarantee.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Decoration Day

Olive Palmer Wins His Especial Praise.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Radio's pathways last evening led along pleasant but unexciting byways.

Early evening listeners will recall the lively Troubadours orchestra, from New York, through W-G-N, 8 to 8:30. This program is always spirited and gay in its own light, bright way.

Of a different character was the weekly orchestral program from New York, through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9:30, and in which Miss Olive Palmer is a feature, if not an institution. Her two contrasting numbers last evening, "Caro Nome," and "The Last Rose of Summer," were lovely examples of the beautiful in song. The Revellers male quartet, appearing regularly on this program, enjoys a great reputation.

Just as though we could pack our valises and skip away on the moment, Announcer Pat Barnes (W-G-N, 9:30 to 10) in a radio travelogue, theoretically called out "All aboard for the west, Rock Island, O-o-o-omaha, Den-ver, Pike's Peak, Garden of the Gods, the Rocky mountains, Manitou"—O, boy, for a train, airplane—anything, on a night like this, for a cool place out west, up in the mountains.

But one must withhold these dreams for awhile, because the W-G-N symphony orchestra on the "Dream Ship" is at this 11 o'clock moment playing Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

BANDITS TAKE $13,100 FROM A BANK PRESIDENT

South Bend, Ind., May 29.—[Special.]—Three bandits, believed to be Chicago gangsters, today kidnaped Richard M. Johnson, president of the South Bend State bank, and Curtiss Pruitt, taxi driver, tied them with radio wire and adhesive tape in the basement of an abandoned cottage, and stole $13,100 in money Johnson was transferring to the Citizens' National bank here.

The bandits, driving a roadster, forced the taxicab to the curb and with revolvers compelled the driver to take them to the house at the northeastern edge of town. They abandoned their own car.

The loot consisted of $10,000 in $1 bills and $3,100 in silver.

Soldier's Funeral Given Gen. Smith in Omaha

Omaha, Neb., May 29.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry A. Smith, late commander of the Seventh corps area, was given a soldiers' funeral today. Following short services at the First Presbyterian church, the funeral procession formed and marched through downtown streets to the Union station, where the body was sent to Atchison, Kas., the birthplace of the general. Burial will be held there tomorrow.

F. H. Doellner, Manager of Izaak Walton League, Dies

Fred H. Doellner, general manager of the Izaak Walton League of America, died at his home, 525 Cornelia avenue, last night. Although Mr. Doeller has been ill from stomach trouble for some time, his death was unexpected. He came to Chicago from Philadelphia two years ago to become general manager. He is survived by his wife and father. He was 42 years old.

WOMAN, 58, SELLS POPPIES; EFFORTS END IN DEATH

Mrs. Catherine A. Roberts, 58 years old, returned to her home at 4612 Lake Park avenue yesterday with dragging, weary steps. During the two previous days she had been selling poppies for war veterans and her strength was exhausted. One of her sons is an invalid as a result of the world war and she insisted stoutly that no one had a better right than she to assist in the poppy selling crusade.

Mrs. Roberts reclined on a bed to rest as soon as she got home and when her other son, Homer Roberts, came home she was still lying there, dead.

Mrs. Roberts was past president of the 108th Engineers' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 450. Funeral services will be held at St. Ambrose church tomorrow morning and burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

RAIL EMPLOYE KILLED BY AUTO; TOLL IS NOW 307

Charles Kishmaier, 38 years old, employed by the Grand Trunk railroad, was killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Cornelius Gustaffson, 721 Englewood avenue, at State and 10th streets. Gustaffson was held.

This death and one other raised the 1929 Cook county motor toll to 307. The other victim:

Stanley Duszynski, 28 years old, 1332 Cleaver street. Died in St. Mary's hospital of injuries received Tuesday night when he was hit by a truck driven by Joseph Syopinsky, 1362 Dickson street.

Dr. Hyer of Southern Methodist U. Is Dead

Dallas, Tex., May 29.—(AP)—Dr. Robert Stewart Hyer, 68, president emeritus of Southern Methodist university, died at his home here today. Death was due to a heart attack.

Dr. Hyer was born at Oxford, Ga. In 1882 he became professor of physics at Southwestern university at Georgetown, Tex., and in 1887 was elected president of that institution. When Southern Methodist university was established here he became its president. He was made president emeritus in 1919.

E. L. Dalton, Ex-President of Traffic Club, Is Dead

E. L. Dalton, 45 years old, vice president and traffic director of the American Radiator company, died suddenly Tuesday night of a heart attack in his home, 1055 Sheridan road. Mr. Dalton was prominent in his profession, being a working member of the National Industrial league and a past president of the Traffic club of Chicago. He was a member of the Union league and Evanston Golf clubs. He is survived by his widow.

Former Head of American Sugar Refining Co. Is Dead

Boston, Mass., May 29.—(AP)—Washington B. Thomas, 72, capitalist and former president of the American Sugar Refining company, died today after a brief illness. Mr. Thomas was president of the United States Golf association in 1899 and 1900. He was graduated from Harvard university in 1879 and then began a long career with the American Sugar company.

Jacob Mayer, 81, Veteran Silk Salesman, Is Dead

Jacob Mayer, 81 years old, for 60 years a salesman for the Belding Hemingway Silk company, 201 Monroe street, died at his home in the Mayfair hotel, 58th street and Hyde Park boulevard, last night. Death was caused by apoplexy. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. August Mayer, and two sons.

Boric Acid Good But Not Enough

We recommend Iris, America's Eye Bath, because we know it is such a vast improvement over the time-honored eyewash of plain boric acid.

Iris contains camphor, menthol, witch-hazel, boric acid and pure distilled spring water, all sterilized and put into sealed sterile flasks.

Iris does three definite things for you. It makes your eyes sparkle and look alive and vivacious. It cleanses the corners, the tear ducts and under the upper and lower eyelids. It relieves soreness and inflammation.

If you will try one bottle of Iris we know you will realize its virtues. All of our druggists are instructed to refund your money if you are not thoroughly pleased. Both the 45c and the 80c size come complete with handy eyecup. Try Iris today.

Practical Suit for Street or Travel

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The scarf is becoming more closely attached to us all the time. Not only has it achieved a place in every sort of costume from sports frock to evening coat, but now it is an integral feature of the cut of the cloth.

We have already spoken of those one piece frocks which sponsor an inset yoke made in one with a long scarf and flung over one shoulder. Somewhat similar is the treatment of a stunning evening coat. Its flat, stitched yoke is cut in one piece with long scarf ends which fall backward from each shoulder to be gathered into a loose knot in the middle of the back and from there to drop to the hem.

In the charming suit we are showing today the scarf reveals the same capacity for attachment. Here it is cut in with the blouse and serves as both collar and scarf. Orange crepe fashions this section of the costume. Coat and skirt are of knitted fabric in a deep Havana brown and both adopt, instead of the omnipotent flare, a line of plain severity relieved by the surplice cut of the jacket. The latter has inset pockets trimmed with orange crepe.

A brown hat in soft straw with drooping side brim is trimmed with a matching ribbon and shoes in two shades of brown complete the perfect ensemble. The uses of such an outfit are multiple, but for travel in hot weather it would be wise to add a second blouse of orange crepe as an occasional substitute for this one. It could be cut either with a V neck outlined by smart stitching or with a turnover collar to be worn with a dark brown four in hand tie.

ENGINEER KILLED, RESCUERS INJURED IN R. R. ACCIDENTS

Ray Haskins, 38 years old, an engineer on the Pere Marquette railroad, died in Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, yesterday from scalds suffered when his engine turned over after running through an open switch at Glenlord, Mich., and crashing into a string of freight cars on a siding.

Three members of a wrecking crew, hurrying to the scene of the wreck on a hand car, were injured when they struck a man walking along the tracks. The man, who was not identified, was seriously injured. The hand car operators were brought to a Michigan City, Ind., hospital. Their injuries were not serious.

Workman Killed, One Hurt When Netting Collapses

One workman was killed and another severely injured yesterday when steel wire netting on the second floor of the Merchandise Mart, under construction at Wells street and the river, collapsed and the two men fell to the first floor. Frank Aracena, 49 years old, 7536 West 61st street, Argo, was fatally injured and Anthony Verdone, 29 years old, 5148 Belden avenue, was injured.

FATALLY INJURED AT WORK.

Watchman Shot When He Surprises Holdup Pair

Joseph Jerry, 43 years old, 7631 Rhodes avenue, a watchman, was shot four times early this morning when he came upon two robbers holding up the Paxton Drug company store, 2200 East 71st street. The men had relieved Edward Gottfrey, the manager of the store, and four customers of $200 when Jerry entered in uniform. The robbers fired at Jerry and fled. He was taken to Jackson Park hospital, where his condition was pronounced serious. He was wounded twice in the chest and twice in the right arm.

1. No paper company or power trust or public utility or any other powerful financial combination owns any stock or bonds or notes or interest of any kind in this newspaper;

2. Its news from foreign countries is gathered by its own staff of Americans. They are not mere telegraph operators for the news agencies and press bureaus of foreign powers but able, fearless correspondents who give Tribune readers the most accurate news service in the world;

3. It is not a mere link in a chain of newspapers, operated from regions alien to your welfare. The Tribune never subordinates the interests of the Central States to those of other sections of the country;

4. The city of Washington is a maelstrom of special interest lobbying. The Tribune's Washington offices are purposely kept away from "hand-out" headquarters. Tribune men in Washington search out the facts, unvarnished, unbiased. Their orders are "'Hand-outs are barred—get the truth—we dare print it!";

5. The Tribune is not involved in any of the great rackets built on enormous U. S. government appropriations for exploiting real estate, oil, mineral and forest resources;

6. Tribune political writers are not on the public payrolls. Tribune sports scribes do not accept presents or "expenses" from sport promoters;

7. Its news and editorials cannot be bought by public service companies; it will not be bullied by bigots nor silenced by corruption in high places;

8. Fighting in the courts for honest government, it has emerged victorious, "bloody but unbowed."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 29.—[Special.] Pat Malone became confused this afternoon and instead of pitching the Cubs back into first place he pitched his adversaries, the Pirates, into that cherished spot. The score was: Pitts[illegible]gh, 7; Chica[illegible] 2.

PAT MALONE.

Mr. Malone lost no time in joining the current disintegration of the McCarthy pitching staff. A double and two triples in a row in the first inning stupefied our nine that for numerous innings they looked like one of those simon pure college nines the Big Ten plans for the future. Late in the game they stirred from their lethargy, but not until Malone had blown up completely in the fifth inning.

Strictly from a Chicago viewpoint, it was a very sour ball game, though not so disappointing as the ones the Cubs have been blowing after enjoying leads. The result today was inevitable and all McCarthy sympathizers had to do was take off their coats and wait for the sad, sad finish.

McCarthy Alters Lineup.

It was the eighth straight win for the dashing Pirates and their fourth in ten starts against the Cubs. It was the first trimming they have achieved over the McCarthys in a game over which Burleigh Grimes did not preside. Swetonic was the winning pitcher today, although relieved when the Cubs showed signs of life in the ninth inning.

Tomorrow the Cubs will have a chance to regain the league leadership, but to do it, Nehf will have to beat Swetonic in the morning game and Root will have to defeat Grimes for his first setback of 1929. Not such a cheerful prospect! In this afternoon's game, Cuyler and Hornsby were the only Cubs who did much on the offensive. Each got three hits in four times at bat. Five other hits enabled the Cubs to outbat the Pirates 11 to 10, which is all right for personal batting averages, but does not relieve the anguish when distributed as it was today.

Brother Scores Brother.

Mr. Malone was fortunate to escape with his life in the first inning and the two runs obtained by the Pirates were meager reward for their slugging attainments. Bartell opened with a single to Heathcote, but L. Waner flied to left and jogged in on Paul's triple to the center field flag pole. P. Waner scored with a clean slide, for Capt. Traynor tripled to center. Pie stayed on third after Heathcote caught Grantham's fly and scored there when Wilson made a nice throw to catch of Brickell's drive.

The Cubs were unable to produce in the fourth, although they had a single and double and a walk to work with. After English had been thrown out by Bartell, Cuyler got his second hit, a single to right, and stopped at second when Hornsby doubled over L. Waner's head. Wilson tapped to Swetonic and Cuyler was trapped between third and home, Swetonic to Traynor to Hornsby reaching third. Swetonic walked, filling the bases, but Swetonic tossed out Grimm, retiring the side three up and three down.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Between not being able to hit and not being able to keep the Indians from breaking up the park furniture, Blackburne's White Sox were sorely beset yesterday. They could make no headway against old Jimmy Zinn, whereas the Tribe members amused themselves with staggering array of homers, triples, doubles, and singles, thereby taking the second of the set. The score was 11 to 1 and was compiled in the short time of one hour and forty-nine minutes.

LOUIS FONSECA.

It is not as important to identify the Sox hurlers as it is to mention what happened to them. The usually efficient Tommy Thomas started, and in three rounds was gone. Grady Adkins then took up the job, but not with success. Against this pair, the Indians rolled up 19 hits for 37 bases, the chief nuisance being Fonseca, whose two homers and two triples gave him 14 bases, which exceeds the 13 recently established here by Lou Gehrig. And additional annoyance came from Bib Falk, who bestirred himself to the extent of two singles, a double and a triple.

Bombardment Gets Under Way.

With Falk participating, the Indians sent some bad news to Thomas in the form of a run in the second inning. A freak double play was the only thing that prevented one or two more. Morgan opened the round with a single and went to third on Falk's single to right. L. Sewell's fly to center let Morgan score. Lind also hit safely and Zinn scratched a single to short, filling the bases. Kerr then took Tavener's grounder close to first base, tagged Zinn, who was just about to start for second, and then touched first to double Tavener.

Thomas' banishment in the third chapter started with Fonseca clouting a homer over the scoreboard in left. The next two gentlemen went out and then the cannonading was renewed. Morgan singled and Falk lined a triple to right center, Morgan running home. Falk scored on a single by L. Sewell, who stole second and went across the counter on Cissell's boot of Lind's grounder. Zinn obliged by popping out to end the session.

Adkins Gets Rough Treatment.

When Adkins appeared on the mound to start the fourth the Indians celebrated immediately. Fonseca hit a homer into the seats in left for the only run of the inning. But the fifth was more violent, four scoring. Lind and Zinn singled with one out and both preceded Tavener over the plate when the tiny shortstop pulled a homer into the seats in right. Then Fonseca tripled to right, his fourth extra base slap of the matinee. He scored while Kerr was throwing out Averill.

After the fifth the Indians conducted themselves in a fashion more acceptable to the several thousand assembled Sox partisans. They scored once more, this being due to doubles by Falk and L. Sewell in the eighth. Then the Sox dodged the humiliation of a shutout by picking up a run in the home eighth on hits by Kerr and Autry and Adkins' sacrifice fly. Later in the inning Metzler singled and the bases became clogged when Lind booted Kamm's roller. This put an opportunity in front of Mr. Arthur Shires, who had arrived in the game in the sixth inning. Mr. Shires grounded out.

Two games this afternoon, starting at 1:30.

GAVUZZI WRESTS PYLE DERBY LEAD FROM JOHN SALO

Deming, N. M., May 29.—(AP)—Pete Gavuzzi, bearded speed artist of England, jumped into the lead in the Pyle bunion Derby today when he captured the 63 miles jaunt from Las Cruces, N. M., to Deming in 8:14:20.

Gavuzzi wrested the lead from Johnny Salo, Passaic, N. J., policeman, who was third in 9:13:10, overcoming the flying cop's margin of 42 minutes and 30 seconds. He now leads the parade by 21 minutes 10 seconds.

Dempsey Is on Way to Hear Coliseum Bid

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—[En route to Chicago].—Mr. Ed Cole, the self-confessed wealthy millionaire who joined with Jack Dempsey and Humbert Fugazy in an idealistic plan to uplift the sport of pugilism in those sagging particulars neglected by the late Tex Richard, now seems to be definitely and irreparably out some $16,000 to $75,000. Mr. Dempsey has $40,000 of Mr. Cole's resources and is on a train at this writing bound for Chicago to interview some gentlemen with financial interests in the Coliseum, who also seem a bit touched with this curious millionaire mania for elevating the prize fighting profession.

Dempsey boarded the Manhattan Limited of the Pennsylvania railroad at Newark. Not long before he took his departure with his $40,000, which used to be the extremely wealthy Mr. Cole's $40,000, he received a number of telephone calls from a person with a coarse voice, who spoke of taking him motoring in the suburbs against his will and leaving him in some secluded gully up a side road. Mr. Dempsey said the call came from Mr. John O'Reilly, a prominent racketeer and uncouth character about New York.

Outcries Change Impression.

Judging from the long duration of Mr. Cole's outcries, which have been going on continuously for three days, he thinks quite highly of the sum of $40,000 contrary to the general impression which he had created in his previous remarks about himself and his wealth. A short time ago, Mr. Cole, barked one of his shanks against a granite receptacle beside the desk in Mr. Fugazy's office on Broadway, and yelled a brisk opulent yell.

"This is a hell of an office for a rich millionaire of my type," Mr. Cole exlaimed. "Come on with me. I am going to rent some offices appropriate to the distinguished character of our enterprise and our president, whom I have the honor to be."

"I never travel in one taxicab," Mr. Cole remarked. "What is the use of

AN APPRECIATION.

Honor the men of '61
Who still uphold the flag.
And those few are bereft

And shaken by the breeze
A moment, falling, drift between
So those who marched off in their prime
To fight the war they won
Are drifting on the winds of time . . .

That Big Ten Situation.

Dear Harve: A word from a recent alumnus of Iowa. It seems our suspension was based superficially on charges of "proselyting." We've prided ourselves at S. U. I. on our endeavor to maintain a high standard of athletic purity. At times such purity has been irksome, especially when defeated by other conference teams whose mainstays have been Iowa-reared products.

I may mention Marek and Uridil of Ohio State, Murrell of Minnesota and Army, Crofoot of Wisconsin, Roberts and Muhl of Illinois, Layden of Notre Dame, Holman of Parsons, Iowa State and Ohio State, and his teammate, Eby. We couldn't even "buy" Harrison Barnes of Chicago and he lived at Cedar Rapids, 26 miles from Iowa City.

Why was not this action debated at length, and why were we not given a chance to defend ourselves?

Iowa '27.

Dear Wake: Why should Iowa alone be accused? I am a Maroon supporter and bear no inordinate love for Iowa, but I can see no difference between its tactics and those of other conference schools.

For instance, a certain Chicago all-city prep football star is going to a state university, not Iowa. He told me recently he would be paid $500 "expense money" if he made good at football. He did not say by whom—probably by an alumni association. I know of another prep who went to a Big Ten college under similar circumstances. He did not make good and he received no "expense money." So why is an example made of Iowa? Keystone.

HTW: Just recommending Wheaton H. S. for Iowa's place in the Big Ten. Wheaton won football, basketball, and track championships of the Little Seven. How about a little credit? Go Bo.

CHICAGO'S GOLF ARMY MOBILIZES FOR PLAY TODAY

Thousands Eager to Try Putts, Drives.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Harried by an overdose of rain this spring and only able to start grooving their swings by regular practice in the last few days, 50,000 or more Chicago golfers will open the season today. The courses won't be in the best of condition because of that soaking they got for weeks, but the weather man promises to provide the same great golfing weather of the last few days, with only a hint that there may be a local thundershower or two.

While most of the 138 private golf clubs have had some form of club competition in the last few weeks, Memorial day, first of the three biggest golf days of the season, is the real opening. Each club has worked out a full program of golf, while many will qualify players for match rounds for various trophies.

In keeping with the day, the flag tournament is one of the favorite forms of competition and probably four out of five clubs will have such a contest. Otherwise the programs are as varied as possible.

Three Trophies at Calumet.

At Edgewater, members will qualify in two classes for the spring tournament, as well as compete for low net foursome. In the afternoon the competition will be mixed two-ball foursomes.

Calumet has three trophies in the competition, the Gerald J. Garvey trophy, 18 holes handicap, the I. S. Hopkins trophy, 36 holes handicap, and the James Rose trophy, 36 holes low gross. In addition there is a best ball foursome, match play against par, a driving contest, flag contest, and late in the afternoon a two-ball, selective drive, foursome contest.

Glen View offers a choice score event at 36 holes, a medal play handicap and a sweepstakes. Onwentsia's program includes play for the Onwentsia goblet, an age limit handicap medal play event, the president's trophies, 36 holes low gross and low net and the George A. McKinlock Jr. memorial cup, 18 holes handicap, open to ex-service men.

Dedicate Outdoor Pool.

Chicago Golf club will dedicate its new $25,000 outdoor swimming pool, and the members will play golf for four trophies. They are the Dr. John M. Murphy memorial cup, choice score on 36 holes; the Jarvis Hunt Sr. trophy, low net, in the morning; the Thomas Miller trophy, low net in the afternoon, and George Strom trophy, low net for guests.

Skipping to the south side again, Beverly offers a 36 hole handicap for three classes, while Olympia Fields has the usual "four-course" golf menu. The greens section tournament, match play against par, three-quarters handicap, will be held on all courses, while the specified course competitions are: No. 1, 18 holes, handicap; No. 2, mixed foursomes; No. 4, blind bogie.

Medinah, another multiple course club, will open its No. 3 course for the first time in tournament play. Low gross and low net for 36 holes and the like for the 18 holes on any of the three courses is the menu.

Courses to Be Crowded.

Rolling Green opens with low gross and low net contests in each class; North Shore has low gross and low net, both morning and afternoon, in four classes. South Shore offers 27 holes match play against par for the Walter C. Atwell trophy. Crystal Lake has 18 holes medal play and ball sweepstakes and two ball mixed foursomes in the afternoon.

One might run through the list of the other clubs, but suffice to say that all the golf courses will be in use from morning until dark today, and this especially holds true for the public parks and daily fee courses. Many of the private clubs have added dinner dances to their programs to complete the day.

100,000 FANS ADVANCE ON INDIANAPOLIS

Phil Pardee Crashes

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.—(AP)—Phil Pardee of Los Angeles, who qualified the car originally prepared for Ralph De Palma, in 33d position, for tomorrow's 500 mile race, was definitely eliminated tonight when he hit the wall on the northeast turn of the track while practicing. Pardee, slightly injured, was taken to the city hospital.

As a result of the accident all drivers from 24th position on moved up one place, and Bill Lindau, Pittsburgh, driving a Miller Special, will take the 33d position. Lindau qualified his car in 34th position, just out of the original starting list.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Speed enthusiasts from five surrounding states, more than 100,000 strong, congest the highways leading to Indianapolis tonight. Veterans of the traffic control staff at the Speedway say that no such numbers ever before descended on Indianapolis for the Memorial day 500 mile race classic. Lines at the entrance gates of Speedway park were formed early this morning and these early birds will sleep or drowse in their places tonight to be first at the wicket when the park opens at daylight tomorrow. In the vacant fields surrounding the park tents began dotting the landscape early this morning and by twilight the area resembled the huge camp of an invading army.

CLIFF WOODBURY.

There will be $50,000 paid to the drivers in tomorrow's race, it was announced by T. E. Myers at the final meeting of pilots this evening. The prize money is $50,000, with $10,000 added for consolation prizes, and $20,000 for the fastest laps.

Climax to Small Car Racing.

The seats in the mile of stands facing the stretch were practically exhausted Sunday and thousands of cars are waiting to rush the gates to try for preferred locations on the infield parking area. With fair weather the speedway officials predict an overwhelming climax for speedway events on the occasion of the seventeenth annual classic which is the closing appearance of the little 91 cubic inch displacement machines in official contest.

In the city every hotel is crowded to the hallways and thousands of cars are parked on the streets, garage room being no longer available even at high premium.

To help swell the crowd and lend conventional zest to the occasion, the benign prohibition enforcement establishment has concentrated several hundred operatives in Indianapolis for the period of the race event. The feeling among the local citizens, speedway officials and distinguished visitors that there was impending shortage of liquor for the occasion was relieved when the news was released by James G. Browning, acting federal prohibition administrator, that snoopers from at least five surrounding states were bearing down upon the city for a three day visit.

While it may be a coincidence, it is apparent that a plentiful supply of liquor began coming to the surface at about the time the "concentration" of federal agents developed. Tonight at a number of banquets and the clubs and leading hotels liquor was flowing freely, and evening papers reported the arrest of a dozen or more intoxicated drivers during the day.

Only eleven of the thirty-three qualified drivers turned up less than 110 miles an hour in the trials, and track experts see a possibility of average speed increase tomorrow. Fair weather has been predicted.

Woodbury Is Favored.

Cliff Woodbury, Chicago garage manager and audacious dirt track performer, is looked upon as a good possibility for the money tomorrow, as is also Billy Arnold, former University of Illinois quarterback and professional musician, both are entered to drive Boyle Valve specials, cars entered by Mike Boyle of Chicago, in the front wheel drive class.

Leon Duray, a consistent track performer and always a favorite, has general backing, as has also Pete De Paolo, Lou Moore, Jimmy Gleason, and Ralph Hepburn, all veterans. Depe is an elusive quantity in this form of racing, however, as mechanical fortune is the most important factor. Endurance and continuous performance, it is contended, wins 500 mile races, so that the uncertainties of mechanical perfection usually upset all predictions.

The race is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the starting gun will be discharged on the second, as has been the custom for the last sixteen years.

KHARA, the fleet filly from the Rancocas stable of New York, was made the overnight favorite at 2 to 1 to win the $5,000 Debutante stakes at Washington Park this afternoon. The stake comes fifth on the program and will be run about 5 o'clock Chicago time. Washington Park officials expect all Chicago turf crowd records to be broken today and are prepared to handle a gathering of 50,000. The field, arranged in the order of post positions, follows:

BY FRENCH LANE.

Old Canaan came bounding home in front in the Dearborn purse at Washington Park yesterday. It was the same Canaan which thrilled more than one big Chicago crowd last season as he got the decision over good horses, but was so lightly regarded he frequently paid 50 to 1 to his backers.

Most of the 7,500 fans at Washington Park must have thought he was going to perform another miracle and pay 50 to 1. There were so many of this opinion that they backed Canaan with so much money he was the top-heavy favorite at post time, paying $4.24 in the mutuels.

When Canaan galloped to the lead before they rounded out half the mile journey the race was over. They should have hung out his number and started paying off then. He ran the eight furlongs in 1:39 and he was all the way from three to five lengths in front during the remainder of the journey.

Misstep's Stable Mate.

Just as they neared the finish line Jockey Shropshire pulled him up and was content to win by a length and a half from Blessefield, which had been a forward contender all the way. Devon, which seemed to be trying to hide back in the rear guard during the early stages, put on one of his fine stretch drives, but it only availed him the slim end of the purse.

Canaan is a stable mate of the mighty Misstep from the Lemar, Stock Farm stable of Kentucky. He is trained by Mose Lowenstein of Chicago. He frequently works with Misstep during the morning training hour. Misstep apparently has been teaching the old fellow how to improve his game.

The east made a complete sweep of the Convoy purse, that drew a field of six stylish 2 year olds. From beginning to end they dominated the running. Jimmy Moran, owned by E. K. Bryson of Maryland, beat Tombereau from the W. R. Coe barn of New York by three lengths. Five lengths behind the leaders came Pro Tem, a brown colt from W Du Pont's Fox Catcher farm string of Maryland.

Nears Track Record.

Soon after the start Tombereau rushed to the front and was three lengths in advance of the field as he rounded the lower bend. He continued to lead into the stretch. Jockey L. Morris roused Jimmy Moran at that stage and the son of Lucky Hour-Memento sailed to the front with a brilliant burst of speed. Once whipped, Tombereau made no effort to keep with the winner.

Jimmy Moran ran the five furlongs in 1:01, within fractions of the track record. He looks like a high class youngster. Despite the fact that most of the juveniles from the east are comparative strangers to Chicago racegoers, they win stout backing here. Jimmy Moran was the favorite at 3 to 2 and there was a heavy play on Tombereau. They had the race between them all the way.

Charley Bidwell's Chicago silks again were prominent when his Hidden Thoughts, a bay daughter of Last Coin-Laughing Eyes, accounted for the seven and a half furlong second race.

Armour Tech ran its season's record to 13 victories and one defeat by trouncing the Chicago Y college nine, 7 to 1, yesterday. Armour clinched the game by scoring three runs in the first. Score:

Armour Tech	320	101	00*—7	11	0

Batteries—Sistrunic and Reed; Stehno and Yount.

HURLS NO HIT GAME.

Sterling, Ill., May 29.—(Special.)—Fred Obda Jr. pitched a no hit, no run game for the Harvesters against the All-Stars in a local industrial league game. Only one man got to first on a walk. The Harvesters won, 7 to 0.

CARDS REGISTER DOUBLE TRIUMPH, 4 TO 3 AND 6 TO 2

Haid and Johnson Puzzle Cincinnati Hitters.

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals ended a four game losing streak today by taking a double header from Cincinnati, 4 to 3 and 6 to 2. Harold Haid pitched nine ball baseball for the Cards for seven innings in the first game, but allowed four hits in the eighth. Syl Johnson pitched well for the Cards in the nightcap, too.

Robins Move West Today, Shy Their Ace, Dazzy Vance

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn's main reliance in the pitching box, will not be able to make the western trip with his team because of illness.

Vance has been under the weather for some time, but his physicians just have diagnosed his trouble as inflammation of the bladder and advised that he undergo treatment at once. The medical men say that he will be out of the game for several weeks and that if he attempted to work in his present condition he might suffer permanent injury and perhaps end his baseball career.

The Dodgers therefore will leave tomorrow night for St. Louis without their hurling ace.

Pirates Beat Cubs in First Place Battle

for the Pirates in the second, third and fourth innings, but the routine was interrupted in the fifth. Sheely walked. Wilson made a great diving-sliding catch to get Hargreave's fly, but Swetonic singled to left, Sheely stopping at second. Bartell singled to right, but the slow moving Sheely was held at third, and the bases were full with one out. L. Waner flied to Cuyler and the runners held on. Malone walked P. Waner, forcing in Sheely. Traynor singled to center, scoring Swetonic and Bartell. Then Malone was relieved by Cvengros.

Hornsby Scores English.

Traynor apparently was trapped off first, Cvengros to Grimm, but when Grimm threw to English, P. Waner started for home and beat English's throw standing up. Grantham popped to Grimm. The score was Pirates, 6; Cubs, 0.

It was in the eighth inning that the Cubs got around to having a modicum of pleasure for themselves. After McMillan had lined to Sheely, English singled to center and stopped at second when Cuyler's third hit dropped in left. Hornsby's third hit went to center, scoring English and putting Cuyler on third. Ki scored on Wilson's sacrifice fly. Heathcote singled to center, Hornsby taking third. When Swetonic walked Grimm, Hill relieved him. The walk filled the bases. Grace was out, Sheely to Hill, who covered first.

Hornsby's famed shyness about pop flies led to an added marker for the Pirates in the eighth. Rogers side stepped Grantham's high one, and Heathcote was too far away to take over the play for him. George got credit for a double. He scored when Brickell got a legit double to right.

Iowa Awaits "Rehearing"; Alumni Meet

Iowa City, Ia., May 29.—[Special.]—Quiet reigned on the Iowa sector of the Big Ten battle front tonight, while the university campus awaited word from the Western conference faculty committee of the date at which the Hawkeye institution will be heard on its petition for reinstatement.

The only new development in prospect here within the next few days is the meeting of the University Alumni association to be held Satusday evening in connection with the annual commencement exercises. The organization at that time probably will act on one of the resolutions passed yesterday by the Iowa athletic council, in which the alumni association was asked to lend its backing to the athletic council in carrying out in letter and spirit the rules and regulations of the Western conference concerning intercollegiate athletics.

It is expected that the alumni association will vote its support of the council as requested in the resolution, but Prof. F. G. Higbee, secretary of the alumni association and its representative on the athletic council, expressed doubt tonight whether the graduates would take any other action.

University officials this morning still were dodging the question of a "slush fund" for athletes at Iowa. They would give no direct answer to the statements of Prof. George Goodenough, chairman of the faculty committee of the conference, that Iowa, in its campaign for reinstatement, must assure not only complete faculty control of athletics but discontinuance of an alumni athletic fund.

Athletics Win 7 to 1 Decision from Red Sox

Boston, Mass., May 29.—(AP)—George Earnshaw's pitching set the Athletics back in the winning track today, and the Philadelphia team gained a 7 to 1 victory over the Red Sox. Earnshaw allowed only six hits. In the fifth inning, with two out, Simmons blasted a homer over the left field wall. Hale then singled and Foxx duplicated Simmons' feat. In the third, MacFayden filled the bases by hitting two men and walking one. This set the stage for Cochrane's single which scored two runs. Score:

Helen Wills Continues March to French Women's Net Title

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 29.—In about as much time as it takes to tell it, Helen Wills skipped through to the quarter finals of the French women's singles championship, her victim today being Billie Tapscott, the South African star. The Californian won, 6—1, 6—3, letting up somewhat in the final stanza possibly because she wanted to run over all of her bag of strokes before quitting time.

That bag is just as full as ever, she ably demonstrated that. Her varied pace seemed to be even more effective than last year and with greater variety to her game there has been no let up to her terrific speed.

Keeps Opponent on Run.

She kept Miss Tapscott scampering and skidding about the court like a pendulum until the South African almost collapsed. Miss Billie got just 14 points in the first set, six of them in the second game which she deuced twice and which was the only one she won. In the next five games she made six points.

Going after every possible chance, Miss Tapscott made a number of nice retrieves in the second set, and breaking through the Californian's service for the first and only time, she evened the count at three apiece. The effort was too much for her, however, and Helen grabbed the next three games for the set and the match.

Miss Wills' semi-final opponent will be Eileen Bennett of England who eliminated Mlle. Barbier today, 6—3, 6—2. Miss Heine, a South African champion, and Mrs. Watson, an English star, are semi-finalists in the other bracket.

Mrs. Bundy Defeated.

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy tried valiently today to pit her court experience against the youth of Frau Friedleben and just failed. She was beaten, 7—5, 6—1, after she was within a point of winning the first set.

Bill Tilden and Francis Hunter, who have been experiencing trouble in getting acclimated, should advance to the quarter finals tomorrow. Tilden meets his boy pupil Junior Coen of Kansas City and Hunter plays Matejka, the Austrian Davis cup player.

Mandell-Kaplan Bout Is Off After U. S. Demands Profits

As a result of the government's intention of collecting $40,000 amusement taxes, Promoter James C. Mullen yesterday called off the boxing show scheduled for Mills stadium tomorrow night. This action was predicted in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

The principals in the windup, who have been training in Chicago for the last ten days, were to have been Sammy Mandell, the world's lightweight champion, and Louis Kaplan, former holder of the 126 pound title.

Mullen could not be reached at his office in the Barry gymnasium yesterday. His secretary said he knew nothing of his whereabouts or what his plans are for the future. The only information obtainable was that the show positively had been called off.

According to attaches of Mullen's office, the affair dates back seven years when Jim ran a show for political purposes at the Dexter Park pavilion. At the time Mullen understood there would be no tax. The money was turned over to the political campaign. According to the promoter's secretary, the penalties for not paying the tax have brought the amount to $40,000.

Mullen's associates declare there was nothing else for Mullen to do than to call off the show under the conditions. Money was refunded yesterday to those who had purchased tickets for tomorrow night's show according to Sol Katz, Mullen's ticket manager.

Earl Mastro, west side featherweight, has been signed to meet Midget Mike O'Dowd of Columbus, O., in one of the ten rounders of Promoter Paddy Harmon's show at the Chicago Stadium on June 7. The match was closed yesterday by Matchmaker Nate Lewis.

Wieman Says He'll Remain at Michigan

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 29.—[Special.]—Tad Wieman, ousted as head coach at Michigan, remained ready today to obey the orders of his chief, Fielding Yost.

It was believed this morning that Wieman would resign from the university under the sting of what many here feel was an unjust action on the part of Director Yost, but he denied any intention of leaving Michigan in his statement this afternoon. He said:

"I have not resigned from my position at Michigan. I have had just one objective—to serve Michigan in any and every way I could. This I have done to the best of my ability at all times. This I intend to continue doing as long as there is work here for me to do. I am for Michigan first, last, and always. I have not the slightest intention of voluntarily severing my connection with my alma mater."

The big problem in restoring tranquillity seems to rest on Yost's shoulders, it being up to him to find some suitable assignment for Tad, his pupil. As director of athletics at Michigan Yost has full charge of assigning the various coaches their duties.

BOLSTAD WINS CONFERENCE GOLF TITLE WITH 313

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—(AP)—Playing brilliant golf during the entire tournament, Lester Bolstad, coach-captain of the University of Minnesota golf team, today won the Big Ten championship by a margin of five strokes over a field of twenty-eight players from seven schools.

Runner up in the 1928 tournament, Bolstad succeeds John Lehman of Purdue, who did not defend the title, as champion. John Burgelin of Michigan staged a comeback today to take second place with a 318 total.

Lymperopolous Will Lead 1930 Illini Baseball Team

Urbana, Ill., May 29.—(AP)—James Lymperopolous, Argo, Ill., today was elected captain of the 1930 University of Illinois baseball team, and Verne McDermott was named to lead next year's Illini trackmen. Lymperopolous has played first base for two years, and McDermott starred in the pole vault, tieing with Tom Warne, Northwestern, in the Big Ten meet last week.

being a high powered young millionaire with business connections leading right into J. P. Morgan's office, if you can have only one taxicab at a time."

"That's the Office We Want."

Mr. Cole directed the expedition up to the General Motors building, a few blocks up the street, and, in looking over the available office suites, chanced to glimpse the interior of the president's office, which I understand is done in the Westminster Abbey style so much favored by the captains of industry at this time.

"That is just the kind of an office we want," Mr. Cole exclaimed heartily. "Fix us up a suite just like this."

"It will cost about $20,000 to duplicate the decorations, and the furniture will come to about half that much," said the agent. "And the rent will be about $60,000 a year."

"Don't bother me with the details," Mr. Cole interrupted quickly. "I always let the vice president in charge of details take care of such matters. Just send the lease and the contracts down to me."

Fugazy Seems to Profit.

Mr. Dempsey states that there has been a false impression regarding the business sessions of the late financial and artistic alliance of Dempsey, Fugazy, and Cole. It has been thought that the boys dissolved the alliance because it was mutually impossible for them to get any money out of one another. On the contrary, he tells me that both he and Mr. Fugazy did quite well, as he derived $40,000, and he thinks Mr. Fugazy has managed to gather some $350,000 himself. In addition to all this, Mr. Cole assumed the pay roll of Mr. Dempsey's personal staff, including his secretary, Leonard Sacks, and his salaried companion, Mr. Larry Smith.

Heeney Wins on Foul in 8th from Elezear Rioux

Pheasant Eggs Distributed by State Game Farm

BY BOB BECKER.

Pheasant eggs are being distributed by the Illinois department of conservation, and according to Ralph F. Bradford, director of the department, farmers, estate owners, and others who want a setting of these eggs for hatching on their property should get in touch with the department at once.

Applications should be made in writing to the department of conservation, Springfield, Ill. Bradford advises us that orders will be filled as long as the eggs last.

The state is supplying pheasant eggs from its game farm at Yorkville, Ill. When we visited the farm a few days ago the pheasants were laying approximately 650 eggs each day. Nearly 12,500 of these eggs were being incubated by sitting hens on the farm. Adult pheasants hatched by the hard working chickens will be distributed throughout the state later in the year.

A few weeks ago five crows discovered the egg crop in the pheasant pens. Immediately the daily record sheet of eggs gathered by the gamekeepers showed a decided decrease. Shotguns were loaded and the boys sailed into the crows. Three of the five were killed and the other two were touched up with small shot. They haven't returned to the pens since then.

On the day following this successful attack the egg production chart showed a jump from 517 to 662. In other words, with the egg eating crows out of the way it was possible to get a 25 per cent increase in the egg output.

CLUB ORDERED TO PAY DUNDEE $10,000 PURSE

Joe Dundee, world's welterweight boxing champion, yesterday won his fight against the Wisconsin Boxing club of Milwaukee to recover $10,000 guaranteed him for his services against Pinky Mitchell in 1927.

In the sixth round the bout was stopped by Victor Manhardt, a member of the Wisconsin state athletic commission, who charged Dundee was not trying. Dundee's guarantee was held up and placed in the hands of the state commission.

Yesterday a Superior court jury returned a verdict for Dundee, directing payment by the boxing club, which promoted the fight.

3 YACHT RACES TODAY LAUNCH CHICAGO SEASON

Chicago yachtsmen will start their racing season today when the Chicago Yacht, Columbia, and Jackson Park clubs stage races over the respective local courses.

At the Chicago Yacht club, twenty-five or more members will tour the triangular course off Belmont harbor. A Columbia Yacht club squadron of about fifteen will start the year's series on the navy pier course, in which Bob Copper's "S" class Marilyn, a newcomer to these waters, will show her wares for the first time. The Jackson Park Yacht club sailors hold their own festival on the south side course.

Busy Season Ahead.

The Memorial day races, open only to club members, precede a season full of regattas, cup racing, and long distance cruising races. Late in June, the yachtsmen will gather for the Columbia Yacht club's annual Michigan City race, thus starting the open season. The Jackson Park Yacht club follows with its annual Chicago to Saugatuck race, while the last week in July will find a fleet headed to Mackinac island for the twenty-third time under the auspices of the Chicago Yacht club.

While the bigger racing yachts and the cruisers compete in the long distance contests, the smaller class racers will be busy at home. The Jackson Park Yacht club acts as host for members of the "Q" class, first in the Virginia cup series, early in the season, and later in the Lutz Trophy series in September. In these contests, old rivals will meet again for the silver trophies, now held by Karas Brothers' Siren of the Chicago Yacht club. At Jackson park, O'Rourke Brothers' Intruder, seven times winner of the Bennett cup, will defend against the efforts of Hal Redmon's Columbia and Bob Williamson's Edith II., Intruder's old rivals for the Jackson Park Yacht club championship.

Navy Pier Races Last.

In August, the Chicago Yacht club's fleet of "R" boats again will sail the Lipton cup series with Clark Wright's Ardelle, the present holder of the trophy, defending. At the same time, the fleet of "Eagle" class boats at Belmont harbor will sail for the Nutting cup.

Labor day will see the Chicago Yacht club's eighteenth annual triangular race, three days' sailing around the southern end of Lake Michigan, and in October, the Chicago Yacht club will close its season with its annual navy pier regatta.

RIVAL OAK BROOK TEAMS CLASH ON POLO FIELD TODAY

Two polo teams, both recruited from personnel available at Oak Brook, will clash this afternoon, starting at 3:30 o'clock, in a preliminary test on the playing field on York road, near Hinsdale. The one team, captained by Paul Butler, will be styled the Four Horsemen. The other, under guidance of Col. R. R. McCormick, will be known as the Cantignys.

WHEAT RECOVERS SLIGHTLY UPON BETTER BUYING

Corn Firm Early; Drops Off Near Close.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A slight change in sentiment was noticeable yesterday amongst wheat traders and a good class of buying was in evidence early. Prices were lifted 1⅛@1⅛c over the finish of Tuesday, some operators going long in expectations of a good export business developing in hard winters and on a behalf that crop prospects were too favorable to be maintained. However, the best figures were not maintained, due to evening up for the holiday, and the finish was well toward the bottom with prices only ⅛@⅜c higher, May being 97c; July, $1.00⅛; September, 1.04⅛@1.04⅜, and December, $1.09⅛@109¼.

Corn was firmer early, but eased toward the last and finished ⅛@⅛c lower, with December leading. May closed at 80⅜@80⅝c; July, 82½@82⅝c; September, 83⅜@83⅝c, and December, 79⅜@79½c. May oats sold down to 41c, a new low on the crop, and closed ⅜c lower at 41⅜c, while deferred futures were ⅛@⅛c higher, with July 41⅛c and September 41¼c. Rye was 1c lower to ⅝c higher, with May, 80c; July, 78⅝c, and September, 81⅛c.

Export Business Large.

A material improvement in the export demand for wheat was reported, with sales in all positions the last two days estimated at 3,000,000 bu or more, the total including some hard winter via the gulf. Removal of hedges was a factor in giving Winnipeg considerable strength and it closed ⅝@1⅛c higher, while Liverpool advanced sharply toward the last and finished 1⅝@1⅞d higher. There was some buying of December wheat here credited to foreign account.

Harvesting of winter wheat is expected to get under way in the advanced sections of Kansas around June 15, and in the balance of the state June 20 to 25. Crop comments from the southwest were favorable, and good rains were shown in the American northwest, but there was practically no precipitation in Canada, and the forecast was for generally fair and continued warm in the prairie provinces over the holiday. Winnipeg and Liverpool will be open today, while all American exchanges will be closed.

Corn Reacts from Bulge.

Short covering and commission house buying lifted corn prices ⅛@1c in the early trading, but the outside interest was not large and as soon as the buying ceased the market reversed its action and the finish was about the inside figures. Weather conditions over the belt were favorable for the field work, but the government weekly report showed that planting was 2 to 3 weeks late in some sections of the belt, although the delay in Iowa has been made up. In Kansas 75 to 100 per cent of the corn has been planted. Shipping demand was fair, with sales of 132,000 bu, and the spot basis was steady to ½c higher. New Orleans and New York outbid Chicago around 1¼c per bu for yellow corn downstate, and local prices were said to have been within 2c of an export basis via Montreal.

PRODUCE MARKETS

CHICAGO LAYS PLAN FOR CALL LOAN MARKET

Assembly Lifts 7% Interest Bar.

The New York and Chicago stock exchanges, the Chicago Board of Trade, the Chicago livestock market, and all other principal commodity markets throughout the country will be closed today in observance of Memorial day. The banks also will be closed.

BY O. A. MATHER.

One of the greatest handicaps to the Chicago securities markets was removed yesterday when the Illinois legislature passed the "call money bill." The measure is an amendment to the usury act and exempts demand loans on securities from the limitation of 7 per cent interest.

The amendment was passed by the house yesterday by a vote of 99 to 12. It previously had passed the senate and now goes to Gov. Emmerson for final disposal. If approved, the Chicago stock exchange, curb exchange, and Board of Trade will be placed on even terms with the New York securities markets in maintaining a call money market and bidding for loans on securities.

The Chicago stock exchange plans to establish an open call money market similar to that operated by the New York stock exchange. Heretofore the Chicago exchange has maintained a call money desk, but its operation was handicaped by the legal interest limit, particularly at times when the New York call money rate ran far above 7 per cent.

Will Attract Funds.

"The Chicago exchange and our banks and brokers now will be able to bid for funds on even terms with the New York exchanges and their members," R. Arthur Wood, president of the Chicago stock exchange explained last night. "We expect to attract several hundred million dollars to the Chicago call money market.

"The new system will not impose any hardships on any one and will not raise interest rates on small loans on securities made by banks to their customers. The exemption on interest pertains only to sizeable demand loans on securities such as are usually carried by brokers. But the new plan will be of great benefit to the whole middle west and our securities markets. Heretofore much of the surplus money of this territory has gone to New York to be loaned on securities whenever the New York rate has gone above the maximum of 7 per cent permitted in Illinois.

"The result has been that money has been hardest to borrow in this territory when it was most needed. Funds have been withdrawn from Chicago and the middle west and serious credit stringencies created, with the result that our bankers, brokers and dealers in securities and also our manufacturing and business enterprises have been penalized."

The New York Federal Reserve bank last night announced no change in its 5 per cent rediscount rate. The directors met a day earlier than usual because of the holiday today. The federal reserve board at Washington held two meetings but no announcement was forthcoming.

Steel Reviews Cheerful.

Although the automobile plants are curtailing their takings of steel, there are no evidences of a general decline in demand, according to the mid-week steel trade reviews.

"Shipments continue at a high rate and ingot production for May will show little, if any, reduction from that of March or April, completing the third month of virtually capacity operations," the Iron Age says. "Ingot output of the United States Steel corporation subsidiaries last week, at nearly 500,000 tons, set a new six day record. Meanwhile, mill backlogs are surprisingly well maintained despite the high rate of shipments during the last month.

"Construction work show no decline and may take more, rather than less, steel in the immediate future. Large projects are numerous. A branch of construction activity that is steadily gaining in importance is highway building. Road machinery manufacturers are consuming steel at the limit of their plant capacities. Shipbuilding programs continue to mature. Railroads, despite delayed deliveries on their winter purchases of rails, are taking more interest in their supplementary needs."

BOND MARKET RESPONDS TO EASIER MONEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—A slight response to the prevailing relatively low rates for call money was demonstrated in the bond market today, especially in the action of the government issues, which are more sensitive to the ups and downs of money quotations than any other class of securities.

The long term treasury certificates on quite normal transactions advanced from ⅛ to ⅜. On the other hand, the first Liberty 3½s touched a new low, now 3⅛ points below the high of the year. The other Liberty showed little rally from their recent decline. High grade corporation bonds were irregular. Atchison general 4s declined ½, or within a fraction of the low of the year, but Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, and Canadian Pacific mortgages were firm. There was also a slightly better tone to the listed public utilities.

In the lower grades of railroad issues not much improvement was shown. Kansas City Southern refunding 5s, which went to 99¾ early in the year, were quoted at 93⅛ today. St. Paul first 4s sold at 80. Erie refunding 5s were heavy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—Stockholders of the Bethlehem Steel corporation today approved plans to increase authorized common stock from 2,700,000 of $100 par value to 5,000,000 shares of no par, and to offer $600,000 additional shares to present stockholders at $85 in the ratio of one new share for each three held.

The rights will accrue to holders of record May 29 and expire June 18. Bethlehem has outstanding 1,800,000 common of $100 par.

Sale of the new stock will provide $51,000,000 new cash in addition to $85,000,000 in cash and marketable securities it held at the end of last year. Proceeds will be devoted to enlarging producing capacity to provide for rapidly expanding business. Operations in April were at about 102 per cent of rated capacity.

Eugene G. Grace, president of the company, said that Bethlehem's second quarter earnings would be "at least as satisfactory" as those of the first, which were the best peacetime earnings in the corporation's history. "Business has been holding well," he told the stockholders. "The first two months of the second quarter have shown in excess of rated capacity operations and June should do as well."

Little let up in demand had been noted, he asserted, adding that although some recession was probable, it was not expected to be as extensive as in other years.

BURLINGTON TO FINISH TWIN TRACK PROGRAM

The Burlington railroad will finish its $15,000,000 double tracking program between Chicago and Minneapolis about July 1, it was announced yesterday. The work was begun in 1911 but was stopped by the war in 1915 after 60 miles had been completed, but the work has gone on rapidly since 1920. The program included elimination of many curves, grade reductions, and new bridges that made the cost run over $60,000 a mile.

"On the old single track 45 miles an hour was the maximum speed for the average passenger train, while over the new double track heavy trains may be operated at 60 to 70 miles an hour," President F. E. Williamson said. "The improvement is part of the great plan of betterments outlined by the late James J. Hill."

A new line of railroad in Texas 110 miles long is planned by the Colorado and Southern railway, which is a unit of the Burlington system. In an application to the interstate commerce commission the Fort Worth and Denver Northern Railway company, a new corporation organized by the Colorado and Southern, asked permission to build from Childress to Pampa, both in Texas, declaring that the route would pass through territory now heavily engaged in oil and agricultural production. Funds for the construction will be advanced by the Colorado and Southern. No estimate of cost was given.

DIRECTORS OF JOLIET BANKS VOTE MERGER

A merger of the First National Bank of Joliet and the Commercial Trust and Savings bank was approved by their directorates yesterday, forming the largest bank in Illinois outside of Chicago. Its combined capital will be $1,040,000 and its total deposits $20,000,000.

Stockholders will be asked to sanction the consolidation at a meeting June 28. The merger plan calls for an exchange of stock by which Commercial Trust and Savings bank shareholders will receive two shares of First National bank stock for each Commercial bank share held. The new bank will be called the First National bank and will be housed in the latter's building.

George Woodruff, chairman of the board of the National Bank of the Republic at Chicago and of the First National Bank of Joliet, will be chairman of the combined bank. John T. Clyne, chairman of the Commercial Trust and Savings bank, will become vice chairman in the combination. Frederick W. Woodruff, brother of the chairman, will be president and Robert Cameron, executive vice president.

Survey Finds Corporations in Better Financial Position

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—A better financial position for corporations at the close of 1928 than a year previous is shown in a study by Ernest & Ernst of the balance sheets of 914 companies representing 25 or more different lines of industry. The study shows in the aggregate current assets of $12,576,925,177, net working capital of $9,894,145,203 and cash and marketable securities of $3,853,292,456 at the close of 1928, representing increases of 9.13 per cent, 8.63 per cent and 13.09 per cent, respectively, over the close of 1927.

Transcontinental 48 Hour Air-Rail Service July 8

New York, May 29.—[A. P.]—A 48 hour rail and air service between New York and Los Angeles over the lines of the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe railroads and the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., will be inaugurated July 8. Daylight airplane hops on the route will be made between Columbus, O., and Waynoka, Okla., and between Clovis, N. M., and Los Angeles. The fare will be $344.50, compared with the all-rail fare of $142.40.

Approve Loan to Refinish Dollar Line Steamships

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The shipping board today approved a loan of $1,125,000 for reconditioning and improving four passenger-cargo steamships of the Dollar Steamship company. The ships are the S. S. President Harrison, President Garfield, President Adams, and one ship yet to be chosen.

Risk Firms See Safety in Air Travel

BY SCRUTATOR.

One of the best indications that travel by airplane is not especially hazardous on the regular lines is the attitude taken by insurance companies toward travelers and pilots who want protection.

With some slight qualifications, it may be stated that the occasional passenger is not penalized at all on his regular personal policies already in force. An investigation has disclosed that out of fifty leading insurance companies in the United States and Canada, forty-two have no clauses against flying, and eight have them in somewhat modified form. And of the fifty, nineteen are willing to consider new applications from persons who state that they fly or intend to fly in the near future. The charge is from $5 to $25 extra premium for each $1,000.

Habitual flyers have a little more difficulty. Some companies, according to Prof. Stephen B. Sweeney of the University of Pennsylvania, make no extra charge for those who indulge in only four or five flights a year. He adds that air mail pilots, who despite the conditions under which they work meet with few accidents, can obtain up to $10,000 of life insurance at additional cost that will not exceed $12.50 per $1,000.

Adopt Agreement.

Generally speaking, pilots and passengers not flying on the established lines are not well regarded as risks. Canadian insurance companies recently adopted a loose agreement to give pilots between well equipped airports rates as low as $15 on the $1,000 above the usual cost. Pilots on other established lines not so well fitted out were to be charged from $25 to $50 extra, and aerial photographers $50. Student pilots were to be refused insurance and also owner pilots, except under exceptional circumstances.

With insurance people, the figures on deaths and the miles flown in specified types of flying have the most weight. An official of a concern accepting flying risks stated a few months ago the manner in which the rates were found. On contract mail lines it was learned that there was in 1927 one death of a pilot for every million miles flown. The extra premium to be charged them was thus figured at one-tenth of a cent a mile for each $1,000 of insurance. For one who flew 50,000 miles in the course of a year the rate was fixed at $50 additional.

But apparently more complete figures have shown that a mail pilot's hazards have been reduced. Few companies, however, want to take them for amounts as large as the $10,000 mentioned by Prof. Sweeney, and nearly all prefer to hold them to a total of $1,000 or $2,000.

In the air services not connected with the regular lines with schedules, the insurance statisticians learned that thirty-five pilots and seventy-eight passengers were killed in 1927, and that $3 per cent of the pilots were unlicensed. For lack of data on total number of such flights or of miles flown no accurate rates have been fixed for individuals and the companies appear to have taken the position that they do not want the business.

Accident Policies.

Accident policies can be obtained at standard rates, for single trips or on an annual basis, by passengers who are willing to confine their travel to the scheduled lines. Accident premiums for travel on other planes run as high as $100 per $1,000 of insurance, which Prof. Sweeney holds to be far too high, as the most hazardous test flying can be covered amply at $60.

Admittedly aviation is too recent a development to permit of accurate cost figures for insurance. Many companies are making detailed studies which it is believed will bring about lower rates. There is keen competition for the available business, not only in personal hazards, but for third party liability and for property. Insurance men are setting up inspection services that eventually may make it possible to sift all the good risks from the bad.

Pass Bill Authorizing Action on Land Grants

Washington, May 29.—(AP)—A bill to enable Attorney General Mitchell to institute legal proceedings for a final demonstration of the rights of the government and the Northern Pacific Railroad company as to land grants was passed today by the senate and sent to the house.

WHIRL UTILITY STOCKS UPWARD ON CURB MART

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—Public utility stocks were whirled upward today on the curb market, furnishing the only bright spot in an otherwise dull and irregular market.

Overnight announcement of the directorship of the newly organized Commonwealth and Southern corporation, giving further indications of a big power combine in the making, furnished the impetus for the trading. The center of the fast trading in the utilities was American Super Power, holding large interests in both United Corporation and Commonwealth and Southern, the two Morgan-Bonbright holding companies.

American Super Power new was bought in big blocks and quickly ran up 3¼ points to a new high of 35⅞. Super Power A and B, the old stocks which were split up, soared in sympathy with the new. The A stock was up 12¾ points and the B 5. Electric Bond and Share and Electric Investors shared in the rise, the latter gaining 11 points.

Penn-Ohio Edison and Southeastern Power, affiliated with Commonwealth and Southern, also climbed into new high ground. Southeastern touched 100 for a 3 point gain before it fell back to 98.

Aviation and other groups were mixed. Transcontinental Air Transport, which cracked yesterday under a bear attack, then recovered most of its ground, again was under pressure, selling off fractionally.

Zenith, with a loss of 4¼ points, and Club Aluminum continued to be weak spots. Club Aluminum, after a dive of 11 points yesterday on a flood of selling that caused temporary suspension of trading in the stock on the Chicago exchange, went to a new low at 9½, off 3½.

REO MOTOR CAR CO. AUTHORIZES EXTRA DIVIDEND

Several industrial companies made cheerful dividend announcements yesterday. The Worthington Pump and Machinery company declared dividends of $3.50 on the preferred stock on account of arrears on the class B preferred stock on account of accumulations. The Southland Royalty company declared a quarterly payment of 25 cents, compared with 15 cents previously paid.

The Reo Motor Car company declared an extra dividend of 20 cents and the American Safety Razor company declared 25 cents extra. The Imperial Tobacco company declared an interim dividend of 1½ per cent.

Legislature's Action Makes Board of Trade Men Happy

"Members of the Chicago Board of Trade, bankers, and other financial leaders were elated over the passage of the Board of Trade's bill by the Illinois senate without a dissenting vote," President S. P. Arnot said yesterday. "The Board of Trade is now placed on the same basis as the New York and Chicago stock exchanges. We expect the bill will receive Gov. Emmerson's signature. The Board of Trade is now in a favorable position to push ahead its plans for trading in stocks and bonds and we all feel grateful to the members of the Illinois legislature for their action."

RADIO GROUP BEARS BRUNT OF LOSSES HERE

Club Aluminum May Drop Dividends.

Raytheon was the hardest hit, finishing with a net loss of 7 points for the day. Steinite Radio followed closely, closing off 5½ points. Grigsby Grunow lost 4 points, as did U. S. Radio and Television, and Zenith was off 2⅞. Ken-Rad and American Radio and Televison were both lower.

In the general list Club Aluminum made a new low at 7½ and then rallied and closed at 9, 2 points off for the day. William A. Burnette, president of the company, stated that the directors will probably vote to discontinue dividends for the present. Net earnings from operations for the ten months ended April 30 were approximately $200,000. Total assets as of April 30 were $2,376,903, and current assets $2,097,180, while current liabilities were $366,511, he stated.

Approve Plan.

Bendix Aviation corporation yesterday announced consolidated net profits of $6,166,045 for the predecessor and constituent companies, against $3,217,469 for 1927. The subsidiaries included are the Stromberg Carburetor Company of America, Eclipse Machine company, and the Scintilla Magneto company. The stock closed a fraction higher yesterday at 81¾. Bendix Corporation was up one point.

Directors of the Houdaille-Hershey corporation approved the plan to offer stockholders of General Spring Bumper corporation an exchange of stock on a share for share basis. The plan had previously been approved and recommended to the stockholders by directors of General Spring Bumper. The offer would be effective after distribution of a 50 per cent stock dividend on June 3 to stockholders of the latter company. Houdaille-Hershey A was up 1½ and the B stock was unchanged yesterday. Both the A and B issues of General Spring Bumper were up ½ point.

Among the stock registering gains were Kalamazoo Stove, which closed 2¾ points higher, and Chicago City and Connecting railways, which was up 2 to points. Electric Household netted 1¼ and Monsanto Chemical was up 1⅛.

Special Meeting.

Stockholders of Monsanto will hold a special meeting June 2 to vote on a proposal to increase the capital stock to 500,000 shares of no par value and splitting the stock on a two for one basis.

Ceco Manufacturing Co., Inc., has taken out a license from the Radio Corporation of America for the use of RCA patents, it was announced. Ceco closed 1½ higher.

Seek Lower Grain Rates in Northwest

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Repesentatives of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Minnesota, and Nevada appealed before the interstate commerce commission today for reduced freight rates on grain and grain products. Their arguments were delivered as part of the commission's investigation into freight rates under provisions of the Hoch-Smith resolution. Hearing recesses today until Friday on account of Memorial day.

Raymond L. Dillman, assistant attorney general of South Dakota, urged removal of rate differences which he said discriminated against South Dakota. He declared the Hoch-Smith resolution required removal by the commission of "existing prejudice and preference to the extent it is found to be undue between grain growers of adjoining states." Referring to states in Iowa, Minnesota, and North Dakota, he said South Dakota suffered disadvantage in comparison and urged that rates should be based on "lowest possible lawful level."

Sees Justification.

Referring to previous cases before the commission, he declared this was the first opportunity the commission has had to consider South Dakota rates in relation to those of other western states. All evidence, he declared, justifies removal of present rate differences between South Dakota farmers and their more favored competitors in other states.

The cause of South Dakota also was argued by D. L. Kelly, rate expert of the South Dakota board of railroad commissioners who urged lower rates from all parts of the state to markets at Duluth, Minneapolis, Chicago, Sioux City, and Omaha.

S. B. Houck, special assistant attorney general of North Dakota and J. A. Little, Lincoln, Neb., attorney, who represented states of North Dakota, Minnesota, and Montana, declared that operating expenses of railroads in those states were lower than in other states and that grain growers were entitled to lower rates.

Other Contentions.

They also contended the proximity of their states to the great lakes brought about lower rates and they opposed removal by the commission of this geographical advantage by imposing higher rates. They say competition between railroads and boats on the great lakes in carrying grain to eastern markets resulted in lower rates on account of competition.

John F. Shaughnessy, chairman of the Nevada public service commission appealed for lower rates in his state on the ground that not only farmers but railroads would benefit. He said this would enable farmers to have greater incomes with which to purchase other commodities upon which the railroads would receive revenue from freight.

Rock Island Seeks Permit to Acquire Oklahoma Ry.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad today applied to the interstate commerce commission for permission to acquire control of the Beaver, Meade and Englewood railroad in Oklahoma, by purchase of stock. The consideration was given as $1,301,966.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—Strength in railroad, copper and certain public utility stocks was counterbalanced by weakness in farm implement, mail order and airplane shares in today's market and the result was more or less of a standoff. Probably the gains had a shade the better of it in the finals.

Trading proceeded in a stagnant, typically pre-holiday fashion, the day's total falling short of the 3,000,000 share mark. It was too hot to get excited anyhow.

Reasons for Activity.

How much of the activity was the logical outgrowth of news developments and how much merely further technical readjustments against eventualities over the recess would be difficult to determine. The selling of the stocks of corporations a large part of whose business is with the farmers might reasonably be ascribed to the break in the grain market, and the favor extended to the rails could be regarded as a reflection of the steady increase in earnings, but a good deal of it, no doubt, was merely professional maneuvering for temporary advantage.

Money was not a factor in the situation one way or another. The call rate held at 6 per cent, and, despite the approach of the month end and holiday requirements of cash, funds were in such abundance as to be a drug on the market.

No Worry About Rediscount.

No one seemed to be worrying in the least over the possibility of a rise in the rediscount rate, a show of confidence justified by the failure of the bank board to make any change in the rate at their meeting after the close of business. Moreover, everybody seemed to be certain that brokers' loans for the week would show a heavy reduction when the statement comes through and this had its effect in stimulating buying sentiment in some directions. On the other hand, there was the usual quota of disquieting rumors of an abnormal month end stringency in prospect to work against constructive efforts and boom selling, which broke out from time to time in scattered sections.

Good values may be had in today's bond market—the general level of prices is now at its lowest point since November, 1926; equities back of the bonds have been materially strengthened in numerous cases by the recent extensive stock financing. The present attractiveness of good bonds is emphasized by contrast with the market position of many junior issues. For example, taking the first 25 common stocks quoted on the New York Stock Exchange, of companies having both first mortgage bonds and common stocks outstanding, the interesting fact is disclosed that, despite the junior position of the stocks, their yield as of March 21, was actually almost 1½% less than that of the first mortgage bonds of the same companies.—(From Halsey, Stuart & Co. advertisement April 11, 1929.)

A good time to buy bonds

Real Estate

In the present bond market, which offers the investor greater values than have been available at any time within a considerable period, high grade real estate obligations, we believe, are peculiarly deserving of consideration.

Bonds and notes have in recent years played an increasingly important part in real estate financing—a natural consequence of their wider acceptance among investors. This is graphically shown in the chart below. In the past several years more large and costly buildings have been erected in our leading cities; there has been more consolidating of properties under single mortgages; and more grouping of small real estate mortgages as collateral for large loans. This has made possible more real estate bond issues of substantial size—issues large enough to permit of wide distribution. And distribution, of course, is one of the essential conditions of marketability... Another factor has been the sponsorship of such issues by national investment houses of great distributing capacity.

As a result of these developments, real estate bonds are now available to meet a wider range of investment requirements—and more exacting requirements—than at any time in the past. The investment merit of the best real estate issues has received signal recognition in the McFadden Banking Act, among the provisions of which high grade marketable real estate bonds are now acceptable for the investment of national banks.

Lamb prices dropped to new low levels for the year and below any corresponding time in four years, as the first of the new crop of Idaho lambs arrived yesterday. They sold at $16.25, lowest for the initial shipment since 1925, comparing with $19.00 a year ago, with $17.00 in 1927 and with $18.85 in 1926. Washington and Oregon are reported moving larger numbers than a year ago for near future markets.

Losses of 15@25c were general yesterday, best aged wool lambs stopping at $14.50, and shorn stock at $12.75. California spring lambs reached $15.75 and a few natives sold upwards to $16.00. Despite the downward trend of the market, there was a better demand for feeder lambs yesterday.

Broader Demand.

With demand for cattle the broadest in over two months, further gains of 15@25c were noted in better grades again yesterday, despite the substantial increase in local supplies recently. Shipments from Chicago during the first three days of this week stand largest since middle of March and with the pre-holiday demand on local account being unusually brisk, available supplies of good grades dwindled quickly.

Prime 1,340 lb. steers reached $15.10, the highest for the weight since the last week in January. Prime 1,462 lb. averages brought $15.00. Few yearlings were good enough to pass $14.50. Bulk of sales were 25@35c above the middle of last week. Butcher stock showed little change, although "grassy" cows and heifers were slow to sell. Calves sold steady. Stockers and feeders were unchanged.

The hog market scored a mild "comeback" yesterday, the top and general average prices moving up 5c at $10.95 and $10.60, respectively, in face of the unusually narrow outlet for pork. Fresh loins selling wholesale at 17½@24c equaled the lowest since March 4, being 1@3c below early last week and 5@6c under the high point in March.

Medium and weighty hogs showed most strength and finished firm, while others closed weak when larger houses refused to follow the advance. The three large packers handled 7,900 hogs, including 3,000 bought here at $10.25@10.70. The five small packers obtained 6,200 at $10.50@10.90 mostly. Shippers bought 3,000 and city butchers 2,500, leaving 7,000 at the close.

ON FOREIGN BOURSES.

LONDON, May 29.—(AP)—Bar silver, 24½d per ounce. Money, 5½ per cent discount rates. Short bills, 5½ per cent. Three months, 5¾ per cent.

PARIS, May 29.—(AP)—Price changes were mixed on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 74f 30c; 5 per cent loan, 100f 35c. Exchange on London, 124f 64c. The dollar was quoted at 25f 57¾c.

COTTON LOSES EARLY BULGE

Cotton prices advanced early yesterday on buying induced by reports of heavy rains over a large part of the belt and in anticipation of a bullish statement by the government weekly weather crop bulletin. The government's report was in conformity with traders' ideas, but they had discounted its influence in advance. The bulge brought in a profit taking and general evening up for the holiday, which created weakness and a price recession to about the lowest of the day where the market closed.

Wade Bros. & Co.'s estimate of cotton acreage is 43,305,000 acres, against 46,946,000 last year, an increase of 2.6 per cent. Closing trades on cotton futures in Chicago were at losses of 1 to 23 points, with other markets off 12 to 23 points. Spots lost 25 points, New York being 18.70c, 25 points lower; sales, 140 bales. New Orleans, 18.60c, having gained materially on New York, sales were 851 bales. Houston and Galveston 18.50c, with sales 68 and 197 bales, respectively. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Under increased offerings, which were probably promoted by fears of a further delay in the passage of the tariff bill, raw sugar prices declined 1-16c today, or to the lowest level recorded since early in 1922. Offerings consisted principally of duty free sugars and sales of about 26,000 bags of Cuban from store and for prompt shipment at 3.55c, 100,000 bags of Philippines, and 14,000 bags of Porto Rican in nearby positions sold at 3.55c.

The decline in the spot market and uncertainty over developments in Washington relative to the tariff situation was responsible for renewed selling pressure in raw futures, with prices declining to new low records for the season for some of the active positions and closing at 1 to 3 points net decline.

INTERESTING

The Co-operative Apartment Does Have the Advantage over the individual home. Take the 11 room apt., with 5 baths, at 999 Lake Shore-dr., as an example. The price of this apt. is $62,483, of which $29,983 is a 15 year 1st mortgage, with no prepayments, leaving a cash investment of $32,500 for the equity. The monthly interest is $138.54; the monthly maintenance cost is $147.16, including taxes, coal, repairs, etc., together with the salaries of eleven men to serve you night and day. The purchaser of this apt. also becomes the owner of 780 sq. ft. of the most valuable corner on Lake Shore-dr., with a total of 18,175 sq. ft., and a 256 ft. lake frontage.
Place your own valuation on this ground and compare these values and maintenance costs with a house in any location which you would consider desirable. May we show you this apt.?

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

When President Hoover was Secretary of Commerce he conceived the idea that it would be possible for some institution to make second mortgage loans on the more modest type of home at a very much lower rate than was then being charged on such financing.

Mr. Hoover took the matter up with Mr. Rosenwald, knowing that Mr. Rosenwald, too, is always interested in the welfare of our citizens and particularly the home owner. Mr. Rosenwald, having been one of the moving factors which were responsible for the organization of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank, turned to Mr. Walling, President of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank, and suggested that if the funds were made available would not The Chicago Morris Plan Bank be the logical institution through which to work out the problem suggested by Mr. Hoover and relieve the burden of excessive costs on the modest home owner of Chicago at least.

There is no institution in this city which has a more sympathetic understanding of the intimate family problems than The Chicago Morris Plan Bank. There is no institution in this city which takes greater delight in tackling any job, no matter how hard, if it is going to help Chicago families to get ahead.

Consequently it gave Mr. Walling, President of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank, great delight in undertaking to prove President Hoover's contention that second mortgage rates were too high.

So that is the way we happened to be interested in second mortgages.

For Mr. Rosenwald placed at the disposal of a group of men who are directors of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank a fund of $1,000,000 to be used in this enterprise. The original rates which we charged were from 40% to 60% lower than the rates charged by others in Chicago, but we found that the rates could be even lower, and they have been reduced three times, so that today 6% securing interest and a commission of:

$90.00 per $1,000 for 3 years.

It is obvious that any thoughtful, thrifty home owner in this community who desires second mortgage financing will find our plan well conceived and scientifically constructed. He will also find that our rates are unquestionably the lowest rates in Chicago.

We will be delighted to have you place your problem before us.

DECORATION DAY SPECIALS

Revolutionary values that are the greatest in Chicago. And every one is backed by the Studebaker Used Car Pledge that guarantees 5 days' free driving trial.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN—Late Big 6 that originally sold for close to $3,000. Equipped with snubbers, driving light, trunk, spare tires, bumpers, etc. The upholstery appears unused. Tires have little mileage. The motor is in topnotch condition. $585.

AUBURN SEDAN—Late model 6. Four-wheel brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tires, etc. This car was taken in on consignment and when it is sold the owner will take out a new Studebaker President. We're anxious to sell it immediately so we've put the low price of $595 on it.

STUTZ SEDAN—In order to sell this late model Stutz at once we priced it at the very low figure of $1,245. Five tires and at this price it is a remarkable value. Equipped with nonshatterproof glass, 4-wheel brakes, snubbers, 3 spare tires, bumpers, etc. Finished in handsome gray. The motor is in A-1 condition.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN—Dictator 5 pass. sedan. Has beautiful finish, hundreds of dollars' worth of extra equipment, including, 4-whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Has snappy performance and the appearance is unusually attractive. Special for $685.

DODGE SEDAN—It's a late model: finished a beautiful blue; the mileage is very low as this car was in storage for almost a year. Equipped with snubbers, bumpers, spare tire and other extras; the motor is excellent. $475.

CADILLAC COACH—Now it's in new car condition. 4-whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, shutter front, etc. The finish is rich and shiny and the expensive upholstery appears unused. Tires have little mileage. Motor has been carefully checked over and what it's in top-motor condition. $1,085.

LOCOMOBILE SEDAN—This Jr. 8 was owned by a service manager of an out-of-town dealer. He was given a biz position by us and of course he bought a new Studebaker. He kept this Locomobile in such wonderful shape that it certainly is a remarkable buy at our price of $625. Just repainted. Has 4-whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $585.

HUPMOBILE SEDAN—Because of business reasons the former owner traded in he wished a bigger car and that's the only reason he traded in this sedan. If you examine it carefully you will be forced to admit that it's topnotch in every respect. Has very full equipment. Only $650.
